Agreement Reached On Columbia Deal

GIANT EARTH SLIDE left houses and barns at St. Joachim de Tourelle, Quebec, teetering on edge of a crater estimated to be 150 feet deep. Four men died in the slide which took out section of road. (CP Wirephoto.)

Blizzard Belts Sask.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Motorists were stranded, schools closed and transportation snarled as a vicious Arctic blizzard screamed through Saskatchewan during the night. One death was attributed to the storm.

About 100 persons in 35 cars were bogged down by snow drifts after attending a Christmas party at a dine and dance centre about a mile outside Saskatoon's city limits.

They walked back to the dance hall—most of them had driven less than a mile before getting stuck—where they spent the night drinking coffee and talking. Snowplows reached the cars today.

Cecil Atter, 61, an oilfield worker, died of a heart attack while trying to free his light truck from a drift at Halbrite in Southeastern Saskatchewan.

TRAINS LATE

Trains ran up to six hours late and at least one bus, bound from Winnipeg to Vancouver, was stopped by drifting snow. Passengers stayed at a hotel.

About 5,200 elementary school students in Moose Jaw were asked to stay home for the day. Residential mail delivery in the city was cancelled.

At least 49 Moose Jaw district school buses could not make their runs.

The storm, with winds up to 70 miles an hour, reduced visibility to zero. Zero temperatures accompanied the storm.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Schools at Vanscoy, Delisle, Donavon, Swanson and Lura in the Saskatoon west unit were closed today. Children were sent home early Wednesday because of the storm.

Aberdeen and Clavet schools in the Saskatoon east unit were also closed.

RCMP said they knew of no one stranded in the area north of Rosetown but that several cars had been abandoned.

One constable said he hadn't much time to check on abandoned vehicles in his area.

"I'm still trying to shovel my way out of the office."

No Details Given Out

International negotiators reached agreement in Ottawa Wednesday on the Columbia River power project.

The deal they made is being submitted to the three governments involved for formal approval.

An agreement will probably be signed officially in Ottawa next week.

A great deal of caution and restraint was shown by the people involved in Wednesday's agreement, and nobody would give details, but the climax to almost 20 years' study and dickering appeared imminent.

BENNETT CONFIRMED

Premier Bennett confirmed in Victoria today that the technical negotiators reached an agreement and their recommendations are being passed to the B.C., Canadian and U.S. governments.

Basically, this means an agreement has been reached on financing the huge project—at least by the technical teams.

And although Premier Bennett insisted "we'll have to study it" he was fully informed of the details in advance and presumably gave B.C.'s negotiators authority to agree.

B.C. TEAM

The chief B.C. negotiators were Resources Minister Ray Williston and Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

They are due to return to Victoria tonight.

They and External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, the federal government's chief negotiator, held a four-way telephone conversation with Mr. Bennett Wednesday before the final session with the Americans.

Mr. Bennett said the same teams will meet again in Ottawa next week.

ATTACH TO TREATY

Once the agreement is finalized, it will be attached to the Columbia River treaty, which will be passed to Canada's Parliament for ratification.

Signed Jan. 17, 1961, the treaty has already been ratified by U.S. Congress.

The agreement will chiefly concern the sale to the U.S. of downstream benefits from three Columbia River dams in B.C., Mica Creek, Arrow Lake and Duncan Lake.

BENNETT MUTE

B.C. wanted at least enough cash from the sale to pay for construction of the dams—a little over $400,000,000.

Mr. Bennett refused to say today if he has got all he wanted, but he seemed extremely happy at news of the agreement.

Once the Columbia Treaty is ratified, construction can start.

Work could begin next spring.

This will partly depend on how swiftly Parliament acts.

The New Democratic Party has already served notice it intends to fight the treaty to the bitter end. However, all

REVOLT SPREADING

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — The tin miners' revolt spread to Cochabamba province today where two more technicians were reported to have been kidnapped. Miners at Catavi, in Potosi province, already hold at least 19 hostages.

Miners ignored a 48-hour government ultimatum to surrender their captives which expired Wednesday night, and authorities said the matter was now a military and no longer a civilian problem.

Voting Light

Victoria today appeared headed for a 25-per-cent voting turnout as morning polling fell behind the rate set during last year's balloting.

Mayor R. B. Wilson repeated his appeal for citizens to come out and vote and expressed the hope they would give the $375,000 police station bylaw its needed 60 per cent approval.

By noon, only 1,249 ballots had been cast, compared with the 1,648 marked at the same time in last year's civic election.

When polls closed in 1962, a total of 6,324 Victorians had cast their ballots for a relatively poor 30.92 per cent turnout.

An even lower turnout was indicated today unless the traditional evening rush proved to be exceptionally heavy.

OPEN UNTIL 8

Polls were to remain open until 8 o'clock at the Victoria Ballroom, Government and Cormorant.

Cold weather was believed to have slowed the flow of voters in the morning—and certainly made it a chilly job for some 50 elderly poll clerks in the unheated building.

But after several citizens protested the cold in the polling station, city officials rented an industrial space heater and set it up in the building to provide some warmth.

Balloting will decide the fate of seven candidates for four aldermanic seats and four candidates for two school trustee seats along with the police station money bylaw.

The candidates are: for aldermen—incumbents Millard Mooney, Geoffrey Edgelow, Lily Wilson and J. L. W. McLean and challengers Robert Baird, Victor Williams and Mrs. Evelyn MacKenzie; for trustee—John Porteous, Ralph Fryer, Leslie Spencer and Edward Wood.

Five Quebec Homes Swallowed by Mud

ST. JOACHIM DE TOURELLE, Que. (CP) — A second earth movement today sent two houses tumbling into a sea of mud where a truck and four men and three other houses were swallowed up Wednesday night.

Quebec Provincial Police, working throughout the night to help this stricken and alarmed Gaspe Peninsula community, ordered 10 more houses evacuated.

The first earth convulsion, at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday swept four other houses 1,000 feet along Tourelle Creek into the St. Lawrence River.

Although nine houses in all were wrenched from an 80-foot hillside, the only loss of life was believed to be four men who were buried with their truck.

They were four Therrien brothers—Johnny, 32; Raymond, 28; Benoit, 22, and Onesime, 20. Their bodies were recovered today.

A 50 - foot highway bridge spanning Tourelle Creek, also collapsed under the first massive slide of earth and was buried under tons of earth.

The houses ordered evacuated today were on another section of the hill above the creek, now a muddy mass moving into the St. Lawrence.

The slide of earth Wednesday night created a huge pit.

Heard 'Sinister Noises'

But some were unaware in time of what was happening. Mrs. Pierre St. Laurent and her three children were picked from their wrecked and floating house by fishermen on the St. Lawrence. So was Mrs. Romuald St. Laurent.

A Red Cross official said about 35 persons were made homeless by the slides. They lost all their possessions.

With the first indications of the earth movement, residents fled their homes, saying they heard "sinister noises" and explosive sounds.

There were early theories that an underground lake had caused the slide or upheaval. Several buildings were swallowed up last spring—at the time of the usual spring thaws—and surveys later indicated there was an underground lake.

The earth now, however, is hard and frozen at the top. Temperatures in the area during the last few days have been near zero.

The huge pit left by the slide was estimated to be 150 feet deep in places and 1,000 yards

FBI on Trail Of Abductors?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The FBI dispatched a dozen men to the San Fernando Valley north of Hollywood during the night, arousing speculation that agents might be on the trail of suspects in the Frank Sinatra, Jr., kidnapping case.

The FBI acknowledged it had men in the area but wouldn't say what they were doing.

A resident of the neighborhood, Mrs. James Dyatt, said her daughter, Mary Margaret, 19, was stopped outside their home by two men identifying themselves as FBI agents. Mrs. Dyatt said the men asked her daughter where she had been the night before and Mary Margaret told them she had attended an Order of the Eastern Star meeting with her mother.

A Los Angeles Times reporter said he recognized FBI agents in a car parked on Sherman Way, in the same neighborhood, about 1 a.m.

RETURNS TO FAMILY

Wednesday, after Sinatra Jr. was returned to his family for $240,000 ransom, Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker complained his department was left completely in the dark on developments in the case.

Parker said the FBI's "para-

HALIFAX (UPI) — First, hunters started getting shot by other nimrods who mistook them for deer.

Now, skin divers are getting into the firing line. The department of fisheries today warned skin divers to wear brightly colored headgear to avoid getting shot in mistake for harbor seals.

Loran Baker, the department's area director, said there had been several cases of skin divers narrowly escaping being shot as seals when they broke water.

Overcoats to Underwear, All Still Needed

Last year the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada shipped more than a quarter-million pounds of relief clothing, blankets and layettes to Korea, Hong Kong, Greece and other needy areas.

But it was not enough.

This year Victoria volunteers promised Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova they would collect 20,000 pounds of warm clothing for the men, women and children of Korea.

To date 13,000 pounds have been packed and shipped.

PRACTICAL, CLEAN

Most urgently needed are overcoats, warm underwear, suits, trousers, skirts, dresses, hoods and raincoats of any kind.

Garments and blankets should be practical, clean and have at least six months' wear left. Wool and cotton provide most warmth.

Layettes and baby clothes are also needed. A basic layette consists of one blanket, four diapers, two nightgowns, two shirts, two jackets, one towel, one cake of laundry soap and four large safety pins.

NEEDN'T BE NEW

They do not need to be made up from articles which your child has outgrown but not outworn or made up from other material around the house. To ensure maximum use sizes for one-year-olds or larger are preferred.

This is the time to check through old trunks in the basement, in the back of closets and in bottom drawers to make sure you have no old army uniforms and old-fashioned cardigans just sitting there as bait for moths.

Recently a group of volunteers on Salt Spring Island gathered up old woolens that had seen better days and had them made into 15 grey blankets to be shipped to Korea.

A large quantity of the clothing is distributed among the hospitals, orphanages and boarding schools, the rest is given out in large bundles from Canada House by Korean social workers.

MUCH PRIDE

Dr. Hitschmanova described Koreans as having a great deal of pride and self-esteem. Often, she said, they come to the clothing centre in borrowed clothes to appear decent.

The hardest thing of all was to face women still standing in line when the supply was gone.

You can replenish the supply by delivering your used clothing to Dowell's Cartage and Storage, 117 Wharf Street.

Other contributions should be sent to the "Korean Kiddies' Fund," care of the Times, 2631 Douglas, or left at the Bank of Montreal, main branch, Yates and Douglas.

Official receipts will be sent later from USC headquarters and acknowledgement of gifts will be published daily in the Times.

DUNOON, Scotland — This town on the Holy Loch, where the U.S. Polaris submarines are based, has become officially Scotland's black spot for illegitimate births.

The latest report from the registrar-general of Scotland, just published, shows that the illegitimacy figure last year in Dunoon rose from 6.3 per cent to 15.3 per cent. These figures are based on a much higher birth rate than formerly, and the news has staggered this already shocked town.

A local official, who asked not to be identified by name, blamed American sailors for the increase, saying:

"It would be quite accurate to say that the majority of these illegitimate babies had American fathers."

Monday night the town council and senior British navy liaison officers had the first of a series of meetings which will in future include the senior U.S. Navy officers on "questions of mutual interest."

A few months ago a woman town councillor unsuccessfully made two attempts to have all unmarried American sailors from the Holy Loch base banned from Dunoon. At that time she said: "There has been a definite deterioration in the morals of the young people since the Americans arrived."

OSLO, Norway—A young Finn started out Tuesday on an attempt to establish a round-the-world record as a passenger on scheduled airliners. He was back in Oslo Wednesday. He didn't get past West Germany. His first plane connection at Frankfurt was three hours late. "I'll make a try next week," said Hyrkkoe Vaeaenaen.

SHEDIAC, N.B.—The curfew horn in this town which blows at 9 p.m. to warn children under the age of 14 that they are to be off the streets, is to be silenced because it awakens sleeping children.

Town council voted Monday night to stop blowing the horn because of complaints from some parents that their children are being roused. However, Mayor Joseph Landry said the curfew bylaw would not be revoked.

With him aboard the liner Stratheden went all 42 of his employees, ranging from Jim Bailey, 78, to office girl Erica Copeland, 16. The boss picks up the bill.

"This," said Allwright, "is their Christmas bonus—my way of saying thanks for 13 years of profit making.

"We've never had a strike. We work as one big family. They've been wonderful."

Allwright, 49, said the trip will cost him £2,000 ($6,000), none of it deductible. It lasts nine days with calls at Gibraltar, Casablanca and Lisbon.

LONDON—A British researcher said Wednesday married life among the peers is a perilous proposition: One in four noble weddings ends in divorce.

But, declared Dr. Tom Hollingsworth, it is a pretty safe bet that with a peer or peeress for a father or mother one would be legitimate: In the peerage only one recorded birth in 100 is out of wedlock.

Among the common people of Britain it's 1 in 16.

Dr. Hollingsworth, 31, a former London University teacher, produced these statistics in a scrutiny of 28,000 titled folk for a book he is writing.

He and 14 assistants also learned that male peers, who died at average age 47 in 1603, now hang on to an average 73.

U.S. Cuts Down Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary McNamara announced today that, in an economy action, he had ordered 26 military bases in the United States and seven U.S. bases overseas to be closed or substantially reduced.

McNamara told a press conference: "I have every reason to believe that studies now under way will lead to further reductions in the coming months."

The defence secretary said that when the 33 bases are closed or reduced over a period of up to 3½ years he expects annual savings of $106,000,000.

The move will eliminate 8,500 civilian jobs and result in a reduction of about 7,800 military personnel, McNamar asaid.

Every civilian employee whose job is eliminated will be offered another job opportunity, McNamara promised.

To achieve the 8,500 reduction while offering new jobs to the dispossessed, McNamara said there will be a freeze on hiring at certain other installations, as well as normal attrition.

The 26 domestic bases to be closed or reduced are located in 14 states and the seven overseas bases are in three foreign countries.

Included are 14 army installations, 12 air force and seven navy.

In circumference. Of the three houses that were swept into it Wednesday, only part of one could be seen. There was no sign of the truck.

Constable Martin Gauthier of the provincial police was among the first to make his way to the stricken community, which is about 275 miles northeast of Quebec City.

The constable said a tremendous earth movement started at about 5:30 p.m. in the Tourelle Creek valley 500 to 1,000 feet above a main highway running along the Gaspe coast.

The movement swallowed or floated away three hillside houses and took a chunk of road with it. The resulting sea of mud that rolled down the creek bed knocked out the 50-foot bridge and lifted four houses into the St. Lawrence River.

Truck Disappeared Into Mud

Constable Gauthier said a giant fissure opened in the earth on a side road to swallow up a car and the truck. He said a rope was lowered almost 150 feet to rescue a couple from the car but the truck disappeared.

A Red Cross worker said "there was a gap in the highway" which none could cross.

"People were standing on both sides, scared and afraid. There were no lights, no telephones, no nothing. It was terrible, very very cold and windy.

"I spoke with the police and they put spotlights on two houses floating in the St. Lawrence River. Later, two more were carried down the creek into the river.

"They think all the people got out.

"I don't know how many were afflicted by this disaster. All they heard at first was a noise. Then their homes began moving."

Gilbert Sasseville, a Quebec government land surveyor, reported from Ste. Anne des Monts after returning from the St. Joachim area that there was likely a lake under the area, and the landslide into the underground water caused the sea of mud which swept the houses into the St. Lawrence.

Pit Opened In Secondary Road

He said there had been landslides in the area before—one last spring destroyed two houses, without casualties. It all started, Sasseville reported, when clay from an 80-foot hill began moving and slammed down into the creek bed and sank "at least 60 feet" into the "lake."

Constable Gauthier said a government team would arrive from Quebec City today to survey the damage and to see if the Gaspe Highway can be reopened.

"I think it will be impossible to repair the highway," he said, "because the damage is so great."

The constable said three houses fell into a pit which opened up on a secondary road. It was 150 deep and the hole was about half a square mile in size.

Gauthier said three houses had fallen into the pit and, like the truck, were covered by thick grey mud. He said the top of one of the houses could be seen from the edge of the pit.

He said the Tourelle Creek became a sea of mud after the movement and carried four more houses into the St. Lawrence River.

Fishermen on three boats rescued at least six persons from the houses.

KENYA FREE,

68-Year Rule By Britain Ends

(CP from Reuters-AP)

NAIROBI, Kenya — Prince Philip officially sealed Kenya's independence today in the name of the Queen after 68 years of British colonial rule.

In a ceremony in newly-built Uhuru (Freedom) Stadium, Prince Philip handed over the constitutional instruments to Kenya's Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta.

This completed the formalities for the East African nation which became independent at one minute past midnight when Britain's Union Jack was lowered and the country's new flag was raised in its place.

The new black, green, red and white flag flew proudly over 250,000 persons in the stadium who watched three hours of tribal dancing and military drill.

The wives of white settlers wept and their husbands swallowed hard as they considered their future as a minority of 50,000 in a nation of 8,500,000 Africans.

Forty-eight hours earlier, the spice island of Zanzibar, just to the south, received its independence in a similar ceremony ending 73 years of British protection. Both countries will remain in the British Commonwealth.

'Burning Spear' Offers to Forget

Kenyatta, the legendary "burning spear" of the Mau Mau terror a decade ago, is no longer the firebrand who headed the African nationalist movement and spent eight years in British detention. Now 73, Kenyatta has called on his nation to forvive and forget the bitterness of the past as it wrestles with its problems.

Among them are frontier warfare, tribal rivairies and economic difficulties.

One of Kenyatta's immediate problems is a border dispute with Somalia. The two countries are at odds over control of an arid strip on Kenya's northeastern frontier inhabited by Somali nomads. Kenya's African troops, under British officers, have fought skirmishes with paramilitary "bandits" from Somalia.

Greatest Challenge Is Economic

Another difficulty is deep-seated hostility and rivalry among Kenya's 48 African tribes. The country has a long history of tribal warfare. Kenyatta belongs to the Kikuyu tribe, which spawned the Mau Mau terror.

But perhaps the greatest challenge before Kenyatta is economic. For many of the last 68 years, Britain has poured money into Kenya's agricultural economy. Last year this aid totalled £5,000,000 ($15,000,000) and Britain has promised financial help for "a long time" after independence.

By moderate statements he has sought to reassure Kenya's jittery white residents and prevent a mass exodus. Loans and bank deposits rose this year and again there is a market for land, but white settlers are continuing to trickle abroad.

At today's ceremony, Kenyatta said "this is Kenya's greatest day and the happiest in my life." He called on every Kenyan to join him in "this great adventure of nation-building."

At the same ceremony Malcolm Macdonald—former colonial governor—was sworn in as governor-general. Macdonald in turn administered the oath to Kenyatta and his cabinet.

World Watches With Understanding

In his own speech, Prince Philip said: "the eyes of the world are on Kenya today with sympathy and understanding. I hope this will soon change into a look of admiration and gratitude.

"You can prove to the world —together as one nation—that it is possible for peace of different race and creed to live together in peace and harmony."

Speaking in Swahili, Kenyatta said: "Today, the tragedies and misunderstandings of the past are behind us. Today we start the great adventure of building the Kenya nation.

"With Britain, a country which has watched over our destinies for so long, we now enter a new relationship . . . as two sovereign nations within the Commonwealth, that unique association of free and independent states to whose counsel we look forward to making our contribution."

Kenyatta added "we shall count as our friends, and welcome as fellow citizens, every man, woman and child in Kenya regardless of race, tribe, color and creed who is ready to help us in this great task of advancing the social well being of all our people."

Report Due On Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry Minister Drury said Wednesday he hopes to have an expert appraisal of British-American Oil Company's new heavy water claim by late Monday.

Mr. Drury told the Commons he is willing to delay discussion of his department's estimate so that the whole question of heavy water production in Canada can be debated after he receives the experts' report.

B-A claimed Tuesday it had found a new and cheaper way to manufacture heavy water. Last week the government announced approval of discussions between Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, a Crown company, and Deuterium of Canada Limited, a Canadian branch of an American firm, to manufacture heavy water at Glace Bay, N.S.

Mr. Drury said Tuesday that if the B-A claim proves workable, the government would have to reconsider its earlier decision.

Peace Could Get Heavy Water Plant

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ray Perrault, B.C. Liberal party leader, said Wednesday a $30,000,000 heavy water plant, proposed for Nova Scotia, could end up in B.C.'s Peace River district.

Mr. Perrault said he had spoken by telephone with B.C. representatives in Ottawa.

"The heavy water situation is far from being resolved in favor of Nova Scotia," he said.

"A new, more economical process is being claimed by one of Canada's major oil companies. Because it is based on the use of natural gas as a heat source, the Peace River area could be the location if the process proves commercially feasible.

"At present, a decision on location is being withheld while the new process is being evaluated by the engineers and scientists of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd."

If the process meets the standards claimed, Mr. Perrault said, there was "an excellent chance" the $30,000,000 heavy-water plant would be built in B.C. The well-head price for natural gas in B.C.'s Peace River country is lower than in most places of Alberta.

WOMAN COMES TO LIFE REPOSING IN COFFIN

LONDON (AP) — A body that came to life—though already in a coffin—set off an urgent inquiry Wednesday night at a North London Hospital. The patient, a woman, was last reported still alive but unconscious.

Undertaker Hugh Hellwood said he was called to Willesden General Hospital to pick up the body of Miss Elsie Waring, 50. Hellwood said hospital physicians declared she was dead.

He placed the body in a temporary coffin and took it to the public funeral home.

There he and his assistant opened the lid and measured the body for a permanent coffin. Miss Waring gave a moan, Hellwood gave a start, and later exclaimed: "I was astounded. It stopped us in our tracks."

Miss Waring's younger sister, Mrs. Josephine Thompson, said "a doctor told me she had passed away. I saw her dead—I even touched her cold face. The news that she was alive was a tremendous shock."

The hospital said three physicians tried to revive Miss Waring for an hour when she first was brought in, but unanimously agreed she was dead.

'End Coexistence'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China told Soviet leaders today it is "high time" they abandon Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence. Peking said all the Soviet Union has got from the United States is "humiliation, again humiliation, always humiliation."

The Chinese demand that the Russians swing over to the Chinese hard line was contained in an article iln the official Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag.

When Sir Robert's gin recipe came from England, this old "cooking pot" came too
The best cooks are usually faithful to their oldest pots and pans.
Same thing with us. In distilling Sterling Gin, we'd feel lost without our old English copper Pot Stills.
The one in the picture is at least 100 years old. It came to Canada in the 1920's—when we imported Burnett's entire distillery to make gin from Sir Robert Burnett's famous old English formula.
Most modern stills are much larger—as much as 10 times larger. And we know that switching to such mass-producing monsters would save us money, time and trouble.
But our gin wouldn't taste the same.
The way things are, we make it slowly—just a little at a time. Hovering over it. Sniffing. Tasting. Making sure every "run" is as smooth and dry as the last.
If we ever retire these miniature stills, it will only be because we can no longer afford to make our Sterling Gin in small, unhurried batches.
Meanwhile, try it—won't you?

U.K. Seeks 'Dialogue' With Soviet

DOUGLAS-HOME
. . . emulates JFK

LONDON (AP)—A high level British move for friendlier relations with Russia was disclosed by government authorities today.

It had the look of a bid by Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's cabinet for a dialogue with Soviet leaders matching that which went on between Nikita Khrushchev and the late John F. Kennedy.

Informants said the exchanges between London and Moscow had been going on at two levels:

1. Khrushchev and Douglas-Home are in direct touch with each other. The Soviet leader Nov. 20 sent a message to Douglas-Home through Ambassador Alexander Soldatov on the subject of relaxing East-West tension generally and on the possibility of including Berlin territory in any East-West non-aggression arrangement.

2. Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler last week sent a message to Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko—again through Soldatov, who now is in Moscow—suggesting an early meeting. Gromyko has not yet replied.

DETAILS UNKNOWN

Precise details of Khrushchev's oral message to Douglas-Home, and on his ideas for easing tensions, were not released by the informants. One source said, however, that on the question of non-aggression arrangements Khrushchev broadly repeated certain suggestions he had made previously but privately to Kennedy. These have not yet been published.

The informants gave this account of Butler's proposal for a meeting with Gromyko:

"Mr. Butler all along has indicated he would welcome a suitable chance of meeting Mr. Gromyko whom he has yet to get to know.

"The foreign secretary is in the process of making his acquaintance with all his European colleagues and he will be meeting Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Paris next week at the NATO council of foreign ministers.

"It is only natural, in the context of East-West relations, that he should wish to get on terms fairly soon with Mr. Gromyko."

NAVY HURT MOST BY DEFENCE CUTBACK

WINNIPEG (CP) — Defence budget cuts have hit the navy proportionately harder than the other two services, president Liston McIlhagga of the Naval Officers' Association of Canada, said Wednesday.

He said in an interview the navy generally gets about 20 per cent of the money allotted to the combined services, but got 25 per cent of the reductions.

The cutback, announced by Defence Minister Hellyer last week, appears to be "out of proportion."

CONCERN WARRANTED

Mr. McIlhagga, head of a group made up of 2,500 retired naval officers, said the imbalance was big enough to warrant concern on the part of the navy.

From a long range viewpoint, he said, the association is most concerned about the damage done to youth training programs by the cutback.

However, he said the association could not draw concrete conclusions on the reductions until it has seen the defence review and the white paper on defence due in January.

He added that lessening of East-West tensions indicates a full-scale nuclear war is less likely than a conventional police conflict.

The navy would have an important role to play in such a conflict, but its effectiveness would be reduced if nothing is done to replace frigates and other ships in line for phasing out.

In a prepared statement issued earlier, the association said it appreciates the "necessity of cutting operating costs in the services, in order to release funds for new weapons and capital expansion in the interests of maintaining the most modern type of armed forces in Canada."

But it continued: "We view with considerable alarm, however, the closing down of naval reserve divisions, particularly in areas where there is no other naval representation."

Labelling Law Would Hit Canada

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—Despite Canadian government protests, a special congressional conference has approved a measure that would force all Canadian lumber shipped to the United States to be marked with the country of origin.

The measure, approved by conferees at a closed-door meeting Wednesday, forms part of a bill ordering all imports to be labelled with the country of origin, each time they are repackaged, no matter how painstaking a jo bthis may be. This legislation also has drawn protests from Canada.

Over-all legislation, including the lumber amendment, now goes before the House of Representatives and Senate for final passage. This, in the present case, would be no more than a technicality for the conferees, representing key members of the House ways and means committee and Senate finance committee, rarely are challenged on the floor.

This is the first major price of protectionism emerging from the present session without severe battering. If finally approved by Congress, it likely will present President Johnson with an embarrassing problem. Former President Eisenhower had vetoed similar legislation in 1960. But if Johnson exercises veto power this time, he may earn the animosity of many congressmen who support the appeal of the U.S. lumber industry seeking ways of restraining big lumber imports from Canada

Hopes of Canadians Raised

However, administration representatives under the late President Kennedy had made clear before the two key committees that the administration could not support such country-of-origin measures. This raised hopes of Canadian authorities that Johnson, following Kennedy's policies, would exercise his veto. If not, then Canada would seek compensation from the U.S., on the basis that the U.S. agreed in 1952 to exempt Canadian lumber from country-of-origin markings.

Anticipating that government-to-government renegotiations would be necessary, congressional conferees fixed the effective date of lumber markings at March 31, 1964. The Senate finance committee previously had proposed the effective date be last June 30.

Last March, the Canadian government sent the U.S. state department an aide-memoire, emphasizing that any imposition of markings on Canadian lumber would be considered a breach of the 1952 pledge forming part of a Canada-U.S. pact under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

This aide-memoire, forwarded to Congress, also maintained that forcing country-of-origin markings on all Canadian shipments, including agricultural products, would be inconsistent with U.S. obligations under GATT and would present shippers and distributors with an added handling burden that could seriously endanger Canadian exports.

Protectionists Make Demands

Canadian protests, accompanied by protests from other countries affected by the over-all legislation, were countered by a strong body of protectionists within Congress. Most powerful is that supporting U.S. lumber producers who maintain their mills are being shut and their workers made jobless by Canadian competition.

A demand that the U.S. impose higher tariffs against Canada was turned down by the U.S. tariff commission which also rejected the proposed made-in-Canada labelling. The commission sugested that such labelling wouldn't help U.S. producers and might even enhance the U.S. market for high-quality Canadian lumber.

However, producers want the labelling for another reason. They have mounted a buy-American campaign, endorsed to some extent by the late president. Federal agencies were instructed to give preference to domstic lumber production in their purchases for federal construction.

In many instances, these agencies couldn't tell the difference between Canadian and U.S. lumber without country-of-origin markings. American producers want to extend this buy-American plan to include all federally-finance housing. Enforcing labelling would be another step towards restraining imports from Canada.

Non-Aligned Talk Urged by Nehru

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today urged a conferenee of non-aligned nations because of the changed world situation resulting from President Kennedy's death.

Nehru confirmed to questioners in parliament that he had written certain non-aligned leaders suggesting such a meeting.

Nehru said the gist of these letters was "that the tragic assassination naturally had a big effect on international politics and it was desirable for non-aligned nations to get together and express themselves in furtherance of objectives which President Kennedy had pursued and to strengthen those objectives."

He did not identify the leaders he addressed but his deputy, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, said talks were under way with the United Arab Republic and Ceylon on such a meeting.

Nehru added neither Communist China nor Pakistan would "apparently qualify for any non-aligned conference."

He said China's Premier Chou En-Lai and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan were seeking support for a new conference of African and Asian nations instead.

"Possibly they do not approve of holding a non-aligned conference because in any normal view they do not come into it," he said.

Christmas Evergreens Sprout On Asphalt Throughout City

One of the most familiar symbols of Christmas, the evergreen, has been making its appearance on the Victoria scene during the past few days.

Truckloads of trees are now filling up parking space at gas stations, supermarkets and vacant lots.

Victoria, Oak Bay and Evening Optimist clubs have stocked their lots with trees from as far away as Parksville and Salt Spring Island.

The clubs plan to sell between three and four thousand trees to help them continue their youth work in the area.

A contrast to the big lots manned by Optimists is the small family lot which provides extra spending money for the holiday season.

An example of this is the cut-your-own operation run by Susan York, 16, and her brothers David, 15 and Fred, 12.

The trees are located near Millstream Road, 2½ miles beyond Western Speedway in what is known as the Highland district.

"There is no set price—just whatever people want to give us," says Susan.

A similar operation is that of Mrs. Mary Jane Plumb, 790 Hockley, a widow who brought trees down from her Shawnigan Lake property.

Heads Optometrists

Dr. Robert J. Scholefield of Sidney was elected president of Victoria Optometric Association at its recent annual meeting.

He succeeds Dr. George Darimont who is also president of the provincial association.

Other officers elected were Dr. William E. Beck, vice-president of the provincial association.

Other officers elected were Dr. William E. Beck, vice-president; Dr. David R. Pepper, treasurer, and Dr. Brian M. Moore, secretary.

It was announced at the meeting B.C. and Washington state associations will hold a joint convention in Victoria in April.

MURDER TRIAL

Girl Bathed In Blood, Father Says

ALERT BAY (CP)—Rosalind Wadhams, 10, was naked and bathed in blood when she stumbled into her home after being stabbed, her foster father, Charles Hinton, testified at a preliminary hearing here Wednesday.

Robert Bertram Morley, 41, an Alert Bay hospital orderly, is charged with capital murder in the girl's death.

RCMP Cpl. James Vincent said he found Rosalind's blood-soaked raincoat next door to her home. He said he found Morley nearby, apparently unconscious from alcohol.

In earlier testimony, F. G. Clark, an Alert Bay fisherman, said he and Morley had been drinking wine for about three hours earlier in the home of a Joe Whelen.

He testified Rosalind came into the house and she and Morley left together. Clark said Morley had a knife in his hand earlier in the day.

Hinton said he was alone in the house when the girl stumbled through the front door and collapsed.

"She was only wearing her ankle socks," he said. "She looked like she had been bathed in blood."

The girl died from the wounds Nov. 13, seven days after the stabbing.

STE. THERESE DE BLAINVILLE, Que. (CP) — A large piece of metal, possibly the chunk of a wing, was recovered Wednesday at the site of the airliner crash that killed 118 persons Nov. 30.

Officials said the scrap of metal, 30 inches long, eight inches wide and nine inches thick, is the largest piece of the shattered Trans-Canada Air Lines DC-8F jetliner recovered to date.

The piece was recovered below the 20-foot level of the huge crater that was created when the Montreal-to-Toronto flight crashed and exploded.

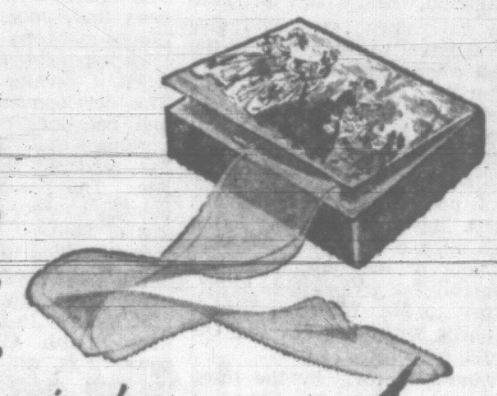

The number of victims identified either positively or by documents stands at 100. But because of the mutilated bodies of the victims, only 45 identifications have been certified.

The Columbia Flows

INTERNATIONAL NEGOTIAtions on the Columbia River power scheme have at last reached agreement on a joint report —an apparent success that contrasts strangely with the caution with which the negotiators have announced the result of their talks.

There are, of course, serious hurdles still to be surmounted. Washington, Ottawa and Mr. Bennett's government must still give their approval to the details of the project whereby power to be developed in the United States from the Canadian-controlled flow of the Columbia will pay for development of the vast power program on the Canadian section of the river.

It is not yet known whether Mr. Bennett has obtained his often quoted price of five mills per kilowatt hour or its equivalent. But presumably the arrangement is satisfactory to Mr. Williston, British Columbia's spokesman at the Ottawa talks.

Granted approval by the three governments — and the Canadian parliamentary debate could produce some fireworks and delays — development of the Columbia may still be some years away. Mr. Bennett, already heavily involved in the huge Peace River project, has still not clarified his plans to obtain financing for the Peace or to dispose of its large power output.

If similar huge blocks of power were soon to become available from the Columbia the provincial government might well suffer from an embarrassment of riches — riches which nobody would buy at the demanded price.

With agreement to sell the Columbia's downstream power to the United States, and no doubt other power from this province as well, a 40-year-old policy of the federal government will be broken. The objection to power exports had been that, once tied in to United States markets, it had proved almost impossible to regain the power when it became needed at home. The development of power grids and networks covering vast geographical units, it is now claimed, has rendered this objection obsolete. The power flows from one point to another as required regardless of political borders, with revenues credited to its sources.

How the great British Columbia power potential will fit into this concept has yet to be seen. And just how British Columbians, whose power it is, will benefit is equally unknown. So far, promised savings through expropriation of private power have only partially filtered through to the consumers, while the eventual unit cost of Peace River power is still a matter of disagreement among the experts.

Against this background the Columbia project has now been moved a step forward, but many of its question marks go with it.

Made In Canada

THE DECISION OF THE STUDEbaker Corporation to halt production of cars in the United States and to enlarge its production facilities at Hamilton, Ontario, is exciting news for Canada.

The excitement is tempered, of course, by some doubts as to how successful the company will be in selling cars in the domestic market and for export against the tough competition of the remaining "Big Four" manufacturers. Nevertheless, it will be the first time since 1918, when McLaughlin Motors was taken over by General Motors, that there has been full-scale "made-only-in-Canada" production of an automobile.

Mr. Gordon Grundy, president of Studebaker of Canada Ltd., who will be in charge of the Canadian operation, says the company plans to boost the capacity of the Hamilton plant from 30,000 to 90,000 cars per year. He added that the Canadian operation can turn out a product at competitive prices with Detroit; the break-even point is lower in this country and the devalued Canadian dollar as well as lower labor costs are expected to be important factors in making the plant profitable.

In contrast to the American Studebaker car plant in recent years, the Canadian plant has been a consistent money-maker and the recent Canadian tariff arrangement on auto parts, some of which will still be imported from the United States, may help to keep it so.

Studebaker of Canada's most difficult problem is likely to be marketing its cars in the United States. It will face the problem of all imported vehicles of finding aggressive dealers who can sell the product in the face of the massive competition offered by the big American manufacturers.

However, the prospect of finding a market for an output of around 90,000 cars a year manufactured almost wholly from Canadian materials and by Canadian labor—with a promise that Canadian design and engineering will also be used—could be a big boost for secondary manufacturing in this country and it is to be hoped that all possible encouragement will be given by both the federal and Ontario governments.

At the same time that the deal holds out considerable promise for Canada, it is recognized that it is a sad blow for the 6,000 Studebaker employees in South Bend, Indiana, where a tradition of craftsmanship has been passed down from great-grandfather to grandfather to father to son for 111 years.

For South Bend it is the end of a story which began in 1862 when the brothers Studebaker drew up a simple agreement which read: "I, Pete Studebaker, agree to sell all the wagons my brother Clem can make."

Actually the Studebaker boys had been in business for 11 years before they signed the agreement and their wagons helped to open up the American West. In 1902 they put out an electric car and in 1904 came out with their first "gas buggy."

For decades afterwards Studebaker was a proud name on the roads of America, and Canadians can be proud they are carrying on the tradition.

Come On, Council

DISCOVERY THAT THE COST of renovating the city hall will be 7 per cent higher than originally estimated many months ago should have no bearing whatever on the city council's task of carrying the project through to completion. Such a variance is normal in such reconstruction work; estimates cannot be expected to hold indefinitely in a period of rising costs.

The relatively small amount of money involved should be available from the sale of city-owned property. If not, it should be raised in some other manner. But the plan should not, at this late stage, be nibbled at or spoiled by penny-pinching.

The city hall and centennial square project is one of the finest ever undertaken by the city. Let's get it under way and completed without further dithering.

Poor Show

THE PUBLIC HAS BEEN GIVEN details of fines assessed against Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks hockey players as the result of Saturday night's imbroglio at Toronto. Statements have also been made by club officials, Stafford Smythe of the Leafs blaming the Hawks, particularly Reg Fleming; Billy Reay of Chicago claiming Toronto, principally Ernie Shack, was at fault.

To a mature person this sounds like a children's "Did so," "Did not" argument.

Hockey players, in the heat of competition, sometimes let their tempers flare up. When whole teams become involved in a brawl, it's time to step back and seek a rational perspective.

If the players are considered professionals doing a job in the entertainment business, then they should be measured against any other entertainers who lose control of themselves and start swinging fists. If, on the other hand, the two hockey teams are regarded as practitioners of sport, let their members give a little thought to sportsmanship.

Either way, the performance Saturday night was not a very elevating show.

FROM WASHINGTON — By WALTER LIPPMANN

Executive Paralysis

THIS session of Congress has a spectacular record of refusing to consider the major proposals of the Chief Executive. On some of these proposals there may be a majority opposed in one house or in the other. Some measures, had the Congress been allowed to vote, would have commanded a majority in both houses. The critical fact is that by a manipulation of the delaying devices which are embedded in the committee system, the legislative branch of the government has been prevented from debating and voting on most of the legislation proposed by the President.

Lippmann

We have here in its American form the critical disease of democratic government—namely the paralysis of the Executive by the elected assembly. Democratic government based on the popular election of representative assemblies is a difficult form of government, and the great majority of mankind has never enjoyed it.

Many countries have tried it and have failed to make it work. Except in Canada, it has never been tried on a continental scale, and there is no certainty that we shall long be able to make it work.

Threat of Breakdown

The U.S. system did not work when slavery was at issue, and there are serious reasons for asking ourselves whether the system as it exists today will be able to cope with the world as it is in the middle of the 20th century.

Will it be able to cope with the grave issues which beset a nation composed of great urbanized industralized masses and destined to live in a revolutionary world? A government in which the Chief Executive cannot induce the legislature to consider his proposals is dangerously weak.

If we look at the advanced countries —those which have attained a certain level of education and wealth—we must recognize, I believe, that democracy has been unworkable where the Executive was paralyzed. In what we call the free world of Western Europe, one can count on the fingers of one hand the countries where representative democracy, as it was conceived in the 19th century, is still working reasonably well.

Aside from Portugal and Spain, Greece and Turkey, what do we see on the continent? In France, General de Gaulle, and elsewhere, the muffling of representative democracy by coalitions of the mass parties.

Austria and Belgium are ruled by coalitions which exclude or compromise the issues between the Christian Democrats and the Social Democrats, the two parties to which the great mass of the people belongs.

Italy is now experimeting with such a coalition, and there is reason to think that West Germany will have to come to it, also. Only in Britain, the Scandinavian countries and Switzerland is representative democracy working well.

Whether the solution is authoritarian, as under Salazar, Franco and de Gaulle, or is a coalition which suspends party conflict, the common element is the liberation of the Executive from the paralyzing grip of the representative assembly.

Central Problem

This problem, which is the central theme of West European politics, is also our central problem. I do not know what will happen if we cannot remedy the paralysis of the Executive. But I do know that there is no greater necessity for men who live in communities than that they be governed, self-governed if possible, well-governed if they are fortunate, but in any event governed.

If the diagnosis is correct, if the trouble from which we suffer is that the legislature paralyzes the Executive, then the remedy is, I submit, clear. It is also simple.

Let each house of the Congress pass a rule that any measure proposed by the President and certified as important must be put to a vote by some specified date or within some specified time.

The rules and practices of the House of Commons make impossible the fantastic spectacle of a tax proposal by the President in the summer of 1962 which will not be ready to be voted on at the beginning of 1964. When I was in London recently, I asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer what he would do if he had to operate under such conditions. I can only report that he was speechless.

There are a number of other things that ought to be changed in Congress, notably the excessive respect for seniority. But a rule which gives indisputable priority to a request of the President is, I believe, the essential reform to make the congressional system workable.

LETTER

'We Came Close'

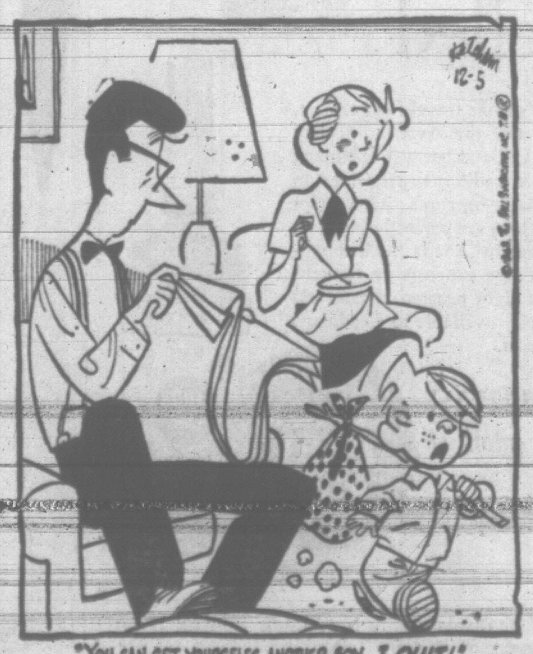

May I, through the columns of your newspaper, take this opportunity of thanking all the two hundred voters who, once again, so loyally supported me in the elections in Sidney Village. Unfortunately, there were in my favor four spoiled ballots, but anyway we came close.

It is regrettable that the Chairman of the council felt it necessary to refer to those who opposed him as "irresponsible persons." With the vote so close someone was obviously feeling "stampeded."

My sincere thanks once again to every single one of you.

DENNIS THE MENACE

FROM PARIS — By WILLIAM MILLINSHIP

Collision in NATO?

THE first de Gaulle-Johnson brush may come indirectly, before they meet, over nuclear strategy during the NATO Ministerial meeting in Paris on Sunday. The French and Americans are already discreetly at loggerheads over this central problem within the NATO committees working on the long-term defence planning exercise, ordered when the NATO ministers last met at Ottawa in May.

This involves a major preview of NATO strategy, requirements and available forces, on which to base military planning up to 1970. France refused to leave this operation in the hands of the NATO Secretary-General, Mr. Strikker, and in the summer it was transferred to a Defence Planning Working Group, in which all NATO countries are represented, and which is co-operating with the military standing group in Washington.

Serious Obstacle

The planning exercise has now run into a serious obstacle. The French maintain that there must be agreement on strategy before military requirements can be usefully discussed. The problem is that French and American strategic concepts are very different.

The French believe that the response to a deliberate act of aggression in Europe must be a nuclear attack on Soviet cities. This is the official purpose of the French strike force. The French argue that they are only defending the Dulles policy of "massive retaliation" which, they say, was incorporated in three secret NATO documents approved in 1956. It is the U.S. government, they continue, with its "escalation" and "anti-force" concepts, which is changing the accepted strategy, not France.

Because of this clash behind the scenes, Western diplomats attached particular importance to a statement made at the NATO parliamentarians' conference here last month by a Gaullist deputy, General Billotte. He said that while a "graduated nuclear response" was reasonable in many parts of the world, it was dangerous in Europe, since it left the potential attacker in doubt about the West's determination to use its full nuclear power. He added: "An acceptable strategic concept, accepted by all, must be rapidly defined. The effectiveness and solidity of our alliance depend on this."

Neither side may want to bring their differences over strategy to a head so soon after the shock of President Kennedy's assassination. But it is not an isolated difficulty. Behind it lies the permanent Gaullist dissatisfaction with the NATO structure and U.S. leadership. In the French view, Europe must be capable of defending itself, if ever the U.S. nuclear umbrella were withdrawn or proved ineffective.

So far Europe has refused to follow the Gaullist lead. Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of Germany made it clear here a few days ago that while he "respected" the French strike force, he relied on the U.S. deterrent to defend West Germany. But lack of support and of positive results have never deterred President de Gaulle from following his independent course.

He seems to believe that this stubborness at least serves as an example, not only in Europe but in the under-developed areas of the world. His message to countries like Vietnam, Cambodia and South American States is that, even if they feel obliged, like France, to form alliances, they need not submit to foreign overlordship.

The death of President Kennedy has not changed the basic aim of Gaullist foreign policy—to establish France as a major power with a mind of its own—that is, independent of the United States. Unless President Johnson makes unexpected changes in U.S. policy, he seemed likely to find himself as much at odds with President de Gaulle as did his predecessor. The French president could prove even more difficult now that he has become what his followers call "the last remaining captain of the Western world."

Paris Meeting

This is already perceptible in hints dropped here that neither the time nor place of a Johnson-de Gaulle meeting has been decided. It is strongly suggested that, in the circumstances, it would be preferable for them to meet in Paris. President de Gaulle had agreed to meet Mr. Kennedy in February, probably at Camp David, because he owed him a return visit. But this personal obligation no longer exists, it is felt here, the implication being that President de Gaulle is not over-anxious to join the queue outside the office of the new man at the White House.

In the meantime, the French seem satisfied that they have extracted a promise from Chancellor Erhard to settle outstanding agricultural policy regulations and financial arrangements within the Common Market by the end of the year. They also assume, despite repeated U.S. assurances to the contrary, that the Kennedy round of tariff-cutting negotiations between Europe and the United States will not start in earnest till after the U.S. presidential elections. In that case the most convenient field in which to reassert French independence of the United States would once more be NATO.

Conflict in the New Kenya

WHEN the Union Jack was lowered in Kenya last night and replaced by the black, green and red flag of the new independent state, Britain parted with her last major colonial territory.

Apart from the tiny enclave of Gambia on the West Coast, Kenya's independence will effectively remove Britain's controlling power from Africa north of the Equator. But the main significance of Kenya's emergence as the 34th independent state in Africa (Zanzibar preceded Kenya) is that this will be the first African country to achieve independence with a really mixed population. Apart from the eight million or so Africans belonging to 40 different tribes, there are more than 150,000 Indians and Pakistanis (many of them born in Kenya), together with 55,000 Europeans and 40,000 Arabs, the oldest of the so-called "immigrant races."

Immigrant Influence

The influence of these immigrant races has been out of all proportion to their numbers, and the present African Government recognizes the contributions made by Europeans to farming progress and by Asians in pioneering businesses and smaller industries. Government assurances that they will be welcome after independence encouraged many to stay who would otherwise have left.

They will certainly be needed in the early days of independence for, despite the program of "Africanisation," it will be some time before there are enough local people qualified to undertake the skilled and technical jobs required by the expanding economy.

Despite the government assurances, however, speeches and threats by minor politicians and trade union leaders of the "let's-get-our-own-back" variety have disturbed many Asians and Europeans. These speeches have produced an atmosphere of uncertainty and this has been heightened by the fact that, despite Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta's call of "harambee" ("pull together") there is still a deep division among the Africans themselves.

This gulf between the governing Kenya African National Union (KANU) and the opposition Kenya African Democratic Union (KADU) has narrowed a little since the leaders returned from the constitutional talks in London. The KADU leader, Mr. Ronald Ngala, has been trying to play a more constructive role in opposition than was the case before the London talks began.

Local Issue

The crux of the difference between the two parties still hinges on the extent of local control to be accorded to the regions which now exist in Kenya. The regions were established earlier this year to allay opposition fears that the all-powerful KANU would attempt, after independence, to ride roughshod over the feelings of the smaller minority tribes.

KADU's influence has waned considerably since the colonial secretary decided in London last October that regionalism would have to have its wings clipped. Regional authorities now, enjoy strictly limited powers, many of them only by [illegible] central government in Nairobi.

Earlier suggestions that Kenya would have, in effect, seven regional governments with adequate powers to defy the central government on major issues if they chose to do so, have now been dispelled, and this realization has had a chastening effect upon the opposition. Taking a lesson from neighboring countries, where the two-party system no longer exists, Mr. Ngala has decided to justify his role in order to survive, and, at least for the moment, is no longer trying to harass KANU at every turn. The government, too, is now satisfied it has all the powers it needs for a firm and stable administration.

The most serious problem facing Kenya is the unrest in the north-east, where the 100,000 Somalis in this desert area are agitating for secession in order to join up with neighboring Somalia. The recent talks between Mr. Kenyatta and Abdullah Issa, the Somali foreign minister, have at least ensured re-establishment of diplomatic relations, broken off last March.

Britain was unable to reach any tidy solution to this long-standing problem before handing over to the new government, and Kenya seemed to be faced with the prospect of mounting unrest from a dissident minority who have already resorted to violence and terrorism in order to achieve their aim of breaking away from Kenya.

The Somali government in Mogadishu has hitherto been giving every encouragement, short of actual material and arms, to the Somalis within Kenya, and the threat of an actual clash between the two countries became heightened by Somalia's acceptance of Soviet aid to build up an army of 20,000 men.

Aid From Russia

This will amount to military help worth some £11,000,000 from Russia, with other aid coming from the Chinese. Overtures from the West were rejected because the United States insisted that no aid be accepted from the Eastern bloc. It remains to be seen whether the aggressive broadcasts from Radio Mogadishu cease after the Kenyatta-Issa talks, also the attacks on Kenya's border posts.

With independence, Britain's protective arm is being removed from Kenya. At Kenya's own insistence, the 5,000 troops of Britain's strategic reserve stationed here are to be withdrawn over the next 12 months, and their place taken by the yet-unborn Kenya Army. This will be formed out of the 3,000 men of the Kenya battalions of the King's African Rifles whom Britain has agreed to assist in training.

The Kenya government has not, however, insisted on Britain's withdrawing the Royal Air Force from Kenya and nothing has yet been decided about overflying rights for British military aircraft. In view of the possible Somali threat, Kenya may be glad to see RAF planes remaining in the country for some time.

YOUR HEALTH

Abdominal Pains

Few lay people realize how often an abdominal pain is a sign of mental trouble—perhaps a depression, or great anxiety over something, such as the distressing behavior of an alcoholic husband or a delinquent boy.

Alvarez

When a medical friend asks me how it happens that I, who for many years, was a stomach and bowel specialist, wound up interested mainly in mild pychoses and neuroses, my answer is that so large a percentage of the people whom I saw complaining of indigestion, abdominal pain or abdominal bloating or discomfort, had nothing demonstrably wrong in their abdomen: their trouble was all up in their brain. Sometimes the cause was a mental depression, and the day this was cleared up the pain went.

I am reminded of all this as I read in a recent number of the JAMA an excellent article by Dr. Henry M. Fox of Boston, a Harvard psychiatrist. He tells how, at last, in the great Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston the internists and the psychiatrists have learned to work together. As a result many of the patients with an abdominal pain, who were a complete puzzle to the stomach specialists, were quickly shown by a psychiatrist to have some mild psychosis, or severe neurosis, or some anxiety or unhappiness. Often, when the psychiatrist talked this over with the patient, or just got him or her to confess it, the symptom almost disappeared.

To show what happens: Dr. Fox tells of an internist who had a woman patient who kept complaining of an abdominal pain for which no cause could be found. Fortunately one of the young house officers suggested that she be seen by a psychiatrist. Within 15 minutes the mental expert found that the women came from an alcoholic family and was mildly alcoholic herself.

She had divorced one alcoholic husband and then married a second one; and now she was distressed because her two daughters had recently left home. She was in such a deep depression she had suicidal ideas. As so commonly happens when a patient is dealing with a stomach specialist, this woman, while in the gastroenterologic division, had made no mention of her mental troubles.

Another patient, a 72-year-old woman, had been coming into the out-patient department for over a year, complaining of headaches and "shakiness' in her legs. Careful examinations had failed to show any local cause.

* * *

When the psychiatrist was called, he quickly noticed that she was so scatterbrained that it was almost impossible to get any real information out of her. Finally, he learned that she was much upset because her children had moved away; she had retired from her job; and, as a result, she was overwhelmed with a sense of uselessness and isolation and loneliness. Again, the mere fact of confession and of talking this out with the psychiatrist almost cured her.

Another woman had had several complaints that suggested serious disease and had had numerous operations, which evidently hadn't cured her. When interviewed by a psychiatrist, she was found to be paranoid; she was suspicious of her doctors and maintained that they were not telling her the truth—which she said was that she had a cancer. The psychiatrist found that the woman's internist, not knowing how first to recognize and then to handle a somewhat psychotic woman, had lost his temper with her and had thereby lost any chance he might have had of helping her. The psychiatrist won her friendship and confidence and then was able to calm her fears.

BUT SLOW ON NUCLEAR FORCE

ROME (AP)—Italian Premier Aldo Moro pledged that his new centre - left government today will remain loyal to the North Atlantic Alliance and will launch a program of economic austerity.

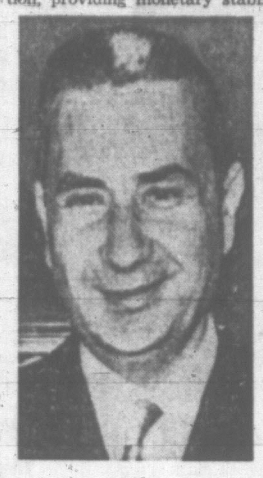

Moro, whose week-old cabinet brought Pietro Nenni's Marxist Socialists into the government for the first time since 1947, went before Parliament to seek a vote of confidence. The vote will come next week, with endorsement of the cabinet expected.

Moro said Italian foreign policy will remain "based on loyalty toward the Atlantic Alliance with the military and political obligations deriving from it, and on European solidarity."

He told the Chamber of Deputies his government is pledged to work for a more stable international situation, "with measures — even partial — for balanced and controlled disarmament and for agreements to prevent surprise attacks."

But he again expressed a policy - line demanded by the Socialists. He said his government would make no commitment on the proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force until the issue has been resolved by study.

Moro stressed Italy's worsening economic situation. He said there would be no more nationalization of industry. He promised a planned austerity program aimed at halting inflation, providing monetary stability and improving the country's unfavorable trade balance.

MORO
. . . vote next week

"The government is starting its work in a particularly difficult moment of Italian political life," he said.

As Moro spoke major cities were in the grip of a gas workers strike. A transport workers strike was postponed Wednesday but not called off. A wave of additional labor agitation loomed.

The giant Communist party has promised to fight Moro's coalition of Christian Democrats Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans.

Moro promised efforts to work out uneven spots in the economy. He pledged state controls to prevent speculation and called for a program of low-cost housing.

He also said the number of government ministries and public offices would be cut down to reduce public spending. And he told the chamber there would be reforms to end the various public administration scandals that have plagued Italy since the end of the war.

Any hope NATO may have had of putting a Polaris submarine base in Italy is not likely to be fulfilled while Moro's Catholic-Marxist coalition is in power.

A key to the Italian attitude may be found in statements made by Pietro Nenni's Socialists to explain their switch to acceptance of NATO after 50 years of promoting neutralism.

The Socialists say they are convinced Italy can work within the Atlantic alliance for the relaxation of world tensions. But they feel Italy can refuse Polaris submarine bases.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

By DICK WEST

The Silent Speaker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Along about 11:45 a.m. on days when the House of Representatives is meeting at noon, the pace quickens.

West

Sometimes it only shifts from lethargy to languor, but it quickens nonetheless.

Reporters in the press gallery begin to vacate their typewriters and head for the doorway. They move at nearly the speed of light—a light tank.

A bystander unfamiliar with the folkways of the Capitol might wonder what had promoted the migration. And should he inquire of its nature, his wonderment would surely increase.

He would be told that the correspondents crowding around the elevator were on their way to "catch the Speaker."

"Catching the Speaker" is a daily ritual in the House. As a form of exercise, it compares favorably with catching moonbeams.

For the benefit of those not conversant with journalistic jargon, I should explain that reporters do not actually "catch" the Speaker in the sense of encompassing him with a lasso or standing under his window with a firemen's net.

The term means that they are going to the Speaker's regular morning news conference and try to catch him saying something newsworthy. Which rarely happens either.

Over the years, Speakers have been amazingly unspoken. The late Sam Rayburn (D—Texas) developed uncommunicativeness into a fine art. And John W. McCormack (D—Mass.), the present Speaker, has continued the tradition.

For a random sampling of McCormack's style I caught the Speaker one morning this week when he admitted newsmen to his sanctum across the corridor from the House chamber.

By my count, reporters got in four questions before the Speaker left to preside over the noon session. He replied to all of them with trenchant circumnavigation.

One newsman wanted to know whether, with the 1963 calendar now down to its last leaf, we could assume that the congressional adjournment rush was started.

"I'm so busy I haven't had a chance to level on that yet," the Speaker said.

The other three queries evoked similar responses.

I personally did not feel aglow with enlightenment, but a veteran Speaker-catcher He said there had been times when a told me the news conference had been more productive than some he had attended. Speaker responded to interrogation with "off the record, no comment."

Maritime Trustees Ask Shippers to Unite

MONTREAL (UPI) — The government - appointed trusteeship running Canada's battling inland shipping unions Wednesday asked the shipping companies to set up a committee to carry a "common approach" to management-labor negotiations.

The trustees' request was delivered by letter to more than 40 steamship, tugboat and dredge operators. The move was announced by trustee Rene Lippe, a Montreal judge.

"One of the contributing factors at the root of labor strife on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River has been a serious dislocation of managerial responsibility," Judge Lippe said.

Judge Lippe cited lack of effective government legislation as another factor in the often-violent jurisdictional war.

"There has not been the common approach necessary for employers to meet their responsibility to labor," he said. "We are not passing judgment on any particular company," he added, "and we feel the shippers will welcome the machinery through which to speak to us."

mount consideration," in permitting delivery of the ransom money, was the life of young Sinatra.

"I don't think our policy (on ransom payments) is the same" Parker said. "I don't want to discuss the philosophy of the payment of ransom, because we have not been faced with that situation here for a long time. It was discussed by members of my staff this morning, however, and they thought it was a bad policy."

Parker said he didn't want to interfere with the FBI. "I'm sure they had adequate reason for not bringing us in," he said. "I am just pointing out our position. I am concerned with the criticism we may ultimately receive in a case which we have been deprived of any opportunity to solve."

ABDUCTED SUNDAY

Sinatra Jr., 19, who has followed his father's footsteps by undertaking a singing career, was abducted by two armed men Sunday night from his motel room at a Lake Tahoe resort on the California-Nevada border. He had a singing engagement at a casino there.

Fifty-four hours later, after his father arranged to have $240,000 planted at a pickup point in West Los Angeles, Sinatra Jr. was released on a freeway about two miles from his mother's home in the Bel-Air section of Los Angeles.

The boy told reporters later Wednesday that he was kept blindfolded during his captivity but "wasn't harmed at all."

The youngster said he cannot discuss details of the abduction until the FBI finishes questioning him.

His mother, Nancy Sinatra, is divorced from Frank Sr.

The Sinatras held a party at Nancy's home Wednesday night to celebrate the 46th birthday of Frank Sr. and the return of his son. Guests included singer Dean Martin, composer Jimmie Van Heusen, music publisher Murray Wolff, lawyer Abe Lipsey, former restaurant operator Mike Romanoff and Las Vegas hotel operator Jack Entratter.

Last Fight Planned

Residents of the Shelbourne area are making a last-ditch appeal to Saanich councillors to oppose rezoning a section of Shelbourne Street for medium density apartments.

Saanich planning department initiated the move, in the belief that the expanding nearby campus of the university will soon create a demand for apartments in the area.

Medium-density apartments are two and three-storey buildings—not high-rises or garden apartments.

A dozen home-owners of the Shelbourne area met Wednesday evening to plan their opposition, and decided to appeal directly to the councillors.

REZONING LATE

"If council feels that apartments should go into this area, why didn't council rezone it five to seven years ago before the buildup of a $3,000,000 investment in new homes in the area?" said Bruce Walker, 1530 Earlston, spokesman for the home-owners.

Final passage of the bylaw is slated for Dec. 23.

If it passes, property values will depreciate, traffic problems will ensue, and schools in the area will be overcrowded, said Mr. Walker.

PROTEST REPORT

Caravelle Makers Score TCA Chief

PARIS (Reuters)—Gen. Andre Puget, president of Sud-Aviation, has challenged Gordon McGregor, head of Trans-Canada Air Lines, to "confirm or deny" derogatory remarks he was reported to have made to a Canadian parliamentary committee about the Caravelle jet airliner and its maker, Sud-Aviation.

A communique Wednesday night said the French company's attempts to obtain a full text of McGregor's remarks had so far been fruitless.

It said that since McGregor has not in any way denied the remarks attributed to him "there is reason to consider them to have been made."

DISTORTED

"However, the president of Sud - Aviation asks Mr. McGregor whether he confirms or denies the whole or some of his remarks, which could have been distorted," the communique said.

Pending McGregor's reply the company hotly defended the Caravelle for the benefit of French and international opinion and declared it to be still "in the vanguard of progress while benefiting from the unequalled experience of 800,000 flying hours carried out by 22 air transport companies."

'ENTIRELY FALSE'

On the question of the plane's safeness, Sud - Aviation said, McGregor is reported to have pronounced "a judgment which is entirely and absolutely false."

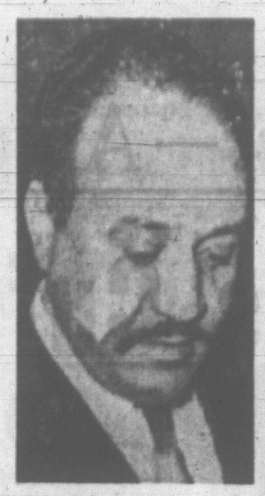

French papers reported McGregor as saying the twin-jet Caravelle was "obsolete" and with "a heavy record of serious accidents."

Others linked his reported preference for the yet-unbuilt American Douglas DC-9 twin-jet airliner with rivalries between English - speaking and French-speaking Canadians.

In Montreal, Mr. McGregor declined to comment on the Sud-Aviation statement.

House Postpones Seeking Documents

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons Wednesday postponed action for one week on 13 motions by Creditiste House Leader Gilles Gregoire for the publication of technical documents relating to TCA's decision to purchase the Douglas DC-9 jet aircraft.

INJURED by grenade at Aden, Ahmed El-Shami, foreign minister of deposed royalist regime in Yemen, arrived at London airport Wednesday. Grenade killed one woman, injured 39 others.

Cave-In Kills 2 Men

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Rescue workers early today recovered the bodies of two men about eight hours after they were buried in a sewer trench cave-in. The victims were identified as Patrick Black, 25, and Douglas Conkright, 34, both of Blleeville. Both men were married.

Asylum Granted

PARIS (AP) — Mme Ngo Dinh Nhu has been granted permission to live in France for an unlimited time, the foreign ministry said Thursday.

Euromart Still Teeters As French Rejoin Talks

By ROBERT MAUTHNER

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — The European Common Market today is in the throes of an internal crisis that threatens its existence.

The future of the European coal and steel pool at Euratom —the community's nuclear body —also is at stake in current talks by council ministers on the six-country community's Common Farm policy.

French Agriculture Minister Edgar Pisani, who touched off the crisis by walking out on talks Tuesday because of what he called a "lack of progress," returned to negotiations Wednesday night with new instructions from French President de Gaulle.

It was understood de Gaulle instructed Pisani not to hamper an agreement on a common farm policy between now and the end of the year—the market's deadline for a decision.

However, it was known de Gaulle would take a dim view of failure to reac' an agreement, interpreting it as proof some of the other countries—particularly West Germany—were not serious about creating a real European economic community.

Some progress was reported on minor points of rice regulations. But the main question of the maintenance of German rice imports from non-member countries, especially the United States and the Far East, remains unsolved.

IMPRESSION CHANGES

Observers believed the French have the impression the post-Adenauer Germans are in the process of "casting away the European mask" with the intention of conquering Atlantic markets. Ludwig Erhard recently succeeded Konrad Adenauer as West German chancellor.

The breakdown of negotiations was given wide coverage in the European and British press. Paris-Presse carried a banner headline which read "twenty days in which to save the Common Market."

In the British press, the Manchester Guardian asked if Britain could not support Erhard by offering an alternative if de Gaulle "broke up" the Common Market.

"It is when talk of breaking up the Common Market arises that the weakness of de Gaulle's position becomes clear," The Guardian said.

"France has gained at least as much as any other of the six from their economic union, and although de Gaulle is only mildly interested in economic questions, he would have a lot of explaining to do to his farmers if their hopes of gaining markets in the other five countries were utterly dashed."

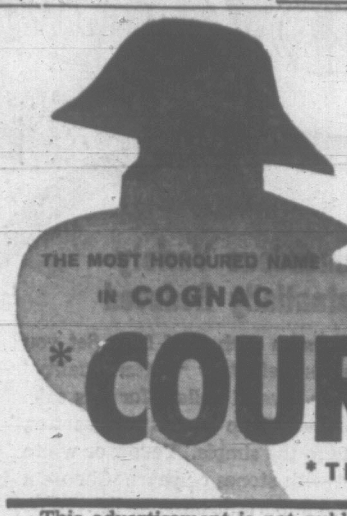

The Daily Telegraph commented: "No sensible European wants to see a breakdown in Brussels. But Germany's side of the argument is based largely on an interest very much akin to Britain's — that of maintaining imports of food from the outside world."

BLACK MARKET IN BEDS HERALDS POPE'S VISIT

LONDON (AP) — A thriving black market with hotel bedrooms costing $500 a night has sprung up in Jerusalem in advance of next month's pilgrimage by Pope Paul, a Church of England minister said today.

"This is something we deeply regret . . . it is deplorable," said the Rev. Arthur E. Payton who will head a party of 250 British pilgrims due to visit the Holy Land at the same time as the Pontiff.

The minister attributed his information to authoritative Lebanese sources.

Pearson 'Accepts' Deficit Financing

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Wednesday he accepts deficit financing as an instrument for achieving social purposes and putting people to work.

Mr. Pearson picked up a plea by organized labor for a program of planned deficit financing and said he accepts this concept "if it does what it is supposed to do."

He told the top leaders of organized labor, gathered in the Parliament buildings for the annual policy submission of the Canadian Labour Congress, that the government has already added to its budgetary deficit for social purposes.

The prime minister added that he hadn't consulted Finance Minister Gordon about his views on deficit financing. Mr. Gordon was among the 14 cabinet ministers who heard CLC President Claude Jodoin voice frank disagreement with the government's budgetary policies.

In his budget last June, Mr. Gordon said he planned to move toward a balanced budget.

In its submission, the 1,080,000-member CLC repeated its plan for continued budgetary deficits as a means of stimulating the economy, increasing purchasing power and achieving full employment.

Referring to this, Mr. Pearson said the Liberal government had lauched programs costing $250,000,000 to develop the economy and reduce unemployment.

CHEMISTRY STUDENT POISONED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cyanide poisoning is suspected in the death of Ormit Bal Singh Virk, 24, an overseas graduate student at the University of British Columbia whose body was found in his room Tuesday.

RCMP and the Vancouver coroner's office are investigating and an autopsy has been ordered.

Virk, described as a brilliant student, came to UBC last fall to work toward a doctorate in chemistry. He had a master of science degree from Punjab University.

6 Hours of Eulogies For JFK in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—One by one they rose in the U.S. Senate Wednesday in final salute to their fallen leader, John F. Kennedy—"a man of stunning brilliance, a giant among men . . . a man of tolerance and understanding."

These were some of the tributes for the assassinated 35th president of the United States on a day when all other business in the Senate ceased, a day set aside for eulogies.

With Senator Edward M. Kennedy (Dem., Mass.), the late president's brother, listening in rapt attention, the senators struggled to write their own epitaph for their former colleague who was struck down by an assassin's bullet in Dallas Nov. 22.

But they seemed to concur with Senator George D. Aiken (Rep., Vt.) that "history will hold his finest eulogy."

After all had spoken, Kennedy rose to express his and his family's "heartfelt thanks."

In a quiet, firm voice he spoke of the importance of helping President Johnson and said "if the country can be united, the sacrifice will not have been in vain."

The tributes lasted six hours. The widowed Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will be presented a bound volume of Wednesday's words.

They will represent both flown and unflown pigeons, the long-distance birds including some that have covered 500-600 miles at a race.

Kennedy-Style Tariff Big Target for Europe

By DOUG MARSHALL

LONDON (CP)—The Kennedy round of tariff negotiations, one of the late-president's most far-reaching legacies, looms largest on the European economic scene in 1964.

On May 4 signatories to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade will sit down to tackle a complex series of multilateral advances towards freer world trade.

The results could lead to a 50 per-cent cut in industrial tariffs across the board, a fixed-price system for other products and the beginnings of what free-traders like to call a "Common Market of the West."

The Kennedy spirit that prompted these advances is widely shared on this side of the Atlantic, especially in Britain. But there are complications on the Continent where Anglo - American plans for a closer partnership with Europe still raise some doubts.

CHICKEN WAR

The barnyard squabble that developed between the Common Market and the United States last summer over access of U.S. frozen chickens to West Germany nearly blocked the Kennedy round before it had a chance to start.

Both sides now admit they blundered and have accepted a Geneva - based panel's assessment that the U.S. lost trade worth $26,000,000 a year. The Americans now are expected to withdraw tariff concessions worth an equivalent sum.

The success of the GATT talks now depends largely on the brooding, enigmatic figure of France's Charles de Gaulle and the European Economic Community's difficult agricultural problems.

Back in January de Gaulle's curt "Non" to British hopes of entering the EEC overrode the feelings of many within the community. But it also symbolized the determination of an economically revived Europe to assert its political independence.

DE GAULLE THREATENS

By July the general's will was striking at the very core of the EEC when he hinted that France would withdraw unless a common agricultural policy was formulated by the end of the year. An emasculated Common Market would make the Kennedy round a near-fiasco.

The crux of the EEC's agricultural problem is the gap between Germany's backward, high-priced farming system and France's cheaper and more efficient program. Principles for equalizing grain prices have been settled but the meat, dairy and rice regulations are still in the embryo stage.

The French position is that, with industrial policies in operation, the Common Market should work out the agricultural issues before proceeding with world negotiations. Originally it was planned to equalize farm prices in easy stages by 1970.

Germany claims a speed-up in the program would seriously disrupt her internal economy.

SOLUTION LIKELY

By late December, when negotiators began to thrash out the farm issues in a familiar atmosphere of crisis, nobody could be certain whether de Gaulle's ultimatum was bluff or a real threat.

Observers who have watched the EEC negotiating "mill" in action believe some solution will be ground out. Most likely it will be a version of the plan advanced by the commission's agricultural director, Sicco Mansholt.

He suggests the community's grain prices should be equalized by next July and regulations for the rest of the products worked out within the context of the Kennedy round. This plan would benefit French agriculture by something like $120,000,000 a year.

Britain, meanwhile, is finding that membership in the European club is not the economic necessity that many Common Marketeers once claimed. Her economy has been buoyant all year.

BRITISH EXPORTS UP

A budget encouraging productivity with tax incentives has helped to maintain the nation's four-per-cent growth target. A search for wider trade markets has pushed exports up by seven per cent and kept the balance-of - payments situation under control.

Exports to the EEC countries alone have jumped by 13 per cent since 1962, proving that British products can be competitive in the tough Continental markets.

The government's principal problem is to keep the lid on inflation and prove that the boom is real and not just an effervescent election-year boomlet. Many impartial experts believe this problem will be overcome.

Some quarters have even suggested that Britain is economically strong enough to gamble for long-term benefits by slashing industrial tariffs unilaterally —whatever happens in the Kennedy round.

DRURY

U.S. Support Needed

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry Minister Drury said in the Commons Tuesday he hopes the United States will not make it difficult for Americans to buy Canadian-built Studebaker cars.

He was asked whether Studebaker of Canada exports to the United States after Studebaker production ends in South Bend, Ind., could overcome the resistance of U.S. tariffs.

He said he hopes "United States authorities would not interpose any difficulties for United States customers in the purchase of Studebakers from Canada."

SCHOOL GIVEN BOMB SCARE

New Financing Plan Approved For Curtis Firm

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Curtis Publishing Co. shareholders have approved a new $35,000,000 financing plan.

The vote was 3,300,850 for and 25,624 against.

Matthew J. Culligan, chairman and president, said the new plan, by providing financial stability for a company that lost nearly $19,000,000 last year, will enable Curtis "to advance its position as a major influence in the field of mass communications."

Culligan reported that Curtis, which publishes the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, Holiday, American Home and Jack and Jill, will show a profit for the last three months of this year of $1,300,000. This will reduce the loss for this year, he said, to $3,500,000.

NUCLEAR BASE TO BE BUILT AT VAL D'OR

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Hellyer Wednesday confirmed that a 10th nuclear base—at Val d'Or, Que.—will be built in Canada.

The minister said in a written return for Real Caouette, Creditiste leader and MP for Villeneuve in which Val d'Or lies, that a nuclear storage dump will be installed at the RCAF station there for Voodoo jet interceptors.

Mr. Hellyer said Val d'Or authorities were not consulted but that the mayor had given the government his assurance of complete co-operation by the city.

The other nine nuclear bases in Canada are: Chatham, N.B.; Bagotville, Que.; La Macaza, Que.; Ottawa; Comox, B.C.; Goose Bay, Labrador; Harmon Field, Nfld., and two at North Bay, Ont.

STUDEBAKER MOVE HAILED

Hamilton Accepts Challenge

HAMILTON (CP) — The decision by Studebaker Corporation to consolidate its worldwide automobile manufacturing operations here has been hailed as the most challenging development in Hamilton since the establishment of the steel industry here 101 years ago.

Mayor Victor Copps said the move is a great opportunity for the city to develop Studebaker into one of its major industries from an employment and payroll standpoint.

Studebaker announced Monday it will cease car production at its South Bend, Ind., plant and will build all its cars in Hamilton but on a much lesser scale.

Gordon Grundy, 51, president of Studebaker of Canada Ltd., said the Hamilton plant's annual production will be increased to 30,000 cars annually from an average of 11,000.

The labor force will be increased to more than 1,200 from 675 within three months. Most of the new employees to be hired will be Canadians. Not many South Bend workers will move here.

LOGICAL CHOICE

Mayor Copps said that Hamilton would have no trouble in supplying the manpower needed for an expansion of the Studebaker operation and that Hamilton's position as Canada's leading steel manufacturing city "made it a logical place for a major auto plant to locate."

The Studebaker switch is expected to bring about an extra $15,000,000 annually to Canadian parts and suppliers industries. Robert Orr, director of marketing for the new company, said 55 per cent of parts used in Studebaker cars assembled here are made in Canada and this percentage will be greatly increased.

Mr. Orr said the company will benefit from the premium on the U.S. dollar, Canada's lower labor costs and duty rebates on components manufactured in the U.S.

The eight-per-cent premium on the U.S. dollar will more than offset the 6½ per cent tariff on exports to the U.S., he said.

He said Studebaker will get back 99 per cent of the duty it will pay on U.S. parts used here when they return to the U.S. as parts of finished automobiles.

Local 525 of the United Auto Workers (CLC) said employees at the plant were pleased with the prospect of more employment but sorry to see the South Bend workers lose their jobs.

About 6,000 Studebaker workers at South Bend will lose their jobs as a result of the switch in operations.

City Hall Addition Causes Juggling

City council will hold a special meeting Friday to accept a civic precinct committee recommendation for shuffling $61,850 cut of one account into another to cover the City Hall reconstruction and addition tenders.

The committee, after an expression of opinion from a majority of council that attended, decided to enlarge the City Hall addition by 705 square feet, costing an estimated $15,000, and add a $5,000 contingency fund.

To this was added almost $42,000 to make up the difference between the original estimate and the $594,423 lowest tender for the work submitted by G. H. Wheaton Ltd.

The extra money will come by diverting tax sale land revenues from the proposed civic theatre project into the City Hall portion of the civic precinct budget.

The civic theatre budget will regain its loss by a larger allocation from the T. S. McPherson estate.

Mayor Wilson said it was fitting that more of Mr. McPherson's estate should be put into the theatre project as he had given the building to the city and it fitted in perfectly with his expressed desires.

Tycoon Dies

LONDON (Reuters)—Claude Albo De Bernales, once head of a questionable Australian gold mine "empire," died at his home here Monday, it was learned today.

In 1946, when compulsory winding-up orders were made for six of his companies, it was alleged in court: "They were born in fraud, carried on in fraud, and laid on their death beds in fraud."

PEERING THROUGH BARS—from outside in—are members of Junior Chamber of Commerce, who toured the city police station Wednesday at invitation of police chief J. G. Gregory. Most were shocked at conditions in jail. They saw plans for new station, which goes to voters in referendum today, and plans of progressive Edmonton station, inspiration for much of new city station ideas. ATMOSPHERE OF REVERENCE EVOKED

Choir of First United Presents Carol Program

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

No more genuine expression of the Christmas season can be found than is portrayed when a fine choir sings the traditional carols and the rich music of Christmas that has come from masters, old and new.

Such an occasion was provided Wednesday night, when the choir of First United Church, conducted by William Gregory, presented for the 16th year, "Carols in the Candlelight."

This choir gives forth a beautiful sound and has within its ranks, many soloists, several of whom were featured on the program.

The evening—though a touch less poetic than in the past before monster electric candles had replaced the real thing—was a satisfying one.

REVERENCE

An atmosphere of contemplation, of reverence and beauty was evoked.

Striking timbre of the male chorus was notable in the old Welsh carol, "Deck the Halls," and the Sicilian, "O Sanctissima." And the delightful "Carol of the Bells" was quite exquisitely sung, delicate in texture, with clean attack and firm, clear tone.

This firmness and security of vocal line together with trim, musical phrasing, were attributes of value in the opening group of early carols and 16th century music.

Of the modern carols, one of the most effectively sung was the lovely "Little Road to Bethlehem" by Michael Head

CLEAR SOPRANO

Bach's "My Heart ever Faithful" was sung by Alice Waddell, who possesses a clear, flexible soprano. Four male soloists were Allan Husband, a deservedly noted Victoria basso, Paul Wharf, possessor of a rare, rich tenor, David Conrad, whose baritone is something I shall hope to hear again soon, and Rino Elverhoy.

The last named, unfortunately, chose a number which did not lie well in the tessitura of his voice, a good light tenor.

As variation to the vocal character of the evening, Evelyn Gregory played a half-hour organ prelude to the program in addition to doing the bulk of accompanying. Her assistant was William McNeil.

Talented young violinist Barbara Anne Court was a special and welcome guest, playing the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria." I feel however, that this number should not have been played while the offertory was in progress, but during a more reposeful section of the program.

'Red China No Threat To Us for 20 Years'

TORONTO (CP)—The president of the World Federalists of Canada said Wednesday Communist China will not be a threat to the United States or Canada for another 20 years.

Its threat then will be one of retaliation, said Prof. C. J. Burchill, of Victoria, professor of history and economics at Royal Roads College who visited China this year.

He told World Federalists here that China lives in fear of U.S. nuclear weapons, which could kill every living thing there in 24 hours.

He said the U.S. patrols the China coast with its nuclear-equipped Seventh Fleet and has bombers and missiles in Formosa, Korea and Japan.

China no longer feels the Soviet Union is its protector since signing of the nuclear test ban treaty, he said.

RENEGADE IN POWER

SPECIAL TIMES SERIES

HEES—Too Fast for Team

This is the ninth of a series of 12 excerpts taken from the much longer version contained in RENEGADE IN POWER: THE DIEFENBAKER YEARS, copyright Canada, 1965, Peter C. Newman; published by McClelland & Stewart.

By PETER C. NEWMAN

To those who observed the Ottawa scene closely in the years between 1957 and 1963, the most improbable figure in John Diefenbaker's improbable cabinet was George Hees, the member for Toronto-Broadview who served first as minister of transport and then took on trade and commerce, the portfollio that had so long been the personal domain of Clarence Decatur Howe.

"Georgeous George," as his detractors called him, brought gusto to the business of government; a delight in power and in self that few men can sustain past the age of 20.

A huge man, healthy, rich, and handsome, he was master of the Big Hello. He loved partying, swimming, football, and sometimes gave the physically frail the uneasy feeling that he might, at any moment, get down on the rug and wrestle in a burst of boyish goodwill.

From the time that Hees went into politics he was plagued by charges that he was a mental lightweight, a perpetual playboy, an amiable goon. But, to the utter astonishment of the people who thought they knew him well (and this meant everybody who'd ever shared an elevator with George, so transparent seemed his talents), Hees turned out to be the most successful of the Conservative cabinet ministers.

It was a success based not on good luck but on hard work and on an untamable zest in everything he did—which ironically, in the end, brought about his dramatic downfall.

Part of John Diefenbaker's appeal in the 1957 and 1958 election campaigns had been the feeling he gave that his party would handle the people's business with a dedication and excitement that hadn't been seen in the land during the Liberals' fat, smug years of corporate efficiency. But once the Tories were firmly ensconced in office, the problems of power wore down the enthusiasm of nearly all the major figures in the Diefenbaker cabinet.

Cultivated Limited Talents

Hees remained a refreshing exception, not because of any outstanding personal brilliance, but simply because he cultivated with flashy single-mindedness the limited talents he did possess. He applied to politics the same animal willpower that characterized his approach to everything.

He had compensated for his failure at high school football with a grim private training schedule that eventually made him a star linebacker of the Toronto Argonaut team which won the 1938 Grey Cup—Canadian football's most coveted award. After he had been flattened in a 1933 amateur boxing bout at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, he resolutely slugged his way to the heavyweight championship of the British armed services.

When the Second World War broke out, he trained himself just as hard to be a good officer, and eventually earned battle honors as an infantry brigade major.

He then proceeded to prepare for public life with the same dogged determination he had shown in sports and the army, and became a key influence in the Conservatives' return to power.

Although he turned fifty while in office, Hees continued to look more like an athlete in his prime than a middle-aged politician. His face, flushed with good health and bursting out of a perennially too-tight collar, was nearly always adorned with a "Let's go team!" kind of grin. His big frame (210 pounds, six-foot-three) seemed to be planted on the ground with a permanent backward lean, as if he were holding the world on a leash.

George Hees was a hard-breathing refutation of the theory that Canadian politicians have to be stuffy and pompus to be successful. He loved to lead sing-songs at parties, to play catcher at the MPs' annual baseball game, and to trade quips with backbenchers in the parliamentary corridors.

His political duties seldom limited his fun. Mounted on a bronco and waving a cowboy hat, he led the parade that opened the fiftieth anniversary of the Wainwright, Alta., stampede. When he was supposed to turn the sod for Edmonton's new international airport in 1958, instead of meekly digging up a ceremonial shovelful of dirt, he mounted a bulldozer and efficiency plowed up the first 20 feet of excavation.

'I'll Stand on Head in Piccadilly'

Hees' initial success as minister of transport prompted his promotion, on Oct. 11, 1960, to the prestigeous trade and commerce portfolio.

To place the federal government actively on the side of promoting the country's manufacturing interests called for a complete reorientation in Ottawa's postwar emphasis on the development of the natural-resources sector. Just as the notched profile of C. D. Howe had been the symbol of the rugged individualism required to open up Canada's hinterland, so the sprinting silhouette of George Hees would have to be recognized as the driving spirit in the bare-fisted process of persuading reluctant Canadian businessmen to get out and sell their products in strange and difficult markets.

"I'm willing to do anything that will increase Canadian exports. I'd stand on my head in Piccadilly Circus, if I thought it'd do any good," said the new trade and commerce minister a few hours after taking on his new assignment.

The precise impact of Hees' energetic export campaign was difficult to assess. During his two years at Trade and Commerce, Canada achieved a favorable balance in merchandise exports over imports, for the first time in a decade.

Devaluation of the Canadian dollar, the wheat sales to Communist China, and the post-Coyne monetary expansion certainly were all partly responsible, but so was George Hees. If he had done nothing else but firmly establish in the minds of Canada's businessmen that exporting can be fun, his efforts would have been well worth while.

But Hees' greatest accomplishment was to alter the stereotyped attitude that business had toward government. He proved to even the most rabid of free enterprisers that the federal administration need not be a bureaucratic nuisance, but could, if properly exploited, become a positive agency on their behalf.

Speaking to the members of the Ottawa West Conservative Association during the 1962 election campaign, Hees explained his theory of how political candidates should be chosen.

"When we were boys," he said, "we used to stand on the corner and watch the girls go by. Some girls had IT and some didn't. Now, we could tell just like that which ones had IT and which ones didn't. And that's how you pick candidates—they've got to have IT."

Dief Anointed Him as the Heir

This slapstick approach to politics was typical of the public impression Hees frequently projected of himself. It was only upon more intimate acquaintance that his effervescent charm and boisterous good will revealed themselves as the protective coloring for an outrageous ambition.

With the robust resolution born of a lifetime spent achieving unlikely objectives, George Hees craved for the prime ministership of Canada. It had been John Diefenbaker himself who first mentioned the swashbuckling Torontonian as a possible heir. At a trade conference dinner in Ottawa during the winter of 1961, the prime minister had placed his arms on Hees' shoulder, anointing him with these words: "George, nobody can take your place. You're the first."

But less than two years later John Diefenbaker's reaction to the name George Hees would be a very different one.

STEINBECK
. . . Wall 'confessed failure'

CROSSES WHITE LINE

'Let 'Em Shoot,' Novelist Dares Reds

BERLIN (AP) — "Oh, nuts . . . if they want to shoot at me, they can," said John Steinbeck Wednesday, ignoring his wife's warning and stepping into East Berlin across a white line marking the Communist border dividing this city. Communist guards stood nearby.

"I've been shot at before," the Nobel Prize - winning American novelist said, and as if in defiance turned his bearded face toward the guards who cradled sub-machine-guns in their arms.

Steinbeck stood at the U.S. Army's Checkpoint Charlie, a crossing point through the Communist wall to East Berlin.

Steinbeck, 61, arrived in West Berlin Tuesday night, the last stop in a two-month European tour.

He borrowed binoculars from an American military policeman to gaze into East Berlin.

"Incredible," he muttered. Steinbeck walked away, then turned back to point his cane at the wall.

"I'm amazed that anybody would confess so completely that he failed . . . That's what this amounts to . . . a failure in everything. It is like a little kid who takes his football home when he can't play very well.

"I don't understand that inability to confess failure . . . I can't see that this wall has any other purpose."

Ex-Nazi Sentenced

MUNICH, West Germany (AP)—Thomas Krafft, a former sergeant in the Nazi SS Elite Guard, was sentenced Wednesday to 12 years in prison for the murder of four Austrians on VE-Day. Krafft, 43, said he was drunk when he shot the three men and one woman. They had been held as hostages by the SS.

Copper Indian Campsite Believed 5,000 Years Old

DEEP RIVER, Ont. (CP)—A campsite and burial ground of a group of Indians who lived between 3,000 and 5,000 years ago has been discovered on Allumette Island, Que., about three miles down the Ottawa River from Pembroke, Ont.

It is the first campsite of old copper Indians ever excavated in North America. While thousands of copper objects attributed to old-copper Indians have been found in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, campsites have eluded archaeologists.

The excavations, sponsored by the National Museum of Canada, were carried out as a project of the Ottawa Valley Historical Society under the direction of Clyde C. Kennedy of Deep River.

Mr. Kennedy, public relations officer for Atomic Energy of Canada and an amateur archaeologist of recognized standing for more than 10 years, discovered the Allumette Island site this summer.

He said a radiocarbon date of 4,700 years has been determined for charcoal found last year at an ancient Indian campsite on Morrison's Island. This island also is about three miles east of the Ottawa Valley town of Pembroke.

The two campsites were termed "among the most significant discoveries in Canadian archaeology" by Dr. James B. Griffin, director of the Museum of Anthropology of the University of Michigan during a recent visit to Deep River.

Mr. Kennedy said the Allumette Island site yielded 1,012 copper objects. The old copper Indians were skilled workers of this metal, which they obtained from deposits in the Lake Superior region, more than 1,000 miles away by canoe.

Some 2,000 objects made of bone, slate, flint, sandstone, quartzite or soapstone also were found.

Sixteen skeletons, some complete, were also excavated.

The Morrison Island site yielded 18 burials and 2,300 tools, implements and ornaments, including 276 copper objects.

INTERVIEWS WITH KENNEDY, CASTRO

Reporter Sparks New Row Over Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro was quoted Wednesday as saying Soviet missiles were sent to Cuba last year because President Kennedy had implied privately that the United States was going to invade Cuba.

The Cuban premier's account of the missiles story, reported by French newspaper man Jean Daniel in an article in The New Republic, conflicts with the U.S. version of the events which climaxed in the nuclear confrontation between the United States and Russia in October, 1962.

The U.S. interpretation was that the Soviet Premier Khrushchev tried to sneak in the missiles for nuclear blackmail against the United States. Washington denied intending to attack Cuba.

Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger Wednesday disputed a key element in Castro's account, given Daniel in an interview in Havana two days before Kennedy's assassination. Daniel also interviewed Kennedy Oct. 24.

According to the Castro version, Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, reported Kennedy had noted during a Jan. 30, 1962, conversation that the United States had not intervened in the Soviet suppression of Hungary's 1956 rebellion.

Castro was quoted as saying he and the Russians interpreted Kennedy's words as an effort to get the Soviet Union to keep hands off in case of a U.S. invasion of Cuba and both Moscow and Havana decided "a landing in Cuba might happen at any momen."

Castro said the Russian missiles were rushed in for Cuba's defence.

Salinger said he attended Adzhubei's meeting with Kennedy and he never heard the subject of non-intervention in Hungary come up. He also said Kennedy did not use Daniel as a messenger to Castro.

Salinger later told reporters he had rechecked the interpreter's notes covering the Kennedy-Adzhubei talk and that while there was some mention of Hungary, it was "not in the context Mr. Castro reported" in the interview with Daniel.

Salinger said also that Kennedy's Oct. 24 interview with Daniel had been off the record. He said Daniel came to see him Wednesday and "he seemed to feel" that he had been released from any confidence by Kennedy's death. Salinger said he does not share that view.

Castro said he got a copy of Adzhubei's report to Khrushchev on Kennedy's remarks.

"He (Kennedy) had said that the new situation in Cuba was intolerable for the United States and that the American government had decided to tolerate it no longer. . . .

"Kennedy had reminded the Russians that the United States had not intervened in Hungary which evidently was a way of exacting Russian non-intervention in the event of an invasion

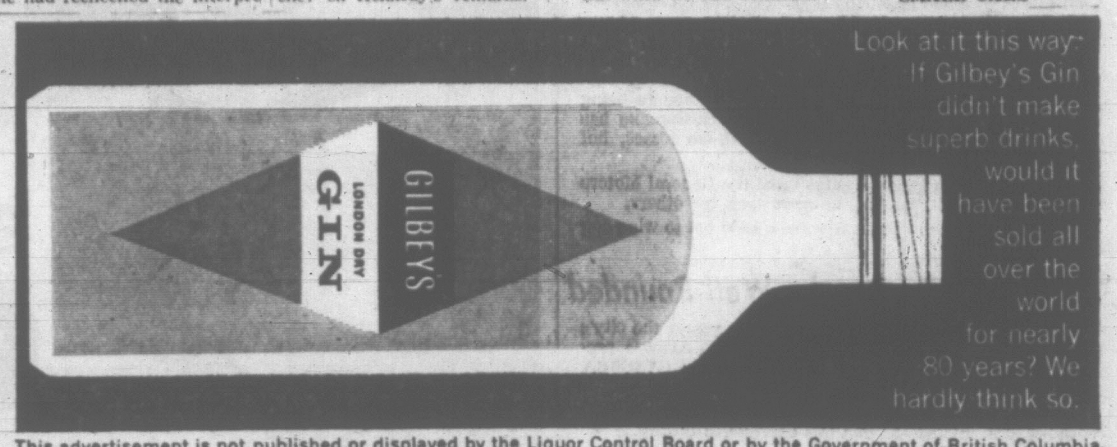

DIFFERENT CONCLUSION

"Obviously the term 'invasion' was not pronounced, and Adzhubei, uninformed at the time, could not draw the same conclusions as we did.

"But when we had communicated to Khrushchev all our previous information, they began to interpret the Kennedy-Adzhubei conversation in our sense and they set about gathering information.

"At the end of a month, the Russian and Cuban governments became certain that a landing in Cuba might happen at any moment."

BUSY RAISING FAMILIES

Many Victorians Serving In NATO Units Overseas

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Victorians in France and Germany with Canada's NATO forces are engaged in a wide variety of pursuits—and one of them is raising families.

Largest service family I discovered during three weeks of travel around army and air force bases in Europe was that of Flight-Lieut. and Mrs. William Worthy of Victoria, now living in a ground-floor apartment at Baden-Sollingen, Germany.

They have five children—Linda, 4; William, 3; Charles, 1, and the twins, Thomas and Timothy, six months.

Since moving to Germany last May, Flight-Lieut. Worthy has flown to most countries of Europe and devotes some of his leisure time to skiing.

H is the son of Mrs. F. E. Worthy, 1826 Belmont Avenue, Victoria.

LIVE IN TRAILER

Living in a trailer at Grostinquin, France, are Flight-Lieut. Edward de Bourcier, who has flown to every country in Europe except Sweden, his wife, Rhoda, and their 21-months-old son, Paul Edward.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. de Bourcier, 2761 Dufferin, Victoria, he joined the RCAF in 1952 after schooling at Willows Elementary, Oak Bay High, Victoria College and the University of British Columbia.

An ex-carrier for the Victoria Times, he went to France two years ago when the RCAF was building up its strength under the NATO defence plan.

The de Bourciers enjoy life in France, but plan to settle in Victoria one day. Their trimly-furnished trailer is hung with pictures of the Empress Hotel, the Butchart Gardens and other remniders of home.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

A protege of Archie McKinnon at the YMCA centre in Victoria is Flight-Sgt. Gordon Christensen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Christensen of Victoria.

He joined the RCAF as a physical training instructor in 1943 and has been active in this field ever since.

Flight-Sgt. Christensen takes a leading part in all sporting activity at RCAF No. 4 Wing, Baden-Sollingen, Germany.

Cpl. Stanley N. Mill, a former member of Victoria city police force, is also a sporting enthusiast. He was active in theatricals at Langham Court Theatre and served the city police for many years before joining the RCAF in 1950.

Conducting the 40-piece band at RCAF No. 4 Wing in Baden-Sollingen, Germany, is Band-Sgt. Wiliam Ratcliffe, who began his musical career with the Salvation Army in Victoria and also played with the bands of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade and the Royal Canadian Legion.

The No. 4 Wing band plays for RCAF parades, gives concerts at orphanages, old people's homes and German beerfests and is heard at RCAF hockey matches.

Sgt. Ratcliffe's brother-in-law is Bandmaster William Hastings of Victoria Salvation Army Citadel. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Turner, 2222 Richmond Road, Victoria.

LAC William H. Harlow from Glen Lake is busy servicing Bristol freighter planes at No. 2 Wing, Grostinquin, France.

An aero-engine technician, he joined the RCAF in Victoria in 1954 and went to Europe in 1960. He is married with three children—Jerry, five; Tamra, four, and William, three months.

IN DANCE BAND

LAC Edward Kucey of Victoria is an aero-engine technician who plays the saxophone in his leisure time. He is a leading member of the Golden Knights dance band at No. 2 Wing, Grostinquin, and the son of Mrs. A. Lindseth, 160 Beechwood Drive, Victoria.

He lives with his wife and two sons, Bruce, six, and Darin, three, near the base at Grostinquin.

Housing of airmen and their families at RCAF No. 4 Wing is the responsibility of Flying Officer Wilma Patterson, daughter of Mrs. E. B. Patterson, 2168 Guernsey Street, Oak Bay.

Miss Patterson joined the RCAF in Victoria in 1952 and returned there on leave in 1961.

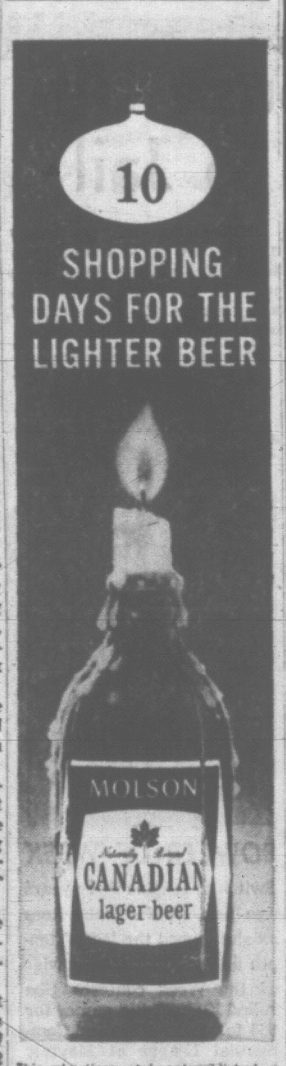

Her telephone rings constantly in the housing unit at defence headquarters and there are complications in finding suitable accommodation for families of all sizes in RCAF or civilian headquarters.

"But I enjoy the work," she says, "and appreciate the opportunities for travel in Europe."

Cameraman with RCAF at Grostinquin is LAC James Douglas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, 1782 Chandler Avenue, Victoria.

Educated at Margaret Jenkins School, he joined the RCAF in 1955 and is now on his second tour of duty in France.

"Photography is my hobby as well as my trade," he said.

LOOKS AT SPORTS

Fabulous is the word to describe some of the basketball dynasties which frolicked across smooth-polished floors in Victoria.

The Blue Ribbons. The Dominoes. First United. They were as much a part of this place as tea and crumpets at the Empress or fossil life in Oak Bay.

You were a kid when the Chapmans served their magic. You graduated from plus-fours when Norm Baker, a blond slab of muscle, fine-threaded baskets with shots that nobody had a licence to make.

You missed personally the First United monopoly on success. But you're seeing it today every time the Chinooks play. From president to pumper they represent the basic FU philosophy . . . teamwork, dedication, sense of purpose.

Chinooks were strongly discouraged from entry in the Inter-City Junior League which made it plain that it wasn't in the market for lemons. But the sour faces are all being worn on the mainland where the Chinook earthquake has struck with devastating fury (eight wins, no losses, ho! hum!).

First United no longer aspires to be the General Motors of minor basketball, leaving the path open for others.

Some will make it. But a few are a solid bet to wipe egg off their faces . . .

The Ball, The Coach—Well-Rounded

Six weeks ago (it only SEEMS like six years) the city's best all-ROUND sporting columnist agreed to coach a pre-midget boys' team — Sacred Heart — in the GVSSBBA (Greater Victora Sunday School Basketball League).

Charles Stewart, a neighbor and bowling associate, was coerc—that is, invited—to join this exercise in futility.

Since then, handling toddlers 8 to 11, we have come to the conclusion that we would have done better by tackling the Viet Cong with our bare hands.

The Viet Cong doesn't always win; our opponents do. Our boys labored valiantly in causes lost by nip-and-tuck scores . . . 15-4; 33-11; 15-9; 18-6.

Most of the time we have been getting our lessons from a team(s) with "St. Louis College" on their underwear. They run and pass and shoot better and even when they foul there is a certain crispness which our Bob Cousys lack. (By the way . . . if you know of any 11-year-old boys, six-feet tall, fast and hyper-aggressive . . .).

This would have been a crushing blow to our organization but for one discovery; all over town, in practically every league where girls are not encouraged, teams from St. Louis are soaking up the heady atmosphere of first place.

For the record; St. Louis' two pre-midget teams (boys under 12) coached by Bros. Favero and Pike are one-two in their circuit.

St. Louis' two midget teams (boys 12-14), coached by Bros. Barry and Burton are one-two, etc.

St. Louis' bantams (under 16), coached by Bro. Hensley are ahead, etc.; and,

St. Louis varsity, coached by Bro. Cassidy have beaten Claremont and University School in their only outings.

'Masters' Has Double Entendre Here

The current varsity reflects the prudence of a program for all ages. Most of the seniors played pre-midget ball in Grade 4 and followed through until Grade 12.

Bro. Cassidy, whom the late IAA generalissimo Stuffy McGinnis once described as "the best basketball player I've ever seen," is a product of the school and the system.

St. Louis has not yet fielded a Wilt Chamberlain nor an Elgin Baylor. For a while the school had the reputation of being a retreat for sawdust heads in neeed of awakening.

Things have changed. This year a startled parent was told: "Don't ask us to whack your boy. We believe we can accomplish more by other means. Besides, if you had thumped him at home when he needed it, there would be no need for anyone to do it today."

The Christian Brothers of Ireland have other things working for them in their pursuit of better educated students and A plus basketballers.

They are not only coaches but teachers. If you play for St. Louis you are not apt to blow a practice or pass up a game without good reason. The coach may be your home room teacher (with his "master's"), the individual who doles out homework and other favors.

Biggest Gym In City—'Right Outside'

St. Louis has, as Bro. Clarkson, the principal noted, "the biggest gym in Victoria."

Really?

"Absolutely," said Bro. Clarkson. "Right outside."

It seems preposterous to think of six basketball teams flexing their goose pimples and practicing foul shots on a totally air-conditioned court. But they do with uncommon zest.

"It's been good for them," Bro. Hensley was saying. "They feel they have always been the underdog. So they have worked harded to prove they belong."

He told of coming from a school with full facilities . . . gym, lockers, showers . . . and an enrollment of 1,000. "They had everything. Except incentive. When the first practice was called 15 turned out."

That reminded him of something else. In the cloakroom of his class, there are 15 basketballs.

"Not one belongs to the school," he said. "The boys have received them as gifts or awards for selling tickets. Some saved to buy their own."

Fifteen boys, in one class, want to work in Victoria's largest gym so much they have their own ball.

Did you hear that, coach Stewart? It's going to be a long, long winter.

EVERYTHING'S FINE IN CHICAGO . . .

. . . especially if you are Bobby Hull, left, and Stan Mikita, right. Hull popped in 200th National Hockey League goal and Mikita hit the century circle Wednesday as Chicago Black Hawks dumped New York Rangers 6-2. Victory left Hawks a fat 10 points ahead of listless Toronto Maple Leafs, who lost 3-1 to shorthanded Detroit. (AP Wirephoto.)

Harsh Critics Turned Leafs 'Into Lambs'

TORONTO (CP) — To hear the top brass of Toronto Maple Leafs tell it, the Leafs lost a 3-1 National Hockey League decision to Detroit Wednesday night because the players were "affected" by the harsh criticism heaped on them after last Saturday's brawl against Chicago.

"The players read all those stories about what (league president Clarence) Campbell might do in the way of punishment for Saturday night's fighting and they became real gentlemen," Maple Leaf Gardens President Stafford Smythe blurted out after the Red Wing triumph.

In the other NHL game, Chicago Black Hawks who are not affected by very much these days walloped New York Rangers 6-2.

Campbell is expected in Toronto today to look over films of last Saturday's Chicago-Toronto game that erupted into a wild 30-minute fist - swinging battle with three minutes left to play.

Leaf manager - coach Punch Imlach chimed in this way Wednesday night:

"Those people who wanted it, got it . . . a nice quiet game. There's no doubt our players were affected by all the adverse publicity over the fighting last Saturday. We were afraid that would happen."

CHEERS TO JEERS

And from King Clancy, assistance general manager:

"Last Saturday everybody cheered after the fighting and after the game when we beat the Chicago Black Hawks at everything. Tonight they booed. Our guys were conscious of all that stuff about rough play and they didn't do anything."

Stan Mikita scored three goals and helped set up a fourth before a crowd of 12,538 in New York while Ken Wharram counted twice and bagged an assist. Bobby Hull's goal rounded it out. The goal came on a slapshot from outside the blueline—the puck bouncing past substitute goalie Gilles Villemure—and was his 18th this season.

Phil Goyette and Don Marshall, a pair of ex-Canadiens scored for the Rangers.

Glenn Hall, Chicago goalie, made 45 stops while Villemure came up with 32 as a sub for the ailing Jacques Plante. Hall was hit on the chin by a shot in the pre-game warmup but played anyway.

GETS 17th GOAL

Mikita's third goal of the night—his 17th of the campaign—and the one by Goyette came on power-plays.

Before 14,003 fans in Toronto, the Red Wings played without five injured regulars but got fine performances from a couple of farmhands.

Rookie Pit Martin, Andre Pronovost and defenceman Ron Ingram counted for Detroit while George Armstrong clicked for Toronto, tying the score briefly in the second period.

Detroit's journeyman goalie Terry Sawchuk, destined for replacement by Roger Crozier, played an outstanding game, making 33 saves. Don Simmons turned aside 29 shots for Toronto.

Martin opened the scoring after an errant pass by Frank Mahovlich in the first period. Armstrong tied it up in the second on a power play. Pronovost sent the Red Wings ahead for good before the end of the period on another power play.

Couch Takes Over

There's a new scoring leader in the Esquimalt and District Hockey League, but otherwise everything is much the same in the three-team circuit.

Esquimalt Pontiacs are still cruising casually along, well in front of Navy and Victoria Vikings, who are waging a tight battle for the second spot.

Navy, two points behind the students with one win in five starts, gets a chance to catch the Vikings Friday night at the Sports Centre. With Vikings excused from ice chores because of examinations, the Tars tackle Pontiacs at 8 p.m. for the second straight week.

Missing regulars Ken Maxwell, Clause McKenzie and Cliff Johnson, Navy last week took a 12-6 thumping from the leaders and Maxwell lost his lead in the point chase.

FOUR ASSISTS

Taking advantage of the scoring antics of his Esquimalt mates, Doug Couch collected four assists to run his point total to 12, one ahead of Maxwell. Pontiacs forwards Jim Bronson and Sandy George climb into a runner-up tie with Maxwell.

Navy's Gary Anderson moved reluctantly to the front in another department, Gary has earned 36 minutes in penalties to take over the penalty lead from Doug Bamborough of Vikings. Bamborough, however, still has the most assists (9) while Bronson and Joe Ianarrelli of Pontiacs and University's Ted Sarkissian share goal-scoring honors, each with nine tallies.

FIREWORKS ON ICE

Pistol Adding Pep to Games

A noisy arena, hockey players will tell you, always adds a little something to any game.

That's how it is around Memorial Arena these days. The Victoria Hockey League crowds haven't increased to any great extent, but Eddie Dorohoy is there. And where Dorohoy is, there's noise.

The Pistol, playing-coach of Suburban Mercuries, was the central figure in three of the loudest incidents Wednesday night as his team came from behind a 4-1 deficit to edge Arena Cougars 5-4.

It started out after Cougars' Ray Gregoire was handed a two-minute minor for swinging his stick at one of Dorohoy's players. Dorohoy felt a major penalty was in order.

You can't say he didn't get anywhere with his argument. He did. Referee Eric Rossiter thumbed Dorohoy off with a 10-minute misconduct in the first period.

BACK AGAIN?

Returning to the ice in the second period, Dorohoy earned another lengthy (seven minutes) stay in the penalty box after an altercation with burly Ron Stephenson of the Cougars.

Dorohoy and Stephenson, looking like French lovers in a movie, each earned a major and minor for the clutch-and-hugging display.

Later, Dorohoy was up in arms again when Gregoire was handed a minor for pulling down Mercs' Gary Fletcher on a breakaway. Dorohoy, lucky to escape a second misconduct sentencing, felt a penalty shot should have been awarded.

KOZAK STARS

Veteran Leo Kozak sparked Merc's comeback. The burly defenceman sparked a three-goal, third-period uprising by scoring twice and setting up Dorohoy for the third goal.

In the not-so-noisy opener, last-place Cavaliers showed plenty of improvement but lacked goal-mouth finish. The result: a 4-2 victory for league-leading Canadians.

Defenceman Steve Merriman paced the winners with two goals, the second coming into an empty net in the last minute of play.

Roughhouse Ulf May Go to Jail

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) —Ulf Sterner meant what he said. And it's liable to cost him a jail sentence or a stiff fine.

"I'm going to play rougher from now on," said the Swedish ice hockey star when he left New York Rangers two months ago after working out with the National Hockey League club during training camp.

The penalty box has been a second home to Ulf since then. He has been charged with consistent rough play in league competition here.

What's more his new personality is rubbing off on some spectators. Last week, Sterner went berserk against a group of heckling fans and hit a youngster over the head with his stick. The young centre faces a charge of assault and battery which, under Swedish law, is covered by the same charge as murder.

Because he used a weapon —his hockey stick — Sterner faces an obligatory one-year jail sentence. He may, however, get off with a stiff fine.

Swedish hockey officials were counting on Sterner for standout performances in games against the Soviet Union later this month and in the Olympic Games in Innsbruck, Austria, Jan. 29-Feb 9.

Clashes between the teams as well as players and spectators are getting front page play in the newspapers here and charges of "gangsterism" on all sides are being made.

HABS' ROOKIE-OF-YEAR CANDIDATE . . . . . . HAS CURBED VOLATILE TEMPER

'I Just Try to Keep Everybody Honest'—John Ferguson

By JOE DUPUIS

MONTREAL—Left winger John Ferguson of Montreal Canadiens was a candidate for half-year rookie honors in the National Hockey League and his team's top scorer when a freak injury in Boston Dec. 1 put him out of action.

Now, he spends his ice time blowing down offside plays during Canadiens workouts at the Forum. He will be inactive for at least two more weeks, perhaps longer.

"I hadn't missed a game in two years, when this thing happened," Ferguson said in an interview, holding up the thumb of his left hand, bound in a cast as big as a puck.

"But you have to think positive. This will just make me work all the harder when I get back in there."

Thirteen stitches were required to sew up the thumb, gashed in a slugging match with Boston defenceman Ed Westfall. Somehow, Westfall's skate crunched into Ferguson's gloveless hand when they fell to the ice, fists flying.

Fergy, as his teammates call him, talks about his young NHL career like a man pleased with what he's done but anxious to work harder and do more.

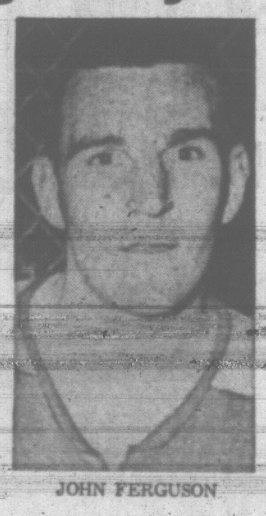

Before his injury, he played 21 games with Canadiens on the first line with veterans Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion, scoring 11 goals and eight assists. He has picked up only 31 minutes in penalties, one aspect of his first few NHL weeks that pleases him most.

In the last three years, as a high-flying winger for Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League, Ferguson spent 451 minutes in the penalty box.

For Canadiens' coach Toe Blake, that part of the record had to be changed. He told Ferguson: "Cut down on the penalties."

"He didn't tell me to curb my temper, or stay out of scraps," Fergy said. "He just told me to cut down."

Ferguson is the unofficial new policeman of the Canadiens, replacing such a hardrock as Lou Fontinato. Few of the NHL opponents have been anxious so far to test his reputation as a tough guy.

JOHN FERGUSON

"I haven't been bothered too much in that way, it's true," Ferguson said. "I figure it's only because they know that if they wrack me up, I'm going to get them right back. I don't go out there looking for trouble. I just try to keep everybody honest."

Working with Beliveau and Geoffrion was "a real break." The line was formed during the pre-season exhibition series in a game at Baltimore. Blake inserted Ferguson on the line for the game and he scored two goals.

In his first NHL game at Boston Oct. 3 Ferguson scored two goals and one assist in a 4-4 tie. "Jean and Boomer like to have lots of ice," Ferguson said. "So I try to anticipate their moves and give them free reign. But, when I'm in position, they can get that puck to me. We get together a lot between games to talk over plays."

John Bowie Ferguson—he doesn't know where the middle name comes from but "I must try to find out"—was born Sept. 5, 1938, in Vancouver, an only child. His father, a butcher, died when he was young.

His mother, a seamstress, still works, and lives in Vancouver with friends. Ferguson went up through the ranks of Vancouver's minor hockey system, moving to Melville, Sask., to play junior hockey where he was the leading scorer for two straight years.

Ferguson is also quite a lacrosse player, a game he takes up in the off-season with Nanaimo. Last summer, he was the leading scorer in the Inter-City League with 22 goals. He also was named the league's most valuable player.

He and his wife, Joan, a Vancouver girl, and their only child, Christina Lee, 4, spend the off-season in Nanaimo, where Ferguson is athletics supervisor of the Nanaimo Brannan Lake Boys Detention School.

GORDIE HOWE'S HOCKEY

There's a stratagem goalies use that's going to backfire one of these days. It is the habit they've developed of rushing off the ice so a forward can take their place when the referee raises his arm, signalling a delayed penalty on the opposition.

The referee blows his whistle as soon as the side that committed the foul gets control of the puck. So it is impossible for the fouling side to score.

If the side which is going to benefit by the penalty has possession, the referee lets play continue until it loses it.

One of these days, the wrong goalie is going to skate out of his net, thinking the penalty is on the opposition, leaving the opportunity for a shot into an open net.

This already has happened. In an exhibition game we played with Chicago last fall, both goalies skated for their benches, thinking the penalty was on the other team. The referee had his arm raised and the puck changed possession so quickly, everybody was confused.

Fortunately, the referee blew his whistle before either team had a shot, so nothing came of it. I chuckle to myself when I think of the possibilities the situation presents. There certainly will be some red faces and sputtering players.

★ ★ ★

I believe Boston was the first club to try this strategy.

Some say Fred Cusick, Boston radio broadcaster first thought of the idea. There are those who credit it to Weston Adams, Boston's chairman of the board. Others claim coach Milt Schmidt dreamed it up. Anyway, it was Boston's baby.

The rules committee took official recognition of this stratagem for the first time last June. They issued a directive the goalie must be within 10 feet of his bench before his replacement can get on the ice. Otherwise play has to stop immediately. Before, some goalies barely went out of their nets before replacements charged on.

COACH OF YEAR

In the case of Papa Bear, George Halas, life begins at 40 seasons. Chicago Bears' Halas, 68, in his 44th season, has been chosen Coach-of-Year in National Football League.

'Decline and Foul' Of English Soccer

LONDON (AP) — "The decline and foul of English soccer," a recent headline in the London Daily Mail said.

It was a comment on hooliganism, involving both players and fans, that has spread like a forest fire through English soccer this season.

Twenty-one players have been ejected from games because of fouls in the first three months of the season. Last season in eight months' play only 34 were outsted.

Fans have rioted. Police have been forced to escort referees as angry patrons tried to get in punches. Darts, bottles, orange peel, bread and bricks have been hurled.

LAW ORDERED OFF

The climax came when Denis Law, Scottish international, Manchester United star and former Italian league player, was ordered out of a match against Aston Villa Nov. 16.

"The FA (Football Association) must issue at once a final warning that players will be suspended and grounds closed—not for a week or two, but for the rest of the season," wrote J. L. Manning of the Daily Mail.

After all, who wants to pay for a singside seat at the decline and foul of English football?"

There has been trouble in recent weeks at Liverpool and Everton, Halifax and Chester, and many others.

The FA disciplinary committee is overburdened with complaints.

"We're at our wits' end to know what to do," commented Joe Richards, president of the English League management committee.

'IT'S NOT CRICKET'

All this is happening in a land where the phrase "it's not cricket, old man," was born—a phrase that meant it's just not sporting.

For centuries the British have had a reputation as sportsmen—good winners and just as good losers.

Now that reputation is in danger.

"The FA must make it clear that their grounds are places where football should be played and watched and are not the starting point of Saturday uproars," said Manning.

Dennis Follows, secretary of the Football Association, said that "if spectators are asked to improve their behavior on the terraces then first there must be better behavior on the pitch."

Celtic Reaches Quarterfinals

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (Reuters) — Glasgow Celtic, although beaten 2-1 by Dinamo Zagreb Wednesday, qualified with a 4-2, two-game aggregate for the quarter-finals of the European Cup soccer competition.

Dinamo seemed to master the hard, slippery ground better than the Scots. The Yugoslavs were on the attack for at least three-quarters of the game, urged on by about 10,000 spectators who braved sub-zero cold.

Celtic now joins Manchester United in the quarter-finals to be drawn in Zurich Tuesday.

Zurich of Switzerland also qualified for the quarter-finals—thanks to a flip of the coin. The toss was required Wednesday after Zurich and Galatasary of Turkey tied 2-2 in an overtime playoff game at neutral Flaminio Stadium.

Previously, they had split 2-0 victories at Zurich and Istanbul.

Meanwhile, in England, Chesterfield beat Netherfield 4-1 in a second-round replay to advance to the third round of the Football Association Cup event.

TIME OUT! By JEFF KEATE

Odds 3-1 Against 'Winner'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Three bettors won a court order Wednesday which forbids a fourth from spending $24,102 the four allegedly won on a $2 twin double racing ticket at Tropical Park.

David McMillan, Edward Brown and Frank Lee Smith claimed Tommie Lee Miller refused to split the winnings which belonged to all four. McMillan, Brown and Smith said each put in 50 cents and agreed any winnings would be split four ways.

Miller bought the ticket and Tropical Park made out the cheque to him. The plaintiffs said Miller then deposited the $24,102 in a bank under his name.

Judge Robert Anderson banned withdrawing any of the money until a hearing.

GROUSE TOTAL SKIDS

More Moose Bagged In Cariboo Country

Hunters took a record number of moose from B.C.'s Cariboo district during the 1963 season although ranks of riflemen were slightly smaller than they were last year.

Figures released this week by the department of recreation and conservation disclosed that 5,284 moose were taken through the Cache Creek checking station up until last weekend. In 1962, the moose count was 4,808.

A grop of 1,204 in the numbers of resident sportsmen (20,436 to 19,232) moving through Cache Creek resulted in a lower hunter count, although the non-resident total climbed from 2,814 to 3,281.

Riflemen also bagged more goats, sheep, grizzly bear and caribou than they did in 1962 but met with less success in quests for deer, elk, black bear and all game birds.

Sharpest drop was in the grouse harvest, which skidded to 3,215 birds after hunters had brought out 6,189 in 1962.

Here is the Cache Creek game count, with last year's totals in brackets:

Deer 3,637 (3,689), moose 5,284 (4,808), goat 169 (122), sheep 70 (44), grizzly bear 61 (45), black bear 96 (158), caribou 156 (142), elk 26 (39).

Ducks 6,968 (8,080), geese 315 (344), grouse 3,215 (6,189), pheasants 90 (289), chukar partridge 62 (156), Hungarian partridge 2 (17).

TROUBLEMAKERS GOAL IN SOCCER CRACKDOWN

VANCOUVER (Special) — The Pacific Coast Soccer League is going to go after rioting soccer fans and "nail them good," president Bill Findler warned Wednesday night.

Findler said two police officers will be on duty at Callister Park for Sunday's game between Victoria United and Columbus and at all future games involving the Italian club.

"Columbus is being victimized by a few of its fans causing all this trouble," Findler said. "We're going out after them, and if the police make any arrests we'll prosecute. It's got to stop."

B. C. Referees' Association, which has had several members attacked at games involving the Columbus team, had threatened to go on strike if adequate protection was not awarded.

COLLEGE WINS, LOSES

Vancouver Picks 'Old Boys'

ALSBURY
. . . tops polls

WILSON
. . . welcomed home

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tom Alsbury and Halford Wilson celebrated "welcome home" victories Wednesday night after topping the polls in the civic election here.

Mr. Alsbury, a former mayor considered a dark-horse candidate, topped the polls in gaining an alderman's seat on council. Mr. Wilson, defeated by William Rathie for the mayor's chair last year, was runner-up to Mr. Alsbury.

Three incumbents took the remaining aldermanic seats up for grabs — Tom Campbell, Aeneas Bell-Irving and Bert Emery.

Vancouver voters also approved by a slim margin establishment of a district college here, although property owners who would have to pay higher taxes for such a college, rejected the plebiscite almost 2-1.

Mr. Alsbury acquired a dark-horse label after the powerful Non-Partisan Association, whose candidates swept every civic office in the last election, rejected his bid for endorsation.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bell-Irving were the only NPA candidates elected to council this time.

NPA candidates swept all park and school board positions, however. Elected to the park board were Mrs. Grace McCarthy, George Wainborn and Everett Crowley. Elected to the school board were Roy Bell, Mrs. Betsy McDonald, Fred Rowell and Mrs. Eva New.

There was no mayoralty election this year.

What lay ahead for the proposed district college was in doubt following voting in three complicated ballots, some of which went only to property owners and some that went to all civic voters.

Mrs. New, chairman of the school board, said the board would go ahead immediately with plans for the college because more than 50 per cent of the civic voters agreed to the college in the school board's plebiscite.

However, Mayor Rathie said it was not that simple.

"The ratepayers have shown they don't approve of bearing part of the cost," he said, referring to one of two plebiscites submitted by city council asking whether ratepayers, then all civic voters, approved.

"This will show the provincial government it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to carry a money bylaw for the new district college here."

A money bylaw—which would come before property owners only—would have to be approved before money was alloted to build a college, and property owners voted heavily against higher taxation for the college in Wednesday's balloting.

Youth Incited Crowd

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fleming Klitz, 19, was fined $100 Wednesday for being part of an illegal assembly here Grey Cup night. Police said he was shouting, waving his arms and inciting a crowd which bombarded police and ambulance and inhalator men.

GEORGE MURDOCH

REEVE QUITS

Council Term 'Just for Gag' 18 Years Long

By MARGE GILROY

It was the old Willows fair ground that first attracted George Murdoch into Oak Bay territory.

Forty years later it was the same fair ground that drew him into public office in the municipality of Oak Bay.

Now after serving the municipality for 18 years he is preparing to hand over the reins to reeve-elect Allan Cox.

In 1945 Mr. Murdoch was asked by a group of ratepayers to run for councillor to fight a slate of officers put up by the Agricultural and Fair Ground Association.

At the time, he said, "Just to please them I'll go along with the gag."

Five Years In Chair

But it didn't turn out to be a gag. For the next 13 years he served as councillor and for the next five as reeve.

Looking back over the years he now regards the residential development of the old Willows fair ground and Carnarvon Park as one of his major achievements.

Failure in seeing Uplands Park developed is one of his big disappointments.

Mr. Murdoch said, "It was Johnny Johnson, Tom Kay and myself who battled over the fair ground and in 1948 the municipality bought the 68 acres for $120,000.

It was immediately zoned, subdivided and developed.

In 1959 when Mr. Murdoch was elected reeve he suggested a 20-year master plan for development of the Uplands Park which was to include footpaths, flower beds and artificial lakes. He is still waiting to see this plan implemented.

Copying Bylaws

Zoning, planning and development is one thing which Reeve Murdoch believes has received careful and considerate attention from Oak Bay council.

He said: "Now many other areas are copying our bylaws governing high-rise apartments."

These include a one-foot setback for every foot the building goes up, except on corner lots or adjacent to wide street and parks, 100 per cent landscaping in front, 50 at the side and 25 at back and 70 per cent underground or hidden parking space.

Every consideration was given to high-rise apartment zoning to ensure that surrounding areas would not be overshadowed, he said.

But apartment are inevitable, there is no place left to go in Oak Bay but up.

New Perspective

He said, "Prior to 1906 there were only 325 residents scattered throughout the area but now there are only about 20 lots left in the municipality undeveloped."

The reeve said, before he was on council he used to become annoyed and critical of council policies, but once on the inside looking out he had an entirely different perspective.

His advice to new councillors was to keep their ears open for the first year and by the second year they would be prepared to carry their share of the load.

On Monday Reeve Murdoch will conduct his last council meeting in Oak Bay and on the first of the New Year he is going to start on some carpentry in the basement of his Beach Drive home.

COLUMBIA

the other parties are expected to support the treaty.

The three days of negotiation ended with this official communique.

"The discussions dealt with several major points concerning arrangements for the sale of Canadian downstream benefits and for financing the development of the Columbia River in Canada.

"After three days of discussions during which substantial progress was made, the negotiators are in general agreement on a report that will now be submitted to the governments concerned.

"Working parties are to meet in the course of the next week to draft the necessary documents for consideration at a further meeting of the delegations in Ottawa on Dec. 20."

NO DETAILS

When asked for details in Ottawa following release of the communique, the head of the Canadian negotiators, Mr. Martin, hotly replied he could not elaborate.

"I must make it clear," he said, "that governments are involved and only governments can make the decisions."

Was there agreement on the price to be paid by the U.S. for the Canadian downstream benefits?

"I can go no further," Mr. Martin said.

The question of price, he said, was a factor embodied in the report.

When asked if there was general agreement on price—the main point holding up progress on the Canada-U.S. Columbia treaty signed in early 1961—Mr. Martin said:

"I can't prevent anyone from putting facts together and drawing conclusions, but I refuse to say anything about the report to the governments."

Did both negotiating teams intend to submit the same reports to their governments, encompassing the same price?

"Yes. Well, I haven't said that," Mr. Martin replied. "But I didn't say not, either."

Reporters kept attempting to pin down spokesmen for the delegations. Mr. Martin was asked if there was any difference of opinion between the negotiators on all terms.

ALL AGREED

Mr. Martin said this was "something we are all agreed upon and will give to the government to decide."

One reporter asked:

"May we assume that if this report is accepted by all three governments that the way will be cleared for a start on the development?"

Mr. Martin said he thought so. But it was dependent upon the discussions of the three governments concerned.

Was there any reason to doubt that the three governments would agree?

"Does the Canadian Press always agree with what the United Press does?" Mr. Martin replied.

He also said that the fact that the negotiators had agreed spoke for itself.

Cambodia Withdraws Ambassador

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, said today Cambodia has recalled its ambassador to Washington following a protest registered by the U.S. government.

The protest concerned a reported communique of the Cambodian government which the United States charged expressed satisfaction at the death of President Kennedy, along with the deaths of South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem and Thailand Premier Sarit Thanarat. The Cambodian government denied any reference had been made to Kennedy.

The state department in Washington declined immediate comment on the situation. It was known, however, that a broadcast of the government in question produced shock when U.S. monitors first heard it. An immediate inquiry was launched.

MOULDY CHILI

Bugs In Can Firm Enters Guilty Plea

VANCOUVER (CP) — A food firm which pleaded guilty to charges of selling canned food containing dead insects, larvae and mould will be sentenced Jan. 8.

Famous Foods Limited admitted Wednesday to six charges involving food unfit for human use and also to selling spaghetti and meat balls labelled beef when they actually contained a sausage-grade meat.

Magistrate Ralph Reid ordered some 10,000 cans of chili con carne containing mouldy sausage meat and pork and beans containing weevils and larvae forfeited to the crown for destruction or conversion into animal food.

The charges were laid after a woman purchased a can of pork and beans and found weevils floating on top.

Arthur Mayse

Readers have been taking pen in hand pretty vigorously this week, so let's dip into the letters, commencing with a rap on the knuckles from Not Very Indignant Subscriber.

"In your recent column on the law and Jack Ruby," he writes, "it seems to me you leave no room for the mercy which traditionally tempers justice. Ruby committed a specific crime, you say, for which a specific penalty is provided. True: but are there not degrees of guilt, even in homicide, and was not the act which Ruby took it on himself to avenge a far more despicable murder than his shooting of Oswald?

"As I read you, my feeling is that you come dangerously close to saying, 'Give Ruby a fair trial, then execute him'. The law, in spite of Dickens (not Shakespeare) is no ass, because it does leave room for clemency."

Well-taken, Not Very Indignant. But in the case of planned and deliberate murder, I think we had best be wary of the precedents we establish. Otherwise, we risk bringing the jungle in upon us.

Here, on the same general subject, is a chiding from Mrs. H. J. Dorrance, of 2129 Florence, who feels that "the shooting of an unarmed man, held by handcuffs and supposedly protected by police, was worse than the shooting of the president himself".

Again we find ourselves testing degrees of murder, and again, I urge caution.

On a more cheerful note, Mrs. Florence Barr, of 965 Trans-Canada Highway, reminds Victorians that this is bird-feeding weather.

"There's endless fun," she points out, "in watching the birds feed, especially if you give them one of their favorite treats—lumps of suet tied to shrubs or bushes.

"But if you really want to make the birds happy, substitute doughnuts for suet. A bird will perch on a doughnut for hours, swinging to and fro with it while he feeds."

Mrs. Barr, who insists that resident birds mean a drastic reduction in garden pests, has a word for the duck-feeders. Give ducks a certain cereal with a hole in the middle, she says, and they will all but follow you home for more.

Next letter comes from Switzerland with impressive stamps (any kid want 'em?) and praise for the good work done for and with retarded children by Elford Occupation Centre.

The writer is Mrs. C. S. Bell, a Victorian who is doing a pretty fair job of navigating with her "stumbling, schoolbook" French among the amiable Swiss.

"In Switzerland," says she, "there are three official languages; four, if one includes the small minority who speak Romansele.

"There is the French-speaking region where we are, then there are the German and the Italian, and they all seem to get along beautifully with one another."

To Subscriber, indignant or otherwise, here's master bartender Joe Spark's rye highball recipe as requested, with apologies for the delay:

Pour an ounce, or one ounce and a quarter, of rye in a standard highball glass (six or seven ounces).

Add two ice cubes.

Fill to about two-thirds full with ginger ale.

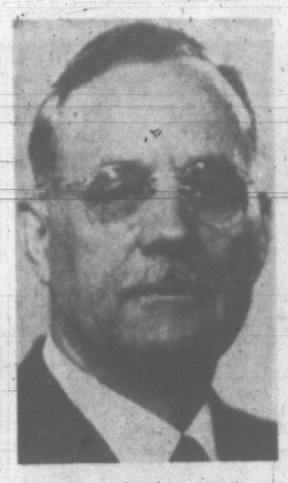

Garnish with a twist of lemon peel for flavor.

Sounds like a reasonably civilized mix, even though it doesn't tempt me. I'm a gin-soaked olive man, myself.

And . . . hey . . . before we go . . . thanks to fiction editor Bob Bell for the 'Centurion,' University of Victoria's brisk and sassy literary venture. I liked it.

Six New Members Elected to Complete UVIC Senate

Five Victorians and an ex-Victorian now a judge in Vancouver, were elected to University of Victoria senate by convocation Wednesday, bringing membership to 27.

They are the last group to be named to the new university's first senate, although the senate has power to add to its members by virtue of the Universities Act.

There were 14 candidates for the six seats.

New members are:

Mr. Justice John G. Ruttan, a former Victorian, barrister J. Alan Baker, Times editor Brian A. Tobin, deputy provincial secretary Lawrie J. Wallace, retired educator Dr. F. T. Fairey and astronomer Dr. R. M. Petrie.

Mr. Wallace joins his brother, Prof. Robert T. D. Wallace, dean of arts and science, on the academic board, which is chaired by acting president Dr. W. Harry Hickman.

The senate meeting Wednesday night which named the newly elected members also declared Judge Joseph B. Clearihue as chancellor, although his election was by recognized acclamation in October.

The new members plus Prof. Wallace and classics professor Dr. Peter L. Smith, each will serve three-year terms.

Registrar Ronald R. Jeffels, secretary of senate, said convocation voted heavily in its first election — 738 ballots were cast of a possible 1,000.

Previously named to senate were Prof. Roger J. Bishop, Dr. David J. Chabassol, Dean W. Halliwell, Prof. Henry C. Gilliland, Dr. Richard H. J. Monk, Dr. Arthur R. Fontaine, Dr. Roy E. L. Watson, Mrs. D. Elizabeth Kennedy, Dr. I. D. Pal, Dr. Gordon W. Fields, Dr. Geoffrey P. Mason, Dr. G. Alexander Milton, Dr. Geoffrey C. Homer, Mrs. Marion T. Ricker, Newton D. Cameron and Franklin P. Levirs.

BID TO CABINET

Plea Made For Sports On Sunday

A big pitch for Sunday sports was made to the provincial cabinet today by the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

In its annual brief to the cabinet, the UBCM asked for amendments to the Municipal Act allowing local option votes on Sunday sports.

"This is the one we really want," said Theo Adams, UBCM executive secretary.

"We certainly feel something must be done," said Mayor A. V. Fraser of Quesnel, president of the UBCM.

He said that seven municipalities widely scattered across B.C. had voted in favor of Sunday sports in test plebiscites during last week's municipal elections.

SHOW APPROVAL

Although the votes don't carry any effect, they averaged 71 per cent approval, Mr. Fraser said.

"All we ask is that this question be answered by the individual in his own community," said the UBCM brief.

At present only Vancouver is allowed to have commercial sports on Sundays, granted through a special amendment to its civic charter.

Everywhere else in the province is subject to the Municipal Act.

The UBCM also urged the government to make a big increase in its grants in lieu of taxes.

These grants, awarded this year for the first time, total $570,000 for the whole province —the government's way of paying taxes on its property in municipalities.

PARTIAL PAYMENT

This amounts to only a partial payment of the tax rates everyone else pays, Mr. Fraser said. In some cases it is about one third.

The UBCM, he said, is urging B.C. to make the same type of payment as Ottawa.

Subject to aproval of assessment values, Mr. Fraser said, the federal government pays the full going mill rate to municipalities.

The municipalities also told the cabinet that it must get cracking on air pollution control.

"We are convinced a start should no longer be delayed in maintaining and ensuring the purity of the air of the province," the UBCM brief said.

CONTROL POLLUTION

It urged formation of a provincial Air Pollution Control Authority, with powers to control and enforce.

Other UBCM requests include:

Changes in the Municipal Act allowing local councils to control closing hours of stores;

Pressure on Ottawa for lotteries to finance public services;

Designation of some independent authority such as the Public Utilities Commission to decide disputes between municipalities and B.C. Hydro.

Topics of the Day

A few gaily-wrapped packages of cigarettes satisfied burglars who broke into Carey Road Food Market, 3824 Carey, overnight.

Saanich police Det. Joseph Armstrong said that a heavy iron bar was used to smash a window at the back of the store.

No money was taken, and the cigarettes were the only merchandise missing according to the store manager.

The breakin was discovered at 8 a.m. today when the store was opened.

Chief conciliation officer Reg Clements has brought union and management together to resume negotiations in a long dispute at Mc and Mc hardware outlets here and in other B.C. centres.

Employees voted 71 per cent against strike action after negotiations broke down, but Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Clerks' Union agent Ray Haines said this does not indicate approval of the company's latest contract offer.

"It shows a reluctance of the people to go on strike at this particular time," he said.

He was optimistic of a settlement with resumption of negotiations.

The union meanwhile has asked the Labor Relations Board to order the company to cease intimidation and influence of employees in connection with the strike vote.

An adding machine was stolen from Central Saanich Municipal Hall overnight, "presumably by juveniles," said Central Saanich police today.

A minor amount of damage was done inside the hall.

Central Saanich police, a three-man force, with offices in the hall, were not on duty when the break-in occurred about 3 a.m.

For about six hours after midnight, emergency Central Saanich police calls are handled by Saanich police.

Two Victoria hardware stores are changing ownership, it was learned today.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parrett have taken over operation of Stelck's Shelbourne Hardware at 1608 Hillside.

And an unidentified buyer will assume ownership of Stelck's Hillside Hardware Ltd., 2680 Quadra, January 1.

Both properties were sold by Mrs. Alberta J. Stelck, widow of L. H. R. Stelck who died last year. Steck's Esquimalt Hardware, owned by Gerald A. R. Stelck, is unaffected by the property transfers.

Gas Price Boost Aimed At Hearing?

Higher retail gasoline prices started Wednesday by Imperial Oil here are seen by observers as an attempt to bring rates up before sittings of a royal commission on gasoline next month.

The two-cent hike bringing regular gas to 40.9 cents a gallon and premium to 45.9 was being followed today by Standard Oil and the likelihood of other major brands doing the same.

Independent operators Mohawk and Pay 'n' Save were waiting to see the general trend but expected prices would be going up to 39.9 and 44.9 cents.

The third competitor, Woodward's Mayfair service, contemplated no change.

An Imperial Oil spokesman said the increase represents an attempt to return to a more economic price level after the spring and summer gasoline war in which prices see-sawed between the high 40s and low 30s per gallon.

He said the boost has no connection with the hearings.

For Imperial and Standard it is believed to be the first time Victoria, Duncan and Nanaimo pump prices have been equal.

Walkout Wins Point For Millworkers

A 4½-hour strike by mill workers at Victoria Plywood Ltd. late Wednesday resulted in a company promise to rid the plant of demoralizing smoke.

The unsanctioned walkout from 7:30 to midnight brought promise of additional ventilation in the plywood mill on Plumper Bay.

An International Woodworkers of America spokesman said grievance men met with management to obtain assurances, and manager Alex Hendry confirmed that steps would be taken and no disciplinary action would result.

Smoke comes from plywood dryers and was made worse because doors and windows usually left open were closed during cold weather.

Abducted Girl Released Unhurt

A 16-year-old girl was abducted from a city street Wednesday night by two young men, who released her unharmed after two hours.

She was forced into a car outside the YMCA on Blanshard Street about 10:15 p.m., and released in Royal Oak after being driven around Sidney and North Saanich, police said.

The girl, who was not molested, told police that she did not know the two men.

They were driving an older-model light green car, with torn upholstery.

Luxury Hotel Proposed For Inner Harbor

A huge multi-million-dollar luxury hotel may be built on the Sidney Roofing Co. property on Songhees Road on the western side of Victoria's Inner Harbor, the Times learned today.

The property, still owned by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., is under option to Argus Investments Ltd. of Victoria and the option is in the process of being taken up. MBPR closed down the plant four years ago, but retained the property when Sidney Roofing was sold to Domtar Ltd. last year.

Argus Investments is a B.C. company incorporated in February, 1962, and headed by Charles Bealer, retired California businessman who is president of Chateau Victoria Ltd., the company which is planning a retirement apartment centre near Royal Roads.

AMERICAN CHAIN

Actual construction of the hotel, it is understood, will be undertaken by an American hotel chain headquartered in New York. Principals of the U.S. company are coming to Victoria soon to discuss their plans.

The general concept of the development is to build a luxury hotel of possibly 500 rooms along with banquet and meeting rooms and to make it the finest hotel on the Canadian west coast, far surpassing anything in Vancouver. A marina development is understood to be part of the plans.

No starting date has been set yet but negotiations are under way with present tenants of the old roofing plant buildings, including the boat-building firm of Pelagic Construction and Design Ltd., on termination of leases.

Restaurant Men Launch Tax Fight

A postcard protest campaign has been launched against the five per cent sales tax on restaurant meals costing over $1.

Announcement was made today by William Webb, president, Victoria and Vancouver Island Branch, Canadian Restaurant Association, following the group's annual meeting.

About 48,000 prepaid postage cards have been distributed to CRA restaurants throughout the province encouraging customers to write to their MLA protesting the tax.

Printed on one side of the card are the questions: "Why is it necessary to pay tax on food consumed in a restaurant and not when taken out?" and "Why is a $1.01 meal considered a luxury and only a necessity at 99 cents?"

RAISED IN 1954

A three per cent provincial tax was first levied on restaurant meals July 1, 1948. It was raised to five per cent April 1, 1954.

"The B.C. region of the CRA submitted a brief to the legislature about this three years ago," said Mr. Webb.

"People buy groceries—even cooked food—and are not subject to tax. We feel food, whether consumed in the home or a public eating establishment is essential to one's health and welfare.

"We don't feel that an unfair tax policy should penalize a person, who through any cause, eats away from home."

Baby Death Rate For Province Hits New Low

B.C.'s baby death rate is at an all-time low this year, Health Minister Eric Martin said today.

Latest health department figures show the rate to be 22.7 deaths per 1,000 births for the first 10 months of the year.

This is the lowest rate in Canada, and the lowest ever achieved in B.C.

"This disproves the accusations regarding the infant mortality rate and unnecessary deaths made a short while ago," Mr. Martin said.

He was due to discuss these accusations, among other things at a meeting later today with representatives of the B.C. Hospital Association.

B.C.'s death rate in 1962 was 23 per 1,000.

The Canadian average was 28.

Allegations that the B.C. rate was too high were made by Dr. R. E. Adams, medical director of St. Joseph's Hospital at a hospital association convention in November.

'Improper' Election On Agenda

A special meeting of Central Saanich municipal council on Tuesday will discuss whether a member was improperly elected a week ago.

Reeve R. Gordon Lee said today the meeting, called to clear up year-end business, "undoubtedly" would discuss the election of Ray Lamont, who in Mr. Lee's opinion was connected with a "flagrant violation of the rules."

Recourse to a court of law is the only avenue open to anyone formally disputing the election.

But it is still too early to say whether council or any individual will petition a court, the reeve said.

Critics of Mr. Lamont's election say a circular letter mailed to voters on the day of the election constitutes a breach of legislation.

Mr. Lamont takes the view that members of the existing council, all of whom favored a new municipal hall, are getting even with him because he opposed a hall.

AUTHOR OF 'RENEGADE' ON VISIT

Expert Predicts Cabinet Shuffle

A federal cabinet shuffle in the Christmas parliamentary recess and a general election within 18 months were predicted here today by controversial Ottawa correspondent Peter C. Newman.

The 34-year-old author of the Diefen-breaker book "Renegade in Power" (excerpts now in series form in the Times) said the general election will be caused either by Prime Minister Pearson calling it or by Mr. Diefenbaker forcing it by obstructing the business of the House.

Mr. Newman did not think the House would fall over any specific controversial item of legislation.

He said Prime Minister Pearson may choose to call an election because he feels as long as the "discredited" Diefenbaker heads the Opposition Liberal chances of winning are better.

Mr. Diefenbaker may force it because he will be 70 within 18 months and "knows he can't ask then for a five-year mandate."

GORDON TO MOVE?

Mr. Newman's vision of the future sees Mines and Technical Surveys Minister William Benedickson, Postmaster-General Azellus Denis and Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier dropped from the Pearson cabinet.

And he sees the imminent transfer to other posts of Finance Minister Walter Gordon and Health and Welfare Minister Judy LaMarsh.

Mr. Newman says his book Renegade in Power is selling 1,000 copies a day. He is Ottawa-born, educated at Upper Canada College in Toronto and at University of Toronto where he earned an MA in economics.

PETER NEWMAN
. . . Tories furious

The book made Diefenbaker Tories furious, said Newman. Mr. Diefenbaker has never named the errors he said existed and says he has never read beyond the first few pages.

BENNETT "VILLAIN"

"But I have good sources who say he has read it three times," Mr. Newman adds.

What does Mr. Newman hear in Ottawa about B.C. politics.

"People there think Premier Bennett is the villain of Canadian confederation because of his demands at the federal-provincial meetings.

"If his demands were met, the federal government would be reduced to issuing postage stamps"

Eight Chinese Immortals —Embodiment of Happiness

By PENNY SAVER

If you know anything of Oriental creeds and customs, you will possibly have heard of the Eight Immortals, Pa Hsien, of the Taoist religion.

These are one of the most popular subjects of representation in China. The term "Eight Immortals" is figuratively used for happiness, and in them we see the embodiment of the ideas of perfect but imaginary happiness which possess the minds of the Chinese people.

Each immortal symbolizes a goodness and is seen carrying some magical emblem.

The Eight Immortals are available in wooden or soapstone carvings and price ranges from $2.50 to $17.50.

They can also be found made of silk as decoration on waste-paper baskets which are made and imported from Peking. Baskets are priced at 95 cents and $2.50.

Another popular Chinese symbol is the Phoenix and the Dragon.

"These," explained the proprietor of shop I was in, "stand for the Empress and the Emperor and when a baby is born the parents try to get something with either of these symbols, depending on the sex of the child."

These symbols are usually found against a bright orange background on Dragonware china.

Typical Oriental pieces of this china are sold in the shop. Rice bowls are priced at 55 and 60 cents; plates at 35 and 45 cents; spoons, 25 cents, and teacups at 30 cents.

Christmas cards printed with Oriental scenes are sold for 25 cents. Cards have the Chinese inscription on the front and the English one inside.

If you would like to know where Penny shopped for these symbols of Oriental beliefs, call 382-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Reader Recorded Her Own Ideas To Live By

The following are some ideas sent to me by a reader. The letter says:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"The article written by you the other day interested me very much. I am 74 years old. I am enclosing my pamphlet written by me for myself. If, as you say in your column, 'An older person is the same as he has always been, only more so,' then the younger generation should get busy developing their personalities with the future in mind."

Lowman

The following are some things this reader wrote to herself.

"1. Don't feel sorry for yourself. It is depressing. Remember there is always someone else worse off than you are.

2. Don't crave too much attention from your children. That makes them feel trapped and uncomfortable.

3. Learn to give love to those who need love and don't get it through visits to shut-ins, orphanages and hospitals. It will mean a lot to them and it will keep you young because you will feel needed.

4. Take care of your health and face. Fight old age as a disease.

5. Take care of your memory by repeating things you need to remember, especially at night before you go to sleep. Always put things away in the same place. You will remember because of repetition. You will be surprised how much this will help.

6. Be interested in books, current events, music and lectures about new things and new ideas. Try to remember jokes.

7. Fun and laughter bring folks together. Be gay. Have fun with others.

8. The past is gone. Enjoy today as a special gift from God.

Clock was turned back Wednesday evening when some members of Victoria Branch of the British Columbia Historical Association, attended the annual Christmas dinner in suits and dresses worn here many years ago. Among them were, from the left: Major H. T. Nation, Mrs. Gerald Welburn, Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. H. B. Nash and Mr. Welburn, president of the branch. Theme of the gathering was "Victoria's First Christmas Dinner."

Dinner Party in Old-Time Theme

Dignity and charm of an earlier era combined with friendship and fun of the present to create a memorable event in the annals of Victoria Branch, B.C. Historical Association, Wednesday evening in the Douglas Building cafeteria.

It was the annual Christmas gathering of the branch and the theme was "Victoria's First Christmas Dinner."

Atmosphere of yesteryears was created by feminine members, who wore elegant silk and satin period gowns and Paisley shawls. They carried fans and reticules. Men attended too, in frock coats and high cravats.

A sit-down supper was served at tables decorated with fir greens, salal and Oregon grape, snowberries and candles in antique silver candelabra, just as they might have been decorated at a long ago Christmas dinner.

A lighted coal oil lamp on the piano added its own touch of atmosphere.

Branch president Gerald Welburn presided, and seated with him at the head table were Mrs. Welburn, Dr. Douglas Leechman, immediate past president, and Mrs. Leechman; Mrs. O'Reilly and her son John O'Reilly; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Colby, Mr. and Mrs. H. Sweeney and Miss Violet Ross.

Mr. Welburn welcomed the gathering and gave a short talk on the first Christmas dinner held in the Hudson's Bay Fort Camosun here in 1843. His authentic description was found in letters written by the chief trader and builder of the fort, Charles Ross.

Great-granddaughters of the trader, Mrs. Colby, Mrs. Sweeney and Miss Ross, listened with interest.

Old-time carols were sung with Miss Joy Elliot at the piano. The evening concluded with a modern film on the big game of British Columbia, photographed by Mr. Colby for the B.C. Government.

Past president James Nesbitt expressed thanks of the gathering to those who took part in the program.

In charge of arrangements were Misses Nell Wyles, Ruth Jones, Marjorie Holmes, Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, Mrs. C. F. F. Faulkner, Mrs. E. G. Hart and Messrs. H. B. Nash and D. F. B. Bullen.

Receipts of Hospital Shop Doubled

Mrs. John Pennington, convener of the mobile and gift shop, reported the doubling of receipts when the Junior Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital met recently. Shop is now located in the foyer of the hospital's new wing.

Increased business has resulted in three shifts having to be kept so that the shop remains open from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on weekdays and 2 to 5:30 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. K. J. Norgaard is in charge of mobile shop which visits hospital wards daily.

It was announced that the Thrift Shop, operated by the auxiliary at 585 Johnson Street, is in need of large paper bags, clothes pins, good used clothing and old-fashioned clothes that sell for theatrical costumes.

Plans were made to decorate 40 Christmas trees throughout the hospital on Monday, Dec. 23. University of Victoria students, under auxiliary leadership, will trim trees in the children's ward.

Miss Marjorie Bradley, member of the hospital's medical social services, attended and expressed thanks for financial assistance given her department.

Mrs. Fred Bartholomew reported ten visits and one transportation to hospital made by the visiting committee which is now preparing flowers for Christmas distribution to patients.

Mrs. W. A. Trenholme reported on recent Christmas bazaar.

Christmas Day will be as grim as any other for uncounted thousands of the destitute in the slums of Seoul and Mokpo, Korea. To help the most indigent, milk and barley is distributed in the name of Canada through the Unitarian Service Committee. USC is appealing for 310,000 Friendship Dollars to carry on with 70 major projects of world relief. Donations are being received at The Times.

Brilliant Decor at One of the Biggest Parties of the Season

It was a glittering scene that greeted more than 400 members of Victoria Women's Canadian Club, Wednesday afternoon, when they gathered in the Crystal Ballroom of the Empress Hotel for one of the biggest parties of the Christmas season.

The long tea tables were brilliant. Large red candles gleamed in settings of cedar boughs, red-berried holly, scarlet bows and gilded pine cones. Added to the same decor on the head table were exquisite arrangements of white chrysanthemums, snapdragons and holly. The latter were a gift from a past president, Mrs. Gordon Wismer, presently away on holiday.

A similar flower arrangement, donated by Shirley McAree, was on the grand piano and a huge Christmas tree, aglow with baubles, added the final festive touch.

Decorations were by Mrs. H. H. Youson, assisted by Mrs. H. H. Henderson and Mrs. A. B. Young.

There was a touch of the old-fashioned Christmas in the hour-long musical program, given by Pierre and Grace Timp. Accompanied by his wife, Mr. Timp sang well-loved pieces from many countries. To add to the musical treat, Mrs. Timp played masterly piano selections that had the huge audience hushed in admiration.

Mrs. George R. Pearkes, the club's honorary president, was honor guest at the head table at which Mrs. F. M. Corbett presided. Another honor guest was Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, honorary vice-president.

Other guests at the head table included many of the club's past presidents who were introduced by Mrs. Corbett in rhyming couplets. They were Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah, Mrs. H. L. Campbell, Mrs. T. H. Johns, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. Alan J. Campbell, Mrs. Kenneth C. Drury, Mrs. H. L. Smith, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. R. G. McKee and Dr. Olga Jardine.

Also at the head table were first vice-president, Miss Elizabeth Forbes; Mr. and Mrs. Timp, Miss Mary Ashworth, Mrs. Dorothy Wrotnowski and Mrs. Pat Dufour. Miss Forbes was program convener.

Many, many cups of tea were served by those presiding at the various tables. They were Dr. Jardine, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mme. Lugrin Fahey, Mrs. W. F. Pinfold, Miss J. E. M. Bruce, Mrs. T. C. Evans, Mrs. P. J. Sinnott, Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Mrs. J. C. Matheson, Mrs. A. H. F. Stelck, Mrs. W. G. Flett, Miss Hetty A. Evans, Mrs. Clara Wellwood, Miss Louella Crawford, Mrs. R. T. McDougall, Mrs. J. R. Howard, Mrs. P. J. Mulcahy and Mrs. H. G. Ellis.

A veritable army of hostesses helped to keep the huge tea party running smoothly. They were Mrs. H. S. Grove, Mrs. L. W. Topham, Mrs. A. G. Slocomb, Mrs. W. Burnett, Mrs. H. Summers Clark, Mrs. Douglas Leechman, Mrs. J. Routledge, Miss Jessie Gordon, Mrs. P. C. Fergusson, Mrs. George Ewart, Miss Margaret Staines, Mrs. W. J. Women's Editor — Elizabeth Forbes

Now an orderly at St. Joseph's Hospital, Mr. Forrester is still grateful for "a magic moment" during the Second World War.

'THE DAY I REMEMBER'

A Gift From the Enemy

By PAT DUFOUR

An unknown German soldier dier gave Len Forrester "the Christmas I'll remember all my life."

It happened at Rimini in Italy "in the 1940s" when Mr. Forrester was with the Canadian Army.

"Our boys were in a trench (they looked as if they might have been irrigation ditches) and the Germans were in one just the other side.

"We were so close that we were lobbing hand grenades to and fro all the time. This was Christmas Eve."

He describes the landscape as stark "except for a haystack, 250 yards from us on the German side."

Night came and still the barrage kept up. "Suddenly," recalls Mr. Forrester, "time stood still.

"From that haystack, came the lovely sound of "Silent Night" being sung in German. By the sounds, we could tell that the singer was young and a tenor.

"Somehow or other, that German soldier had managed to climb, unnoticed, to the top of the stack. There he stood, singing the message of Christmas to the skies."

Mr. Forrester has a far-away look in his eyes as he tells how soldiers on both sides, listened, spell-bound by the familiar carol.

Then, the spirit of Christmas transcending the business of war, both sides joined in a feast of carols.

"It's hard now to figure out how long we sang. But, looking back it seems as if it were for hours."

Then, just as suddenly as it had begun, the music stopped. "There was a moment when we caught our breath, then the fighting began again."

Mr. Forrester tells how, soon after, the push began with Canadian soldiers swamping the former German trenches and forcing the enemy to retreat.

What happened to the German tenor? "I wish I knew," confesses Mr. Forrester. "I'd like to think he was saved. He gave us a Christmas we'd never have had otherwise."

Georgetown Home For Mrs. Kennedy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (UPI) —Mrs. John F. Kennedy has chosen as her new home a 12-room colonial-style house in the swank Georgetown section of the capital, only blocks from where she lived with her husband in a happier day.

Complete with an elevator, an outside patio, and a view of the Potomac from a rooftop "captain's watch," the house was listed for sale at $190,000. The exact sale price, however, was not announced.

A spokesman for Mrs. Kennedy said Wednesday that she and her two children, Caroline, six, and John Jr., three, would move into the house next month.

The house was purchased from James M. Gibson, a retired investment broker. Gibson originally listed the house for sale at $350,000 but recently lowered it.

Built around 1794, Gibson said the mottled brick building is believed to be Georgetown's second oldest house. It has seven bedrooms, cathedral ceilings, and foot-thick walls.

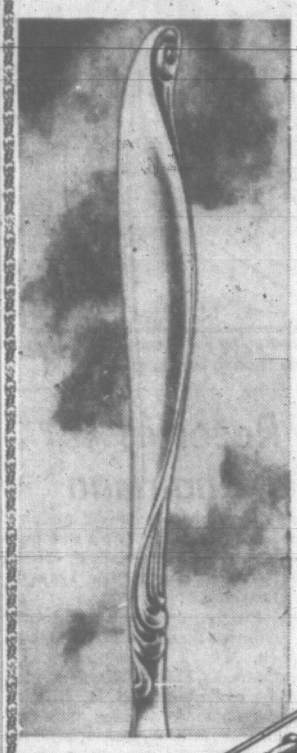

The first floor drawing room opens out on to an enclosed patio. To the right of the centre hall is the dining room. Behind it is the kitchen and servants' quarters.

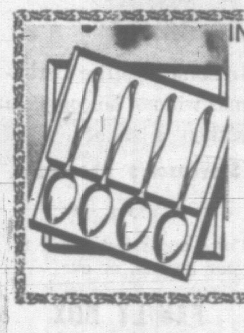

In the White House yesterday, president Johnson signed legislation giving Mrs. Kennedy secret service protection, along with free mailing privileges, and office help.

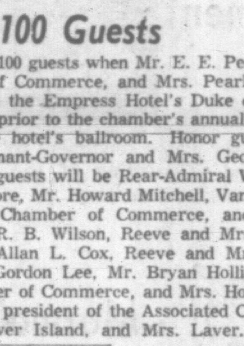

Under the bill, secret service agents will be available to protect the Kennedy family for as long as two years. The mailing privileges were for her lifetime.

IODE Chapter Helps Needy

It was decided to give two Christmas hampers to local families and send a parcel to the English widow of a man who had fought with Canadian troops in the First World War when Royal Roads Chapter, IODE, met in the home of Mrs. M. Zabel for a "pot luck" supper and meeting.

Mrs. D. Leong, services at home and abroad, reported that 12 nursery bags and clothing was ready for shipment overseas. She also announced that six shirts had been bought for older boys at the Juvenile Detention Home. Mrs. E. P. Angus reported Christmas presents sent to two patients at Veterans' Hospital.

Miss Helen Rattray, education secretary, said that books had been sent as Christmas gifts to the chapter's two adopted schools as well as IODE calendars and "British Columbia, the Beautiful". Subscription for National Geographic Magazine had been renewed for Minstrel Island school.

Mrs. J. C. F. Blowey announced plans for chapter's sponsoring of the Wynne Shaw dance review in late January.

DEAR ABBY . . .

He's Always In the Drink!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who has recently been shown a lot of attention by a doctor. (He has never been married, and is considered quite a catch.) I enjoy his company and am flattered with the attention he's been giving me; but here is the problem. When we are out socially, he drinks like a fish. You can't tell a 56-year-old man that you refuse to ride with him when he's been drinking, so I just close my eyes and go. Is there a diplomatic way to handle this, Abby?

LUCKY

DEAR LUCKY: Lucky is right! If you like his company and he drinks like a fish, tell him you would be glad to swim with him, but you don't want to ride with him. Suggest he call a taxi when he's had a few. If he refuses let some other "lucky" lady have him.

DEAR ABBY: This may seem like a silly question, but I am 15 and would like to know if a girl is supposed to say thank you when a boy or man opens a door for her. Or should she just accept it as something they are supposed to do?

JUST ME

DEAR ME: Even though a courtesy is expected, it should always be acknowledged with thanks.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had a double-ring ceremony when we were married, only he never wears his ring. Once he said he lost it, and as soon as I told him I'd buy him another one he found it somewhere. Another time he came home with his ring in his wallet. He is always making up some excuse for not wearing his wedding ring. I don't believe a word he says. I got mad and told him if he wasn't going to wear his wedding ring, I wasn't wearing mine, either. I took mine off and haven't worn it in a week. We have two children and I know it doesn't look right, but do you blame me?

NO RING

DEAR NO: Two rings don't make a right. Put your wedding ring back on and find out what there is about your married life that makes your husband like to pretend he is single.

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIV: If you thought your boss was out of line, you should have either put him in his place, or given him your notice. What did you expect your husband to do? Go to the office and knock his block off?

Cinder Track Backed

Tentative approval has been given for a cinder track for Oak Bay secondary schools.

A committee has approved the project and recommended it to Greater Victoria School Board.

Trustees' buildings and grounds committee endorsed the proposal made by Victoria Gyro Club with support from Oak Bay Junior and Senior Secondary Schools. They are situated on adjoining land between Cadboro Bay Road, Cranmore Road and Armstrong.

The club proposes to give $7,500 to add to $8,200 raised by student fairs at the senior school.

Trustee David Logan opposed the plan and promised a fight when the recommendation comes before the board Monday.

He fears the loss of a playing field in order to fit the track into available land, and that committing scarce land to such a purpose will hinder future school expansion.

CRIMINAL

"It is criminal to destroy a playing field of any kind," Mr. Logan said. "The cost would be utterly ridiculous if it means the loss of a soccer field at the junior secondary school."

He suggested a dual-purpose infield for the track, that would permit both soccer and rugby to be played.

(School principals and staff have agreed already to share equally all playing field facilities of both schools.)

"The playing field situation for the future at these schools is very dim," Mr. Logan pointed out. There is no undeveloped land available for school expansion.

Buildings and grounds superintendent R. Hamilton Smith said by education department standards the schools have less than half the desired land area.

PRESSURE ALLEGED

Mr. Logan said he was not assured of popular demand for a track and that pressure by individuals is involved in its promotion.

The committee was satisfied a track can be installed on existing land, although it means the loss of a soccer field. The board will be asked to assume upkeep once the track is built, amounting to $1,000 a year.

Estimates for construction of the facility range between $15,000 and $50,000, all of which would be borne by the club and student fairs.

CANADIAN PRESIDES OVER NATO COMMITTEE

PIPED GOODWILL

Frigate Brings Christmas Here

The navy will pipe Christmas music over HMCS Glasgow's public address system in the Inner Harbor as part of a Yuletime goodwill gesture.

It is planned to dress the frigate with perimeter lights and have the traditional evergreen at the masthead.

A navy spokesman said the band of HMCS Naden is tape recording a program of seasonal music for the occasion, Dec. 19-20.

There was no intention of having a choir of seamen singing carols as deplored by one anonymous sailor, he said.

The seaman had stated, "I think it's a damned poor idea. We've got better things to do with our time."

DRUG-PRICE MOTION ANGRILY WITHDRAWN

OTTAWA (CP)—Frank Howard (NDP—Skeena) angrily withdrew his Commons motion Wednesday for tabling of government correspondence dealing with prices of new drugs.

He said Justice Minister Chevrier had set so many reservations on what papers could be published that his motion "means nothing now."

MUST BE POOR —NO BEER

JAKARTA (Reuters)—Indonesia has lifted the ban on beer for Papuans in West Irian formerly Dutch West New Guinea because it was affecting Indonesian prestige.

"The Papuans started saying that Indonesia must be a poor country because it had no beer so we had to lift the ban," a government official said Wednesday.

Strong British Forces Block Sukarno's Drive

By DOUG MARSHALL

LONDON (CP)—Britain now has a major front-line force in the Far East to counter any sudden acts of agression by Indonesia's President Sukarno.

An unspecified number of V-bombers, recently reinforced and believed loaded with conventional bombs, stands ready in Singapore. With sophisticated radar jamming equipment, they could penetrate Indonesian territory at will.

Units of the Royal Navy are patrolling the coasts and rivers of North Borneo and Sarawak, effectively preventing any seaborne landings by Sukarno.

A 7,000-man jungle trained security force, although overextended and entirely on the defensive, is strung out along Malaysia's 970-mile land border with Indonesia.

But for this force, correspondents report back to London, Sukarno's guerrillas would have succeeded in occupying North Borneo by now. As it is, their attacks are growing stronger and more frequent.

SEEMS BOGGED DOWN

In the face of the British military buildup, Sukarno's direct confrontation policy with Malaysia seems to have bogged down. Yet there are fears that his own volatile temper and Indonesia's deteriorating economic situation may lead him to attempt a "lightning war."

Such an attack could only come by air and the obvious target is Singapore with its vast military installations. Indonesia's 30-odd Russian-built Badger bombers have been ominously buzzing Malaysian ports and harbors in recent weeks.

But correspondents say Sukarno now has lost the element of surprise. His likely alternative tactic will be to try to suck the British forces into a prolonged guerrilla engagement in Borneo.

This is the sort of war that Britain fears most. It could last longer and cost more than the 12 - year struggle in Malaya. Without help from Australia and New Zealand—still uncommitted in Malaysia—the drain on manpower could prove decisive.

At present, British troops are fighting a shadow war in a savage terrain of mountains, primary jungle and unpredictable rivers. Communications are scant. Patrols are sometimes out for weeks, relying on supplies from helicopters.

Military authorities believe they can hold the line until the rains end in March. After that they're not so sure.

The army most fears that the Indonesian terrorists will break through and link up with a fifth-column force of Chinese and other groups within North Borneo who are hostile or indifferent to Malaysia.

The army describes its efforts as "a battle for the hearts and minds" of the people it is defending. The Dyak majority are wholly on the side of the defenders.

But a clandestine Communist organization is said to be building up among Sarawak's landless Chinese population and it is difficult to retain allegiances among the bewildered tribes in the hill country along the border.

To them Malaysia is a misty concept and Kuala Lumpur, Malayan capital of the federation, is 700 difficult miles away.

CITY ASKS STIFFER SENTENCE

MISSION (CP) — City council has asked Attorney-General Bonner to appeal the 10-year sentence of convicted rapist James Meeker and try for a stiffer sentence.

A council resolution asks that Mr. Bonner use "such authority as he may possess in an endeavor to rectify what appears to be a miscarriage of justice."

Meeker, who originally was charged along with his brother Kenneth in the slaying of 12-year-old Alice Mathers of Mission, pleaded guilty to having sexual intercourse with the girl before the slaying.

His brother, who confessed to strangling the girl, was convicted of capital murder and sentenced to be hanged March 17.

PRACTICE VARIES IN EUROPE

Some Leaders Balk at Guard

LONDON (AP) — President Kennedy's assassination caused many European nations to look carefully into the way they guard their own top people.

Some modifications undoubtedly will be made in the light of the Dallas tragedy, but these probably will be kept secret to make them more effective.

A survey conducted by The Associated Press shows that security practices differ widely from country to country.

The Soviet Union, France, Italy and Spain have tight protection systems, with large numbers of men on duty when their leading figures appear in public.

Go Among People

In Scandinavia, on the other hand, members of royal families generally go among their own people without any guards.

British practice and arrangements in the low countries fall somewhere in between, depending on the occasion.

Security officers stress these two facts:

—Any world figure can be killed if the assassin resigns himself to arrest and death.

—National leaders often are angered by measures taken to guard them. Crowds may be kept back so far that most of the enthusiasm welcomed on public appearances is lost.

Hats Over Brow

Among protective measures in use in Europe:

Soviet Union — Premier Khrushchev and other leaders are protected by a screen of security agents, usually with uncreased felt hats pulled well down over their brows, and volunteers wearing arm bands. Soviet security really begins at the frontiers. Great care is taken to keep out people the authorities fear might cause trouble. The police keep a check on all foreigners inside the country.

France — Despite strict precautions, security always has been difficult to insure in this country. Several attempts have been made on the life of President Charles de Gaulle. Now de Gaulle generally travels the 150 miles from Paris to his country estate at Colombey les Deux Eglises by helicopter instead of automobile. Surgeons are placed on a standby basis at hospitals along the way. He also is accompanied by a doctor equipped with a full surgical bag, including blood plasma.

Italy—Top Italian leaders are guarded closely. By some standards, security agents are rough in their handling of crowds. Pope Paul VI is protected by the picturesque 120-man Swiss Guard and about the same number of papal gendarmes. Beneath the pomp and fancy uniforms these men know how to handle security problems unobstrusively and efficiently.

Spain Careful

Spain — Generalissimo Francisco Franco and other Spanish leaders are protected by elaborate security precautions. Many public occasions have some religious connection and therefore are relatively easy to police.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark—The pattern here is different from most other places in the world. Members of the royal families are seldom guarded except for the sentries at the royal palaces. Police keep a closer watch on political figures.

West Germany—Security arrangements are efficient, but kept as unobtrusive as possible.

Britain—The greatest security arrangements are organized when politically controversial visitors come to London. On such occasions known subversives and political exiles are invited to spend a few days in Brighton or some other resort at government expense until the visitors have gone. Members of the British Royal Family and government leaders usually move among the people accompanied by only one or two bodyguards.

Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—The situation is similar to the security precautions taken in Britain. Such measures are stepped up in Belgium somewhat during periods of tension between the country's two linguistic groups, the Dutch-speaking Flemish and the French-speaking Walloons.

Turncoats Help Viet Nam Reds

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist guerrillas have overrun a Vietnamese government outpost 75 miles south of Saigon with the aid of two turncoat government militia men who were on duty at the post, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

Government losses in the Viet Cong attack on a Binh outpost were reported as 11 killed, including five civilians, and four wounded.

'PRETTY BOY' HUNTED AS CRIME GANG CHIEF

MONTREAL (UPI)—Provincial police today pressed the hunt for 23-year-old Victor (Pretty Boy) Levesque, the man they believe to be the leader of one of the most vicious criminal gangs in history of crime in eastern Canada.

Police arrested eight men Wednesday in connection with a series of robbery, rape and hijacking raids in Quebec and Ontario during the past year. They said they were still seeking Levesque and four underlings, and that when they got them they would have "wrapped up tight" the notorious "hooded gang".

Levesque, described as desperate and extremely dangerous, is sought in connection with two of the gang's alleged raids—holdups last fall in private homes in Ottawa and St. Hyacinthe, Que. Police said they believed him to be on Montreal Island, and hoped he would surrender voluntarily.

Anti-Colored Immigration Law Rapped by Calgary Indian Leader

OTTAWA (CP)—William Wuttunee, chief of the National Indian Council, said Tuesday Canada's immigration laws continue to discriminate against non-whites.

The Calgary lawyer, son of a Cree chief, told a press conference he is not impressed by arguments that racial and other discrimination have been removed from these laws and that anyone can enter Canada provided he has a skill or profession required in this country.

Mr. Wuttunee spoke to reporters shortly before he delivered the key address at a conference marking the 15th anniversary of the signing of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations.

He said immigration laws still were designed to attract European immigrants and to discriminate against non-whites, including Asiatics and West Indians. The argument that immigrants had to have a skill or profession to fit into the Canadian way of life was an "economic guise" that supported discrimination.

The ceremonies marking the anniversary of the Declaration of Human Rights were opened by Prime Minister Pearson on the sixth anniversary of his receipt of the Nobel Peace Prize.

GOAL TO BE REACHED

Mr. Pearson said that while the UN had agreed to the declaration, mankind had not been able to agree on a convention or treaty which would guarantee that human rights would be ensured.

"This is a goal which remains to be reached," he said.

Mr. Wutunee, head of an organization which represents most Canadian Indians, said Canada has need of an organization such as the American Civil Liberties Union to act as a watch dog on human rights.

The 35-year-old native of the Red Pheasant Reservation near Battleford, Sask., said Canada should open its doors to Tibetan refugees, West Indians, Asiatics and other non-whites.

"Like my forefathers of long ago welcomed the white man to these shores, we too can learn to be hospitable and open our doors," he said.

Mr. Wuttunee said Tibetan refugees could be settled in the Rocky Mountain area which was much like Tibet.

URGES FORGIVENESS

He also said Canada should show a spirit of forgiveness and grant executive clemency to Doukhobors now in jail in British Columbia.

Mr. Wuttunee criticized laws governing Hutterite colonies in Western Canada and called for their repeal. "These people must establish colonies where they are commanded by law instead of where they want to locate," he said.

Mr. Wuttunee, at the press conference and in his luncheon speech, also urged that the next director of Indian affairs should not be a man with a military background.

Any move to place Indian welfare and culture under provincial jurisdiction should not be taken without the approval of Indians.

Saanich Ponders Trash Collection

A questionnaire on garbage collection frequency may be included in Saanich water bills.

A number of letters have been received by Saanich council on the subject, some favoring weekly collection and some backing the present twice-monthly system.

Saanich health and welfare committee has been instructed to investigate the matter.

17 Fishermen Lost

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese fishing boat capsized in heavy seas off northern Hokkaido early Thursday and 17 fishermen are missing, the Japanese Coast Guard reported. A passing fishing boat rescued one crew member.

DON'T SPLIT N.W.T. IN TWO, OTTAWA URGED

OTTAWA (CP)—Another plea came from the Northwest Territories Wednesday, asking the federal government to forget about splitting the region into two districts.

Brian Pearson, one of three private businessmen in Frobisher Bay, appeared before the Commons committee on mines, forests and waters as a representative of the chamber of commerce of that town and said the bills that would divide the territories are undemocratic, unjustified and unfair.

TOP U.S. JOBS

Angry Old Men Refuse to Quit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Angry denials came from both branches of the U.S. Congress Wednesday at suggestions that elderly leaders step down to make room for younger men.

John W. McCormack (Dem., Mass), Speaker of the House of Representatives, was asked at a press conference whether he planned to resign the job that puts him next in line for the U.S. presidency.

"I am amazed that you would ask such a question," he replied. "Is there no limit to decency?"

Stalking angrily from the room, the 72-year-old Speaker suddenly turned and declared: "I was elected Speaker and I'm going to remain."

There also was a blowup on the Senate side involving the man next in line after McCormack, Senator Carl Hayden (Dem., Ariz.), 86-year-old president pro tempore of the Senate.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, issued a strong statement denying reports that Hayden planned to quit as president pro tempore with Mansfield taking his place as presiding officer and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem. Minn.) becoming majority leader.

Since Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson acceded to the presidency with the death of President Kennedy, there is no vice-president. Under existing laws, McCormack is next in line, followed by Hayden.

Insurance Firms Ask Greater Tax Consideration

OTTAWA (CP) — Ten Canadian-owned general insurance companies have called on the royal commission on taxation for special consideration so they can meet the competition of foreign-owned firms.

The 10, represented by Hon. Roland Michener, former Speaker of the Commons who now is a Toronto lawyer, asked that all general insurance companies incorporated in Canada be allowed to set aside tax-free reserves, with only the profits made available to shareholders being subject to tax.

Mr. Michener said that foreign-owned firms enjoyed an advantage because income from investment was credited to the parent firm in another country, and only the underwriting profit was involved in Canadian taxation. If these firms suffered an underwriting loss in any one year, it could be carried over against income in another year.

Canadian general insurance companies—there are 21 in the country—were smaller than their foreign-owned competitors and they faced a heavier risk element than other types of insurance firms. And with present tax treatment, they did not acquire the assets to offset extremely heavy losses.

Cuban Exile Aid Ends Next Year For 53,000

MIAMI (UPI)—The director of the Cuban refugee relief program indicated today that federal aid to exiles in Miami —now running at the rate of $2.5 million per month—will be ended sometime next year.

John F. Thomas, head of the U.S. refugee program, told a news conference the move "has no connection" with the current budget cutbacks ordered by President Johnson.

He said there are now about 53,000 Cuban exiles receiving relief in Miami. The assistance checks range up to $100 a month maximum for a family.

'Let Chinese In'

TORONTO (CP)—The United Church of Canada has asked the federal government to permit Chinese in Hong Kong to emigrate to Canada. Five church representatives proposed this week to Immigration Minister Guy Favreau that the church be allowed to sponsor 100 Chinese families from Hong Kong as a "pilot plan," a church statement said.

HAINES HIGHWAY WINTER MAINTENANCE

Costs $500 Per Car

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—It's apparently going to cost the Canadian government about $500 a car to keep traffic flowing over the Haines Highway this winter, the Anchorage Daily Times reported today.

The estimate was based on traffic figures given the newspaper by the Canadian Customs office at Mile 24 on the Haines Highway.

Canadian officials reported an average of fewer than two cars a day have been passing over the highway. Alaska had estimated earlier that $127,100 would be needed to keep the highway cleared during the five winter months.

In the past the state has maintained the highway yearround from Haines to the Army Pipeline station at Mile 48—six miles inside of Canada.

Most of the rest of the unpaved road—including a section over 3,493-foot Chilkat Pass—has been closed during the winter months.

This year state officials negotiated with Canada to keep the route open to provide a link with the southeastern ferry system and the Alaska Highway.

Canada agreed to participate on a trial basis. Under the agreement, state highway department crews are handling the operation—with Canada to reimburse the state for the cost.

Canadian customs said a total of 66 vehicles were logged into Canada at the Haines Highway station in November and 96 drove out.

They said 58 of these represented crew vehicles—the rest being traffic to and from the pipeline station.

SCOTTISH COW SETS RECORD FOR CANADA

REGINA (CP) — Getta of Beath, a 2½-year-old Aberdeen Angus cow raised in Scotland, has been sold for the highest price on record in western Canada for a female Aberdeen Angus.

William Thomson of Kelty, Fife, Scotland, brought the animal to Davis, Sask., two months ago from Scotland and Monday she was sold for $2,600 to Prospect Farms of London, Ont.

Getta was sold along with 26 other Scottish Aberdeen Angus cattle at a British Canadian breeders sale that attracted 500 persons from Canada and the U.S. and netted herd owners a total of $33,650.

Two Missing Trappers Found Alive

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Two trappers, missing since Dec. 1 in the treacherous country around Philip Lake in the Fort St. James area, were found Wednesday, exhausted, cold and hungry but otherwise well.

Paul Antoine and Frank Peter Dennis were found by two Indian trackers who set out on their trail.

The trackers said the men had given up hope and had turned back to their cabin when only 400 yards from a road that would have led them out of the wilderness.

The men, unfamiliar with the area, knew of the road but not its exact location.

The two had been the object of an intensive air-ground search—including a snowmobile—since they failed to rendezvous with a plane that was to have picked them up at Philip Lake Dec. 1.

Police said the trappers decided to walk out without waiting for the plane and lost their way. They said they did not know why the men had not waited for the plane.

They will be flown back to Fort St. James, 75 miles northwest of here.

Cultural Soul for Canada Gov't Aim in Centenary

By RONALD LEBEL

OTTAWA (CP)—The government hopes that the 1967 centennial celebrations will give Canada a cultural "soul" that now is largely lacking, Privy Council President Maurice Lamontagne told the Commons Wednesday.

He said Canada has made remarkable progress since Confederation in the economic and social spheres, but cultural affairs are lagging behind.

"It seems now that our country is waiting for an infusion of soul. This infusion can only be brought about by enriching and intensifying our cultural life, by augmenting our two main cultural streams and bringing them closer together."

The federal centennial administration was considering a wide variety of special events for 1967 to achieve this goal, in addition to lasting projects like buildings and parks.

Mr. Lamontagne said these events include travelling art festivals, a national symphony orchestra, two national theatre companies, a ballet group, films on Canadian history, floating exhibits, a youth Parliament and commissioning of works of art and history books.

The minister, responsible for centennial planning, spoke as the Commons approved the 1963-64 spending estimates of the Privy Council and the Emergency Measures Organization.

It was the third set of departmental estimates to be passed by the House this session, after the trade and forestry departments.

Members agreed to an unusual day-long sitting Saturday in a drive to prorogue the session Dec. 20. The remainder of this week has been set aside for consideration of the estimates of some of the 20 remaining departments, beginning with agriculture and the post office.

Hoot 'n' Rock Can't Compete With Singing Nun's Bouncy Tune

NEW YORK (UPI) — A young Roman Catholic nun with a happy voice has pushed rock 'n' rollers and hootenanny hotshots aside to become the Western world's newest recording favorite.

She did not intend to do so, and her success will not keep her from following her calling to be a missionary in Africa.

Soeur Sourire (Sister Smile), at the request of those who had heard her sing in a Belgian convent, went to a studio in Brussels and recorded a bouncy tune entitled "Dominique" with words she herself had written.

The record was intended to be given only to those who asked for it at the convent, but Philips Record Company officials were so overwhelmed on hearing the song that they persuaded Soeur Sourire to "let the world hear this voice."

Today it is the fastest selling single record in the United States and Britain and has provided a growing $100,000 nest egg for the missionary program of Soeur Sourire's order, the Dominicans. As of last Friday, the single and the LP album passed the 700,000-sales mark in the United States alone.

WON'T LEAVE

There have been rumors that Soeur Sourire will doff the veil to follow a singing career. The little nun, however, has started a course of intensive studies at Louvain University in preparation for her tasks as a mission sister in the Congo. She will leave Belgium early next year.

"Above all I want to reach young people and tell them in my own words about the joys of the religious life," said the nun, whose family name has never been revealed.

Sister Sourire's religious name is Sister Luc Gabrielle. She entered the Fichermont convent near Waterloo four years ago when she was 25, bringing with her a guitar decorated with white ribbons which she called "Sister Adele." She improvised little songs to entertain the other nuns and began trying them out on teen-age girls who take religious instruction at Fichermont.

The nuns had quietly loved Sister Sourire's songs but the teen-agers were wildly enthusiastic and begged the mother superior to have records made for Christmas giving. The mother superior gave Sister Sourire permission to visit several Brussels recording studios before the Philips recording manager agreed half-heartedly to make an "amateur" disc.

When the Philips men played back the recording made by the round-faced, bespectacled nun, they knew that a star had been born. The company offered a contract and Soeur Sourire signed it with the proviso that earnings should go to her order.

Sales of "Dominique," composed in honor of the founder of the Dominicans, soon topped 100,000 in France and Belgium alone.

"Dominique" has been issued here as a single and also as part of an album collection entitled "The Singing Nun." Inserted in the album are water color scenes of the convent painted by Soeur Sourire, who studied art before entering Fichermont.

HAPPY COMBINATION

The queston which many persons in the record industry are asking is: Why is a tune sung in French by a non-professional artist so popular in two nations where the language generally is not understood?

"I attribute the remarkable sales success to a happy combination of factors," Lou Simon, national sales manager of Philips Record Company in Chicago told UPI.

"Firstly, the uniqueness of the performance, a real-life nun who in her life of dedication expresses joy through a vibrant and particularly pretty voice," Simon said.

A spot check of dealers in New York indicates Soeur Sourire's popularity has spread throughout the city.

Sam Hildebrand, co-owner of S & L Appliance, said "Dominique" is the fastest selling item in his record department.

"I believe that the times have something to do with it," Hildebrand said. "Christmas is coming and people are in a more thoughtful mood. And her voice is different. It is not a great voice but it has appeal."

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Edward G. Robinson, the well-known cigar smoker, who also smokes cigarettes between the cigars, has been reading the warnings against cigarette smoking, but he tells me that he doesn't inhale either one . . . that he uses a holder for his cigars . . . and that he will probably continue because of his conversation with a doctor.

"It was after my so-called heart attack," he said, as we were having a snack at Gallagher's.

"My doctor saw me light up a cigar. He said 'You've been smoking all your life, haven't you?' I said I had. He shrugged, eloquently . . ."

Robinson proceeded to take a cigar from a leather case, place it in the holder, and light up. He was here promoting his next film, "The Prize," while en route to Washington to accept the Eleanor Roosevelt Foundation's Humanitarian Award, but he was happy to discuss doctors and smoking.

"I recently addressed 1,500 members of the American Medical Assn.," he said, "and told them that I wanted to become a doctor. However, I wound up, not with a scalpel in my hand, but a rod, and I killed as many as they did. I told them, 'You guys got a medical Cosa Nostra. One doctor says "You got so-and-so," and they all agree with him.'"

Robinson misses the days when he bought cigars in Cuba. Each trip there, he would tell the press, "I love this country. Why, all day long, I have Havana on my lips."

Eddie Fisher confirms that Liz Taylor is ready to talk divorce, but makes plain as far as making any property settlement, "I'm a man and I don't want any money." He hopes the divorce will be arranged "as quickly as possible" . . . (His half of Liz's 10% of the gross "Cleopatra" could some day, wow, run up to $3 to $5 million.) . . . The "thing to do" now in the Chic Group is see Charlie Chaplin's "City Lights" at the Plaza Theatre—a wonderfully hilarious and poignant masterpiece 30 years old (Syd Chaplin saw it twice). . . . Toots Shor's dining room "went Hollywood" about 11 p.m. recently. Was so crowded, it was easier for me to phone John Daly and Virginia Warren on the house line than push across the room to speak to him. (They do that at the Beverly Hills Hotel Polo Lounge.) . . . The Texas Set is expected to take over Wash'n Society in the spring, but friends think Jackie Kennedy's salon will be the smartest always.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Carl ("The Victors") Foreman and Columbia Pictures will next produce the film bio of Winston Churchill . . . ABC-TV wouldn't OK controversial comic Lenny Bruce for an appearance on a TV interview show . . . B'way Sick List: Kirk Douglas is back in "Cuckoo's Nest" after a laryngitis bout; Liz Ashley's been out of "Barefoot in the Park" with sciatica . . . Haile Selassie's son Hapti visited the Metropole, asked Gene Krupa about drum lessons . . . Gordon and Sheila MacRae may tour in "Here's Love" in the Janis Paige-Craig Stevens roles.

Paul Anka arrived from Europe after 4½ months, walked with his wife from the pier all the way up to 57th St. . . . Tony Perkins huddled with authoress Francoise Sagan about doing a play in Paris, when bringing it to B'way . . . Mme. Nhu sold the book, TV and film rights to her autobiography to a Paris firm . . . How Long Can Folk Boom Last?

"There is so much folk music being presented in a bad way that I can't see how the boom can keep up.

So many people are jumping on the bandwagon."

Speaking was a most charming lady who should know something about the phenomenon of folk music in Canada. If Mrs. Estelle Klein, president of the Guild of Canadian Folk Artists, doesn't know, no one does.

I asked her this week for some of the reasons behind the unbelievable increase in the popularity of folk music. Almost every third Canadian seems to be secretly twanging a guitar these days.

Take a look at hit parade charts across Canada if you doubt me. Groups like the Travellers, the Kingston Trio, or Peter, Paul and Mary woludn't have the same success five years ago.

"There's no doubt many of the hit parade numbers have borrowed from folk music," said Mrs. Klein. "They now use instruments they didn't have years ago. The 12-string guitar is just one."

But this popularity can also bring problems. "I see and hear shows that are called folk music but are a long way from it," sighed Mrs. Klein.

Converts

Has folk music, I wondered, won many converts from the land of rock 'n roll? "It's hard to say," said Mrs. Klein. "But I do know our number of local groups is growing."

Halifax, which recently started its own branch of the Guild, has about 55 members. And the West, although it may not have official branches, has a growing number of local folk societies.

"Our Guild," said Mrs. Klein, "was started for people who are in the field. But many members—myself included — can't play a note on anything.

Non-players, I found, can become associate members for $5 a year. This entitles them to the Guild magazine which comes out every two months and access to the Guild's library of records and books.

There is a way in which any Canadian, musical or not, can help, said Mrs. Klein. "There probably are not more than a dozen authoritative books on Canadian folk songs," she said.

"Maybe that is a big number for us," she added quickly. "But there are many songs I hope we don't lose in many parts of Canada. French Canada is a rich source. So is the west, and, of course, the east coast."

Because many people who play folk music don't read music, local songs are handed down from generation to generation with no one ever preserving the music in written form.

Suddenly some one asks, "Remember that tune so-and-so used to play. How did that go again?" Mrs. Klein and her Guild are determined to keep alive these reminders of our history.

And good luck to them.

Teen Smokers

Lynn Zayshley of Gordon Bell High School in Winnipeg, Man., responded to our column on teen-age smokers with this excellent letter. I hope it's read by delegates to the Federal conference on smoking and health.

Said Lynn: "I read your article. And since you asked for readers' opinions I'm writing to give you mine."

"It's no use telling kids what physical damage smoking causes and how many more years you could live if you didn't smoke. The only way they'll believe that is when they are 20 years older, coughing and short of breath, but not now."

"Most kids who smoke might feel more respected by the gang or more important or more noticed and adult (to them at least) but the public eye does not see it that way. If they only knew what a sight they present."

"The fact is, that if a teenager who smokes a pack a day didn't smoke he or she would be saving $183 per year (365 times 50 cents) and if that money were in the bank, in 10 years their account would be $183 times 10 or $1,830 plus interest."

"Think of all the lovely things other than cigarettes that money could buy."

"Whether or not the money for cigarettes is their own, their parents' or from other means, one day they will have to pay for cigarettes themselves. Then, when they will be hooked, they will realize where their money will be going."

One last word: Lynn does not smoke.

If you have a spare weekend or evening coming up, trot down to the library and borrow a new book called The Child Worshippers by Martha Weinman Lear.

Her book, published by Crown Publishers, Inc., has a fascinating message: parents have turned their children into status symbols, competing with each other. You'll find it intriguing reading.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia to Adrienne Petersen, age 11, of Salt Lake City, Utah, for her question:

How does a cat purr?

A purring cat is a living example of relaxation. If she is your cat, she manages to share her happy mood and bestow upon you the warmth of her furry affection. This, of course, is one of the many rewards for the proper treatment of pussycats. If you have missed these rewards, Christmas is a good time to adopt one of these charming pets.

A mama tiger can purr a soft lullaby to her sleeping cubs, and even the prowling puma can rest in the sun and rumble a purry song in his throat. Only members of the feline family can purr, and perhaps the best purrer of them all is the amazing little house cat. And her very best purring usually is done for her favorite human friend.

The purring machine is in a pussycat's throat. It is a built-in vibrator. If, when she is purring with relaxed affection, you place your hand gently on her furry throat, you can feel the soft throbbing of these vibrations. It is vibrations, of course, which cause the sound of your voice. Like you, the cat has a voice box or larynx for making conversation and other sounds.

The vocal cords in the larynx are strips of skin or membrane. When Miss Puss breathes out, she can force the air against these vocal cords and make them vibrate. The vibrations coming out through her mouth may be mumbling mews or loud meows, or, if she chooses, they can be wild and resounding yodels. All these sounds come from her true vocal cords.

Helps to Control Rodents

Below the true vocal cords are a set of false vocal cords. These can vibrate with a gentle buzz, but they cannot make loud sounds. When a cat purrs, she relaxes her true vocal cords and lets her breathing play softly against her false vocal cords. This produces the soft, sweet hum which we call purring.

Miss Puss is a person of character who never does things by halves. When she hunts, she is as tense as a miniature tiger. When she plays, she flings her whole heart into the game. When she rests, she relaxes even her whiskers. If she is both happy and relaxed, she purrs. And the little charmer is happiest when she can share her affection with a human friend.

Miss Puss is a loyal member of the family, always polite and clean. But the furry little cutie also likes to have a private life of her own. She loves to roam and hunt and keep a slanty eye on life in the wilds. In this role, she is our valuable ally in the war against the pesky rodent population. Aside from being a charming pet, the furry purrer helps to save our grains and other stores from destructive rats and mice.

Andy sends a 15-inch World Book globe to Roberta Schwoyer, age 12, of Allentown, Pa., for her question:

Does the earth shine like the moon?

The hazy atmosphere of the earth bounces back far more of its sunshine than does the cindery face of the moon. From out in space, it shines far more brightly than the golden moon. However, it shines only on the sunlit side, the half of the globe which happens to be facing the sun.

Venus and Mercury are nearer to the sun than we are. From these planets we would see the sunlit side of the earth at all times, and our globe always would glow as a golden orb. From Mars and the other planets farther from the sun, we would see the day-lit side come and go like the phases of our moon.

U.K. Artists Seek Own TV Channel

LONDON (Reuters)—A group of famous British writers, actors, producers and directors who think "creative talent should be allowed a much greater influence in the development of television" applied Wednesday to run a commercial television company.

Among the governors named to represent this "creative element" in their application for a contract from the Independent Television Authority to run one of the big four television program companies are actresses Dame Edith Evans and Dame Peggy Ashcroft, actors Sir Michael Redgrave and Peter Ustinov and playwright Christopher Fry.

The group, which calls itself the London Independent Television Producers Limited, has more than 100 associates, each of whom has agreed to present a given number of hours' programming for the company.

"We are looking for a marriage of creative ability with experienced management on terms of equal partnership," said film producer Sydney Box, chairman of the board of directors.

RED YOUTH PAPER SAYS

War Criminals in Canada

MOSCOW (CP)—The newspaper Komomolskaya Pravda, quoted today by the Soviet news agency Tass, claims "four traitors who executed innocent Soviet citizens" during the Second World War now are living in Canada.

The Moscow youth daily says three of the men are in Toronto and the other is living in Winnipeg.

One of the men was said to have "headed a bourgeois nationalist organization in Estonia in June, 1914, which arrested Communists and Komsomols."

SHOT WITHOUT TRIALS

"Scores of people were shot without trials on his orders," the story says. "He personally killed the Vilmaa sisters—Alida, 19, and Jutta, 15. Members of his punitive detachment dragged the girls into a wood, ravished them, and then he shot them with his pistol."

The paper says another of the four "shot to death 30 people in Kozlinichi village, the Ukraine, in the summer of 1942 and killed 100 more people in Povursk village in September of the same year. Together with other policemen he burned down Beche and Liski farms whose inhabitants died in the fire."

A third "criminal" now in Canada, the paper claims, was a "Catholic priest in Gedrai-chai village, who organized a punitive detachment in the first days of the Nazi occupation of Lithuania and himself passed death sentences on Soviet citizens in the name of God and fascist invaders."

The fourth, the paper continues, was former commander of the Kolkov district police in Volyn region, the Ukraine, and is said by Pravda to live now in Winnipeg.

"In the summer of 1942, he supervised the shooting of 2,000 Soviet citizens," Komsomolskaya Pravda states. "Evading responsibility, he fled to Poland where he took part in massacres of Polish citizens."

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

There are some of us who must have stood in the wrong line when they doled out talent. However, Sammy Davis Jr. was not one of the unfortunates. The slightly-built singer, dancer, impressionist, comedian, musician and human dynamo has more talent in his little pinky than most people have in their whole body.

Stephen

He was a smash in the hour-long BBC-produced special shown on CBC-TV Tuesday. The show featured no guest artists, no elaborate sets, no fussy production . . . just terrific television in a one-man act that gave full range to his vast versatility.

The producers of the show allowed him complete freedom and he took advantage of it to turn out a superb hour.

He sang some old favorites, did a routine sung to a background of a drum beat, a tap dance reliving vaudeville days and a swinging rendition of Birth of the Blues.

On top of this he twirled a six-gun with a dexterity which would make some cowboy heroes envious.

"Shucks," he said, "if I wasn't good at it I wouldn't have tried it."

Sammy also did his well-known impersonations of Frank Sinatra, Cary Grant, Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart and Dean Martin.

There were lighter moments when he kidded his race and the desegregation issue in the U.S. He threw away such lines as: ". . . two, four, six, eight . . . we don't want to integrate."

He set the mood early in the show when he warned:

"As I get warmer I take off my jacket to really relax. Then I look like Harry Belafonte. In fact there are some that say you can't hardly tell us apart."

He is an accomplished performer who has risen above what many would describe "great odds." He is an American Negro who embraces the Jewish faith. He married Swedish screen actress Mai Britt despite predictions it wouldn't last. The mixed marriage produced a daughter and, with an adopted son, the family are reported happy.

Earlier Sammy was felled by a tragedy when in the fall of 1954 a car crash caused the loss of an eye and several near-to-death days in hospital. But he rose above this to become one of the most exciting personalities in show business.

Sammy has the respect of people in show business because of his great versatility and dynamic personality. His one-hour "loner" show just added proof to the already known fact that he's all pro and one of the best in the business.

Adults Slow To Take Oral Vaccine

Most of the 45,000 persons who took Sabin oral anti-polio vaccine last month were school children, Greater Victria metro health board was told Tuesday.

Dr. John Whitbread reported that adult attendance was very poor, possibly due to an erroneous television program statement, later corrected, that Sabin oral vaccine should only be taken after receiving Salk vaccine injections.

"It doesn't matter in the least in which order they are taken so long as both types are received over a period of time," he said.

More supplies of the Sabin oral vaccine will be available in the early part of 1964 and further clinics may be arranged.

A survey of eight nearby Indian reservations by health board officials has revealed unsatisfactory conditions of water supply, sewage disposal and garbage disposal, the board was told.

Dr. Whitbread said his department is gravely concerned about the situation and plans to discuss the problems with the federal Indian agent and representatives of the Indian Health Services next month.

Nehru Party Suffers Humiliating Defeat

PANGIM, India (AP) — A party advocating the merger of Goa, Damao and Diu with neighboring Maharashtra State has handed Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party a humiliating defeat in the first free elections held in the former Portuguese enclaves.

Complete returns from Monday's elections gave the Congress party only one seat in the enclaves' 30-seat Legislative Assembly. The Maharashtrawadi Gomantak—or MG—party won 14 seats and both the enclave seats in the national Parliament in New Delhi.

The United Goans party, dominated by Roman Catholics and favoring separate status to preserve religious and cultural characteristics, won 11 seats. The other seats were won by independents.

Nehru pleaded for the voters to concentrate on economic development and decide later whether to seek full statehood in the Indian union or merge with Maharashtra.

The enclaves, seized by the Indian government two years ago to end colonial rule in India, have been administered by the central government in New Delhi. The MG is expected to form a government with the support of three independent legislators.

UN Urges Parley On Angola Future

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council voted 10-0 Wednesday for new direct talks between Portugal and the African powers on the future of Portuguese Africa. France abstained.

Russia went along reluctantly with a resolution sponsored by Ghana, Morocco and the Philippines placing emphasis on self-determination for Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea and urging Portugal to grant an amnesty to advocates of that course.

PORTUGAL RAPPED

The measures also "deprecates" failure to comply with previous Security Council action on the question of its overseas territories. The U.S., Britain, France and Brazil abstained in a separate vote on this provision but the affirmative votes of the other seven members carried it.

The resolution calls on all countries to comply with a ban, enacted by the council last July, on the shipment of arms to Portugal for use in its African territories. The Africans charge the Portuguese use arms supplied by its NATO allies to suppress the natives.

McKinley Outlines His Idea

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)— Wimbledon champion Chuck McKinley of the United States said Wednesday he is still interested in turning professional.

"But not on terms by professionals," he added.

He was commenting on a statement in Melbourne by the president of the International Professional Tennis Association, Frank Sedgeman, that McKinley would not turn professional after the Davis Cup challenge round in Adelaide.

"I was offered $60,000 by professionals for a three-year contract, provided America won the Davis Cup," McKinley said. "I wanted $75,000, no stipulations about the outcome of the challenge round, and few other conditions written into the contract."

He said he would listen to any offer but realized the association had to arrange an itinerary soon for the proposed tour of Australia and New Zealand in January.

WOUND UP IN JOB—Half-ton spring for use in an underground Atlas missile site serves as a resting place for inspector Robert Wilson as he completes test data on the spring at a Chicago Heights, Ill., plant.

Municipal Employee Dismissal 'Puzzle'

Laws concerning dismissal of senior municipal employees are "a continuing problem" and may be changed again, a provincial government official said Wednesday.

"It is important to see they have protection but they also have a peculiar relation to council," said the official, a spokesman for the municipal affairs department.

"We have been struggling to find the balance."

The problem was spotlighted earlier this week when B.C. Supreme Court judge Craig Munroe criticized the existing sections of the Municipal Act.

He upheld dismissal of a Surrey assessor by a two-thirds vote of the municipal council, though he criticized the procedure.

He said assessors faced political pressure to alter their assessments of property or be fired.

Government officials would not comment on the specific case of the assessor. But they did agree nobody is really happy about the law.

Present terms of the Municipal Act Appear somewhat vague, but allow council or its municipal manager to suspend employees. They can be fired by council under section 188 without notice for cause.

There have already been several attempts to rewrite the sections in question, the departmental official said—and there probably will be more.

U.S. Olympians Win

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The U.S. Olympic hockey team, led Dan Dilworth's hat trick, continued its tuneup campaign by whipping the Madison All-Stars 9-2 Wednesday night. The team now has eight victories, a tie and two losses.

Scalpers Dig Deep Into B'way's Pockets

Broadway theatre goers $10,000,000 a year, a state accountant has testified.

The amount is equal to nearly one-quarter of Broadway's gross receipts last season—$43,500,000.

Leland Hayward, a producer and once president of the League of New York Theatres, said he thought the estimate too low. He did not say what he thought the figure should be.

Hayward and the accountant, Edward R. Reuter, were among witnesses at the opening Tuesday of a two-day hearing being conducted by state Attorney-General Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Hayward and other witnesses urged licensing of box-office employees and state supervision of ticket sales.

An executive of the Columbia Broadcasting System, which financed the Broadway hit My Fair Lady, said the network had to pay $40 to $50 each for $7.50 tickets to it during the first year.

Reuter testified that he examined 1,200 subpoenaed records of nine banks, several textile firms and other companies and found that 79 per cent of them paid double or triple prices for tickets.

He said most of the purchases were made through New York ticket brokers.

Let UN Share A Control, Pauling Urges

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Dr. Linus C. Pauling, 1962 Nobel Peace Prize winner, suggested Wednesday night that the United Nations share control of all nuclear weapons to decrease the possibility of war.

The controversial scientist from Pasadena, Calif., made his proposal in his Nobel lecture at the Nobel Institute. Pauling, who won the 1954 Nobel Prize in chemistry, received his peace prize Tuesday for his long fight against nuclear arms.

He proposed joint national-international control system under which no nation could use nuclear armaments without the approval of the United Nations.

Pauling also called for the acceptance of Red China into "the world community of nations," adding, "to work for the recognition of China is to work for peace."

Denver's Jankowski Leads WHL Scorers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Denver Invaders increased their Western Hockey League lead to five points when they defeated San Francisco Seals 5-1 Wednesday.

At Seattle, the Totems walked over Portland Buckaroos 5-1 while Vancouver Canucks defeated the Blades 6-1 at Los Angeles.

Lou Jankowski took over the WHL scoring lead with his 17th and 18th goals. Other Denver goals were scored by Larry Keenan, Steve Witiuk and Bill Collins. Ed Panagabko saved the Seals from a shutout.

The smallest Seattle crowd of the season—2,300 fans—watched Guyle Fielder of the Totems score one goal and assist with two others by Bob Barlow. The other Totem goals were picked up by Bob Sabourin and Del Topoll. Portland's Tom McVie slipped the single into the Seattle net.

Vancouver pulled out of a 3-3 tie in the third period with goals by Bob Kabel, Bob McCusker and Dale Anderson.

It was McCusker's second goal of the game. Danny Belisle also scored two.

Two goals by Bruce Carmichael and singles by Norm Johnson and Willie O'Ree recovered for the Blades' scoring.

PCL May Schedule Games at Capilano

VANCOUVER (CP)— Mayor Bill Rathie of Vancouver says Pacific Coast League Baseball directors may schedule as many as 20 regular league games for Capilano Stadium here next season.

Mayor Rathie said the success of advance ticket sales would probably determine how many games are played here.

The stadium was the home of Vancouver Mounties before they were dropped by the PCL last year.

A TEEN-AGE CRAZE for books about horses has now moved on to collecting statuettes of the animals. Shown above is attractive Donna Mills, 13, of 2511 Quadra, a pupil of S. J. Willis School, with a collection of 35 horses. She started her hobby a year ago. She acquired the figurines from her parents and friends. Christmas will probably bring her a few more. Meanwhile, city librarians report there is still a heavy run on horse books.

Airline Fares Reduced Over Atlantic

MONTREAL (UPI) — Scheduled airlines operating across the north Atlantic today agreed tentatively on sweeping fare cuts ranging from $100 to $8 one-way.

The International Air Transport Association announced that the cuts effective April 1 were recommended by a top-level meeting of representatives of 19 airlines that ended today in Nassau, Bahamas.

They are subject to formal aproval by the head offices of the airlines concerned, and endorsement by their governments. An IATA spokesman said this was expected "very soon."

Under the Nassau proposals, the first class fare one-way between New York and London would be reduced from $475 to $375 in U.S. funds. Economy one-way fares would be dropped by $53 to $210 for all but 10½ weeks of the year, which represent the peak summer season.

Excursion fares would go down by $50 to $300 return. The present round-trip economy fare is $499.70 and the excursion fare $350, applicable between Oct. 1 and April 30.

The Nassau working group was set up after an IATA traffic conference in Salzburg, Austria broke up Oct. 27 without agreement.

ONTARIO MEDICARE INQUIRY

Groups Urge Wide Range Of Additional Coverage

By CARL MOLLINS

TORONTO (CP) — Health-care groups seeking inclusion in a government - regulated medical insurance plan in Ontario got a boost today from an organization that provides medical insurance now.

The Co-operative Medical Services Federation of Ontario told a public inquiry that residents of the province should have access to insurance covering a broad range of health care, including the cost of drugs, ambulance, appliances and nursing.

The federation, which groups 31 county co-operatives for medical insurance in Ontario, also indicated that a medical care plan should aim at covering the cost of health services provided by professionals such as chiropractors and optometrists.

Draft legislation being considered by the 14-member committee of inquiry would make available to residents of Ontario through private insurers a basic medical insurance plan with coverage confined generally to services rendered by physicians.

A parade of petitioners at Wednesday's session of the inquiry sought inclusion of coverage for services provided by psychiatrists, dental surgeons, visiting nurses, physiotherapists and Christian Science practitioners. The inquiry heard similar petitions last week in Windsor from chiropractors and podiatrists.

HEARS OTHER SIDE

The committee also has heard arguments against extending the basic insurance plan to cover the cost of drugs and psychiatry.

The Medical Services Federation brief objected to providing a regulatory body under the legislation with any powers beyond those of setting a maximum premium rate to be paid for the standard medical plan and of fixing the periods when people may enrol in the plan.

The federation also urged equal treatment for all insurers—commercial, doctor - run plans or consumer-operated programs—and all groups of citizens, including the elderly, the chronically ill and particularly the self-employed.

It also suggested that some of the money collected as premiums be set aside to provide bursaries for training doctors.

The Ontario Hospital Association said draft legislation for medical care insurance should be dropped if there is any danger of its cost cutting into the budgets of existing health programs supported by the government.

PLAN PREMATURE?

The OHA said the legislation for a voluntary, privately insured medical care plan may be premature.

"No health care plan more comprehensive than that which now exists should be introduced until it can be adequately financed without detracting from present health services," the association said.

The OHA referred to its role in providing hospital insurance, extended health care and group insurance for prescription drugs through the Blue Cross plan.

The OHA brief asked the committee to make certain that final legislation on medical insurance extends coverage to patients in hospitals for the convalescent or chronically ill so they can pay for doctor care.

A non-profit medical insurance organization attacked the government's draft medical care legislation as an attempt to eliminate non-profit groups in favor of commercial insurance companies.

'FACE ULTIMATUM'

A brief to the committee studying the legislation said that as the draft now stands, the non - profit groups "are faced with the ultimatum: Conform to the concepts of the insurance industry or be eliminated."

Associated Medical Services Incorporated, which describes itself as a voluntary, non-profit body established in 1937, protested that the government consulted only commercial insurance representatives and the Ontario Medical Association before introducing the legislation, as Bill 163, last April.

The AMS brief, presented by Managing Director Jason Hannah, criticized Bill 163 for neglecting to provide regulations for controlling costs, which it says is the primary responsibility of organized medicine, adding that the medical profession has "dodged its responsibility."

The AMS brief contends that the present legislation would permit commercial insurers to concentrate on covering chiefly the "low - risk" young and healthy at a profit, undercutting non-profit organizations which extend coverage to the "high-risk" aged and chronically ill.

It proposed amendments that would compel each insurer to offer the government-regulated standard insurance plan to all persons who hold any of his other policies or are obliged to drop a policy because of old age or similar reasons.

Water Failure Hits Operations at Trail

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—A failure in the water system Wednesday forced a major shutdown within the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company complex.

About 2,000 workers were laid off and strict conservation was being exercised on the water supply of the neighboring communities of Tadanac and Warfield.

The company said its pumping facility which takes water from the Columbia River would not be fully operative again for "a few days."

VALVE BLAMED

A seized-up valve in the facility forced stoppage of water to the two communities, with a total population of about 2,500, and to the company's metallurgical and chemical plants.

The plants were shut down, forcing the layoff of about 50 per cent of the company's work force of 4,000.

A company spokesman said he could not say when the plants will return to full production.

He said the failure "severely curtailed" the water supply of the two communities. There was water in reservoirs but some of this had to be maintained for fire protection. It may be necessary to shut off water to residents periodically, he said.

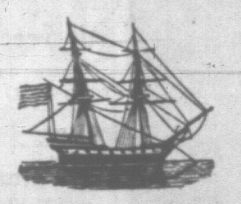

J. G. Flanagan, president of Local 480 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) said the men will not be paid during the layoff.

Chain of Bad Luck Runs On for Family

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI) —The tragic chain of events that started Nov. 22 with the assassination of President Kennedy continued this week for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groves, parents of the 27-year-old army captain who headed Kennedy's funeral honor guard.

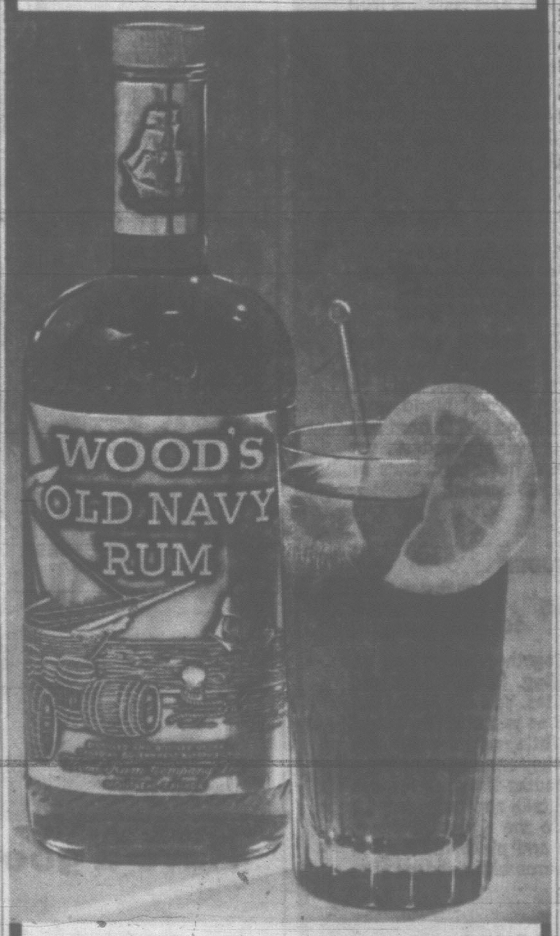

It was just a week ago Tuesday they were informed of their son's death of a heart attack at Fort Myers, Va. This Tuesday, fire swept their apartment and destroyed all the mementoes of Capt. Groves.

$21 MILLION BOOST

Mine Production At Record Level

B.C. mineral production soared to a record level this year, Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan said Wednesday.

Total value of all mineral products is estimated at $250,600,000, an increase of $21,000,000 over 1962, Mr. Kiernan said.

There were increases in the quantity of and value of copper, iron, asebestos, sulphur and oil products, Mr. Kiernan said.

In addition the price of silver rose substantially during the year.

It went from 116 to 137 cents a pound.

Mr. Kiernan said besides the record production, the mining industry this year has embarked upon a great deal of exploration in many parts of the province.

OIL JUMPS

The mining industry has altogether contributed more than $5,000,000,000 to the provincial economy, Mr. Kiernan said.

The biggest increase in production value this year has been for oil, up $8,000,000 to a record $25,400,000.

Copper production jumped $4,500,000 to $37,900,000; asbestos, natural gas, silver and sulphur were all up about $1,000,000 each over the 1962 production totals.

PREMIER WILL BACK PLEDGE WITH LETTER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett has agreed to write a letter confirming his verbal promise to match $250,000 grants pledged by the federal government and the city for an extension to the Vancouver aquarium.

Curator Murray Newman said this assurance received today from the Premier's office has saved the $850,000 project.

Philanthropist Rufus Gibbs who sparked the action by withdrawing a gift of $75,000 Tuesday, has agreed to suspend the withdrawal pending receipt of the letter — promised within a week.

Bounty Hunters Out of Work

EDMONTON (CP)—The days of the bounty hunter are over in Alberta.

Wednesday the provincial government removed a $15 to $40 bounty on cougars, the last wild animal on the bounty list.

Until a few years ago bounties were paid on wolves, coyotes and magpies.

Lands and forest department officials said the bounties were removed in the interests of good game management.

In 1962 bounties totalling $1,200 were paid to cougar killers and in 1948-49, when wolves and coyotes were still on the list the government paid a total of $75,000 in bounties.

DEADLINE FRIDAY

Mail Goes Through As Post Peak Nears

Check Address, Postage

By MARGE GILROY

Santa's helpers at Victoria Post Office are up to their elbows in parcels—but they are keeping up to their schedule.

Deadline for out-of-town parcels is Friday but postmaster Allan Davies reported the big surge came Monday.

He said there had been a steady increase in the number of parcels sent over the past two weeks, and on Saturday post office clerks swung over to their assembly line method of handling incoming mail.

Customers filed past the weigher and cashier at the rate of three a minute.

Peak business is expected to continue all week, but because of the early turnout the hiring of an additional 180 employees was deferred until to-day.

To help relieve the congestion at the post office part of the Bay Street Armory has been taken over for a parcel delivery station.

Bulk to Come

Mr. Davies reported cards are starting to arrive in large quantities but the bulk is still to come. Then next week boxes of holly will appear on the counter.

To ensure that your cards don't end up in the dead letter centre in Vancouver for burning:

Show a return address.

Check the correct address.

Put on sufficient postage.

And to ease the postal clerks duties sort cards into city and out-of-town mail, put into bundles and label.

Everything that isn't nailed down seems to be at the post office on its way to somewhere else.

All Sweetness

Where do the parcels all come from?

The odd one comes from you and me. But then there are people like Bill and Elsie Watson who have been working night and day, seven days a week, wrapping, tying and addressing over 1,000 parcels, all to be delivered before Christmas Day.

It's all sweetness to them as they send out their goodies from the English Sweet Shop.

One of Bill's best customers is a Mr. Stirling from Pocatello, Idaho.

He visited the Watsons 10 years ago as a tourist and the following Christmas sent a letter:

"Dear Bill — I bought a pound of your English mix this summer; could you please send me some more."

Enclosed was a cheque for $225.

It seems they're all chewing on English mix in Pocatello as Mr. Watson has received a similar letter every year since that first visit in 1953.

Just the Usual

Most of Mr. Watson's orders are from Americans ranging from as far away as Florida, New York, Alaska, Kansas and Hawaii.

A new mail order arrived this year from an Indiana school superintendent who requested 25 pounds for the children.

And then there are other letters which say nothing more than: "Dear Bill—Send me the usual."

If he can't remember the usual he has it on file.

Customer Is Right

Canadian orders, which come from as far away as Labrador, often include such notes as "send me some of my jam and tea." These requests mean a visit to another merchant but they all receive the same attention.

Bill is just one merchant in town, multiply his parcels by a few more merchants and you know who keeps the postman busy.

Last sorting of mail will be Dec. 23 and last delivery on the 24th.

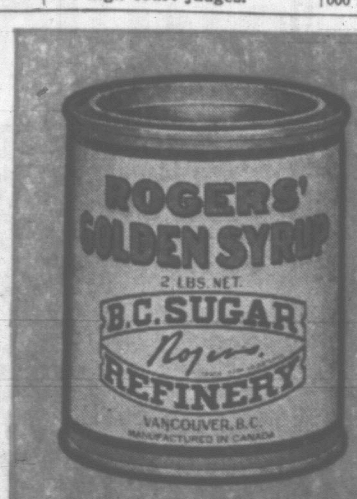

OVER 1,000 BOXES of candy are now on their way to distant points across the continent. Two weeks ago Bill and Elsie Watson of the English Sweet Shop started to fill their Christmas orders and they have been working night and day ever since to beat the Friday deadline. (Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Make these Christmas treats with Rogers Golden Syrup

There's nothing sweeter than Rogers Golden Syrup

ROGERS FRUIT CAKE

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup Rogers Golden Syrup
3 well-beaten eggs
½ cup ground almonds
½ cup chopped almonds
6 tablespoons orange juice
¼ cup chopped dark raisins
¼ cup chopped light raisins
¼ cup chopped glacé fruit (cherries, citron, orange, etc.)
2 cups all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon cloves

The day before baking, sprinkle chopped fruit with 4 tablespoons of the fruit juice. Leave juice to soak into fruit. Preheat oven to 300°F. Cream butter and sugar. Beat in syrup and eggs. Sprinkle fruit with ground almonds. Sift flour, soda and spices. Sprinkle fruit with enough spiced flour to make a dry mixture you can handle with your fingers. Add spiced flour to butter mixture alternately with 2 tablespoons fruit juice. Fold in floured fruit and chopped almonds. Bake about 2 hours in a six-inch pan 2½ to 3 inches deep (middle sized Christmas cake pan).

NOTE: Line pan with several thicknesses of greased brown paper or with foil. Fasten a jacket of brown paper, cardboard or newspaper around cake pan to help cake bake evenly.

DIVINITY FUDGE

2½ cups granulated sugar
½ cup Rogers Golden Syrup
½ cup hot water
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Few drops almond extract
½ cup chopped nuts, or preserved ginger

Boil sugar, ROGERS GOLDEN SYRUP, and water to 234-240°F, or until mixture forms soft ball when tested in cold water. Beating continually, pour ½ this hot syrup over stiff egg whites; blend well. Return remaining syrup to heat and boil to hard ball stage (255-265°F). Slowly pour over egg whites. Beat well and when thickening add flavorings, nuts or ginger. Pour into greased pan to harden.

BUTTER-PECAN CARAMEL-FUDGE

1 tin of condensed milk
2 cups brown sugar (well packed)
½ cup Rogers Golden Syrup
½ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
100 pecan pieces

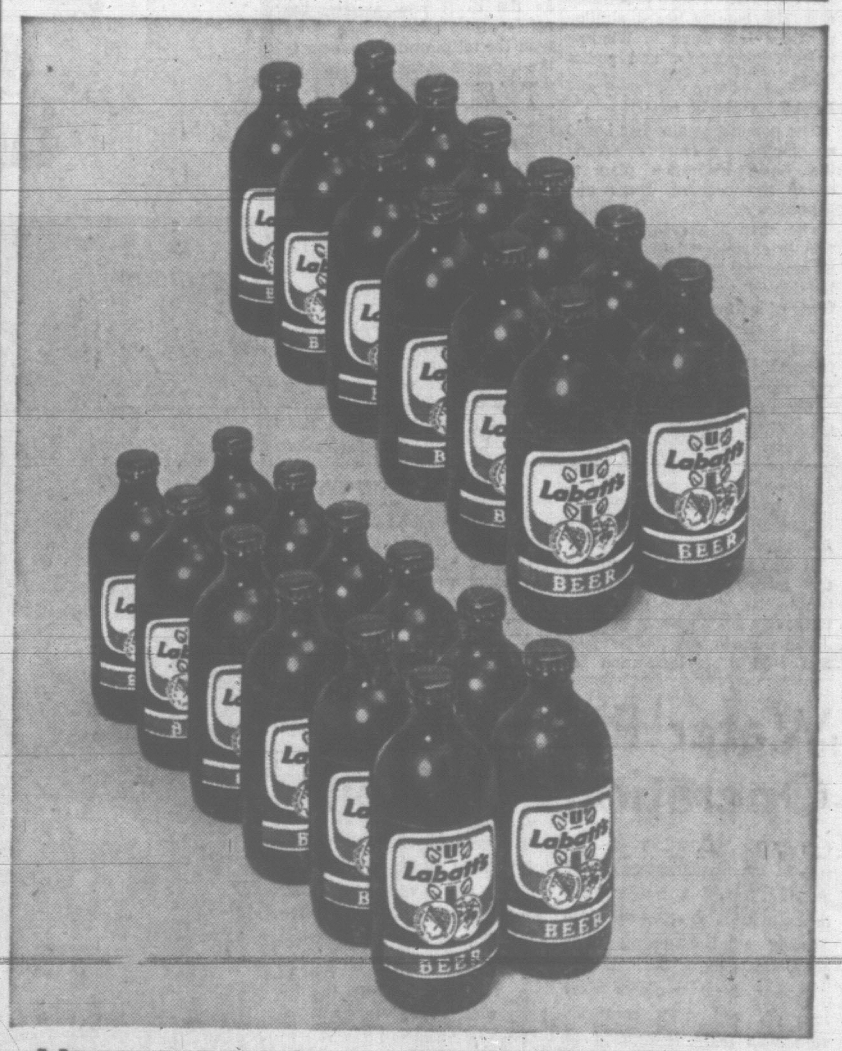

Stir first four ingredients together and place on medium heat. Stir until boiling. Reduce heat and continue stirring for 10 minutes. You will notice the color change to rich caramel as you stir. From time to time the candy may stick a little and you will notice brown bits but do not worry – they enhance the flavor. Continue stirring. After 10 minutes of boiling remove from heat. Add vanilla. It will take approximately 10 minutes to beat the candy to the right thickness. Pour into the buttered pan and place the pecans firmly on top. Cool. Cut in squares with a sharp knife.

ROGERS CHOCOLATE SUNDAE SAUCE

½ cup cocoa
½ cup water
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup Rogers Golden Syrup
½ teaspoon vanilla

Cook cocoa and water over low heat until well blended, stirring often. Add sugar. Boil 2 minutes. Add syrup and vanilla. Bring back to a boil. Remove from heat. Add vanilla. Delicious on ice cream.

Send for the new edition of Rogers recipes (all new recipes). Write to the B.C. SUGAR REFINING COMPANY, P.O. BOX 2150, VANCOUVER 1, B.C.

Disarming Won't Wreck Economy, Study Shows

OTTAWA (UPI)—General disarmament would have a minimum effect on Canada's economy, provided the government took accompanying steps to stimulate consumer demand, according to a privately-sponsored study released this week.

Gideon Rosenbluth, associate professor of economics at the University of British Columbia, estimated that a five-year disarmament program would cut no more than 1½ per cent from Canada's annual output.

Rosenbluth's study of the effects of disarmament on the national economy—admittedly incomplete—was sponsored by the Canadian peace research institute that suggests that they could be responsible for precipitating a major depression if uncompensated . . ."

He said it did not seem difficult to compensate for them by tax reductions and increases in government spending for non-defense purposes.

Rosenbluth contrasted his findings with a PRI survey which showed wide-spread fear among Canadian businessmen, and some labor leaders, that disarmament would result in a recession or depression in this country. He said there is evidence this fear has resulted in a lack of popular support for disarmament efforts.

Canada's annual defence budget now hovers around the $1.6 billion mark. Rosenbluth said United States imports of Canadian-produced defence goods were about $570 million in 1958. The highest rough estimate of purchases by all other countries from Canada is $67.8 million for 1962.

Both foreign and domestic demand give an estimate of 6.3 per cent of the gross national product, which he notes is substantially less than domestic demand in either Britain or the United States.

CO-OPERATION NECESSARY

To reduce the spiralling effect on the economy of a near-total cutback in defence spending, Rosenbluth said, the easiest step would be to reduce corporate income taxes in line with the defence cuts.

"Such reductions would promote spending by households and may stimulate some business expenditure for expansion of plant and equipment," he said.

He also suggested a program of re-establishment grants and related benefits for persons released from the armed forces similar to the program used after the Second World War. He said it might be extended to cover civilian employees of the defence departments and workers in industries dependent on defence contracts.

Federal-provincial co-operation would be necessary to expand education and medicare programs which would help take up some of the slack, he said.

He said the conversion or labor problem that would result in Canada was "trivially small" compared to the period following the last war.

"Given a modicum of advance planning, the maintenance of aggregate demand should present no difficulty," he added

All Rosenbluth's conclusions are drawn from present-day figures. The results would be different in future years or in the event that a greater portion of GNP devoted to defence.

AFTER TALKS WITH U.S.

France to Recognize Red China

PARIS (UPI) — France has agreed on terms for resuming diplomatic relations with Communist China but President Charles de Gaulle wants to discuss the issue with the United States gefore acting formally, authoritative sources said today.

De Gaulle wants to convince the Americans that France's intentions in setting up normal ties with Peking are "firm but wise," according to the sources.

The first U.S.-French exchanges may take place next week when Secretary of State Dean Rusk visits Paris for a NATO ministers' council meeting. Rusk is expected to see De Gaulle.

Authoritative sources said that former Premier Edgar Faure, during a visit to China last month, negotiated a settlement of outstanding problems that cleared the way for recognition of the Peking regime.

Faure, in talks with Peking Premier Chou-En-Lai, and Communist Chief Mao Tze-Tung, worked out a better arrangement on relations than that in force between Britain and China, it was understood.

The sources said Faure, acting on De Gaulle's instructions rejected a Peking demand that France denounce the Nationalist Chinese regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as a condition for setting up relations between Peking and Paris. In fact, they said, Faure won from the Chinese Communists an agreement not to impose any conditions at all.

De Gaulle's plan to establish normal relations with Peking is aimed primarily at increasing French influence in Asia, but France also stands to gain in terms of trade.

In the first six months of this year, trade between the two countries soared. France sent goods worth $31 million to China, compared with $44 million for all of 1962.

French imports from China in the first six months of this year totalled $10.7 million, compared with $17 million for all of 1962.

SCHOOL PROBLEM

$3,600 Boost Possible For Two Men

Requests that could boost two school board officials' annual salaries by as much as $3,600 are being examined by Greater Victoria school trustees.

Senior administrators have requested salary increases in proportion to raises gained this fall by teachers and principals, amounting to an average 2.07 per cent.

The officials suggest to the finance committe that they should be paid "somewhat higher" than senior principals in the district.

In some cases the salary increase to principals was closer to 8 per cent than 2 per cent because of an adjustment granted for extra responsibilities and duties undertaken by principals and vice-principals, which vary from school to school.

Putting the administrators above the highest paid principal in the district could mean a raise of $2,100 for one man and $1,500 for the other, secretary-treasurer T. L. Christie told finance committee.

It was pointed out that other officials probably would be applying independently for a raise as the two have done.

The committee recommended the matter be studied by the education committee and superintendent John Gough, with report to be made later.

Habitual Criminal Ruling Asked

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Crown has asked that a 25-year-old man be declared an habitual criminal.

Special prosecutor William Forbes Tuesday asked Magistrate Douglas Hume for such a ruling against Frederick Haines, whose record shows 35 convictions since he was 11 years old.

Prosecutor Forbes said Haines sometimes made donations to help underprivileged children, but he was clearly a professional, unrepentant burglar who possibly is scheming for even bigger jobs on his release.

Conviction as an habitual criminal still would grant Haines a yearly review of his eligibility for parole, but because it involves indefinite detention it could mean a lifetime in jail.

Defence counsel D. E. Greenfield said it would be barbaric to send a 25-year-old man to prison for the rest of his life.

"This might have happened in the 19th century but it is deplorable to think of such a thing in this modern age," he said.

A decision will be handed down Dec. 23.

Forest Firms to Convert Another Mars to Tanker

A second flying tanker will be drenching forest fires on Vancouver Island and the West Coast next summer.

J. O. Hemmingsen, president of Forest Industries Flying Tankers Ltd. today announced award of a contract to Victoria's Fairey Aviation Ltd. in excess of $250,000.

The aircraft firm will start immediately to convert a Martin Mars Flying Boat for the fire fighting service which started in 1959.

Mr. Hemmingsen also announced that the four logging companies which launched the venture have now been joined by a fifth — Pacific Logging Company Ltd. which has offices in Victoria.

Pacific Logging is a subsidiary company of Canadian Pacific Railways and is logging in Cowichan Lake and Sooke areas on E & N Railway lands.

The four original firms involved are MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., B.C. Forest Products Ltd., Tahsis Company Ltd., and Western Forest Industries Ltd.

They launched FIFT with the purchase of the last four Martin Mars flying boats in existence. The giant carriers were originally used by the U.S. Navy in Second World War as troop transports. Converted they are able to carry about 7,000 gallons of water.

One tanker crashed near Northwest Bay, killing its crew, and another was severely damaged in a storm while resting at Patricia Bay airport here. The second Mars to be converted has operated for two years successfully and now is based at Sproat Lake. It was seen locally when it quelled a Sooke fire last summer.

MORE EFFECTIVE

Mr. Hemmingsen said the new conversion "will be a more effective tool than the first conversions."

When it is completed before the hottest part of the coming summer it will have an improved dumping mechanism which will allow the drop to be in a more concentrated form and will permit use of flame-drenching additives in the water.

The company president said the new conversion does not indicate any dissatisfaction with the provincial forest service fire-fighting methods.

"We have a responsibility to protect our own resources and we felt the need of additional protection," said Mr. Hemmingsen.

He said the five logging firms involved are located generally in the Vancouver Forest District (which includes the Island) and their timber holdings adjoining in some areas.

Old Treaties Valid Lawyer Tells Court

NANAIMO — A court case which could establish a precedent for all Canadian Indians, and settle the question of whether or not Indians have the right to fish and hunt at any time, opened Wednesday in County Court.

Defence lawyer Tom Berger claimed the Provincial Game Act does not apply to his clients, Clifford White and David Bob, who were found with deer carcasses in their possession earlier this year.

At the time of their conviction they used as their defence a treaty signed by Governor James Douglas giving the Indians the right to fish and hunt over unoccupied territory.

Provincial archivist Willard Ireland produced a treaty of 1845 which gave full title of Nanaimo lands stretching from Commercial Inlet to 12 miles up the Nanaimo River to the Hudson's Bay Company in return for 636 white blankets, 12 blue blankets and 20 inferior blankets.

This treaty was signed with an "x" by 159 Indians and was endorsed by Governor Douglas and signed by two HBC officials and a representative of the Nanaimo Coal Co.

Mr. Berger brought up treaties and agreements dating back to 1763 and said if anyone wants to argue that the treaties are invalid, they deny that Vancouver Island was ever bought from its native Indians.

He successfully rejected argument by the crown that would have thrown out the appeal on grounds it concerned constitutional matters and required giving notice to the federal and provincial departments.

The appeal was adjourned until Jan. 8 of next year.

CHARIOT RACING TO COAL MINES TO SHOW RING

Welsh Ponies Big Business at Island Farm

By MARGE GILROY

Welsh ponies, once used by Roman charioteers and later as pit ponies, are coming into their own again in riding, jumping, and harness shows.

In fact, largest breeders of Welsh ponies in Canada, cannot keep up with the demand.

They are Ray and Sally Redfern who operate "Rancho Alegria" on Denman Island, 14 miles south of Courtenay.

In 1958 the Redferns spent their honeymoon on Denman Island and in the spring they returned to start farming a 76-acre ranch.

PLANNED TO RETIRE

Sally's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Learned of Santa Barbara, Calif., bought the farm in 1957 as a place to retire. A few months later Mr. Learned died.

After Sally married she and her husband moved to the ranch and started raising cattle and growing row crops. In 1961 they switched to breeding Welsh ponies.

Beginning with nine mares already bred, and a stallion, which they imported from Wales through an agent in Ontario, they have steadily increased their herd.

Next spring their total stock will include 70 grown ponies and 30 colts and fillies.

Several generations back Arabian blood was introduced into the stock to up-grade the Welsh breed and now they are noted for their hardiness, gentle disposition, swiftness and light floating action.

BIGGER THAN SHETLAND

They are aproximately eight inches taller than a Shetland and are used primarily for riding by children of 12 to 14 years of age, and in harness shows.

A few years ago when the Welsh pony became so popular prices sky-rocketed. Then suddenly the market for the small animals crashed.

Now with prices in a moderate range the ponies are once again gaining in popularity.

Mrs. Redfern, an experienced horsewoman herself who tried out for the Olympics in 1954 in the jumping and dressage competition, said a recent purchase in the East of 25 more ponies will bring their total investment up to $30,000.

CAN'T KEEP UP

When she stopped in Victoria on her way through with the first of this shipment she said: "We have been sold out for the last four months and we have never been able to keep up with the sales."

But the 30 young fillies and colts in the spring should ease the situation.

Weanling colts are sold for about $150 and weanling fillies for $350.

Most prized pony at "Rancho Alegria" is a two-year-old stallion, "Seamair Royal Salute," imported from California last summer for $2,300. Before coming to Canada he was undefeated in California seven times and at the PNE this fall he was reserve champion stallion.

All ponies at the Redfern ranch are registered in both Canada and the U.S., and imported ponies carry English papers as well.

You can see the ponies at the Redfern farm any time by crossing to Denman Island on a ferry from Buckley Bay.

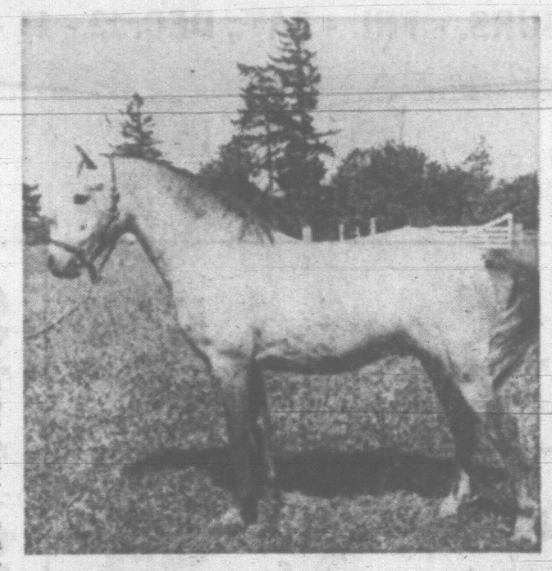

Welsh ponies graze on the meadows of Rancho Alegria on Denman Island overlooking Baynes Sound.

Young filly Alegria's Serenylls, seen here with dam, Witherley Hesta, is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. S. V. B. Roberts of Park Drive, Victoria.

Federal Harbor Bill Blocked in Senate

OTTAWA (CP)—A controversial government bill under which 10 harbor commissions could be placed under direct federal control was blocked in the Senate at the final reading stage Wednesday and referred back to a committee for further study.

The measure could place harbor commissions in 10 cities under federal control without allowing their city councils any voice in the matter.

Senators took the unusual step of referring the bill back to the Senate transport committee as a result of objections raised by Hamilton and Oshawa, Ont. Both cities said they were not satisfied with amendments to the bill last week by the committee, one of which excluded Toronto from its provisions.

Objections to the bill were originally voiced by Toronto, Hamilton and Oshawa when it first was debated by the committee Oct. 30.

The measure provides machinery under which some 300 local harbors in Canada could be placed under harbor commissions in which the federal cabinet would appoint the majority of commissioners.

It also included in its original form a provision whereby 11 existing harbor commissions also could be placed under the proposed law with the consent of local harbor commissions.

And commissions set up under individual acts of Parliament, at Toronto, Hamilton, Belleville, Windsor, Oshawa, Lakehead, Winnipeg-St. Boniface and the British Columbia ports of New Westminster, North Fraser Harbor, Port Alberni and Nanaimo could be placed under the law.

Hamilton and Oshawa protested in telegrams to the committee that they were not satisfied and wanted to make further representations.

Agreement Reached On Columbia Deal

No Details Given Out

International negotiators reached agreement in Ottawa Wednesday on the Columbia River power project.

The deal they made is being submitted to the three governments involved for formal approval.

An agreement will probably be signed officially in Ottawa next week.

A great deal of caution and restraint was shown by the people involved in Wednesday's agreement, and nobody would give details, but the climax to almost 20 years' study and dickering appeared imminent.

BENNETT CONFIRMED

Premier Bennett confirmed in Victoria today that the technical negotiators reached an agreement and their recommendations are being passed to the B.C., Canadian and U.S. governments.

Basically, this means an agreement has been reached on financing the huge project—at least by the technical teams.

And although Premier Bennett insisted "we'll have to study it" he was fully informed of the details in advance and presumably gave B.C.'s negotiators authority to agree.

B.C. TEAM

The chief B.C. negotiators were Resources Minister Ray Williston and Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

They are due to return to Victoria tonight.

They and External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, the federal government's chief negotiator, held a four-way telephone conversation with Mr. Bennett Wednesday before the final session with the Americans.

Mr. Bennett said the same teams will meet again in Ottawa next week.

ATTACH TO TREATY

Once the agreement is finalized, it will be attached to the Columbia River treaty, which will be passed to Canada's Parliament for ratification.

Signed Jan. 17, 1961, the treaty has already been ratified by U.S. Congress.

The agreement will chiefly concern the sale to the U.S. of downstream benefits from three Columbia River dams in B.C., Mica Creek, Arrow Lake and Duncan Lake.

BENNETT MUTE

B.C. wanted at least enough cash from the sale to pay for construction of the dams—a little over $400,000,000.

Mr. Bennett refused to say today if he has got all he wanted, but he seemed extremely happy at news of the agreement.

Once the Columbia Treaty is ratified, construction can start.

Work could begin next spring.

This will partly depend on how swiftly Parliament acts.

The New Democratic Party has already served notice it intends to fight the treaty to the bitter end. However, all

REVOLT SPREADING

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—The tin miners' revolt spread to Cochabamba province today where two more technicians were reported to have been kidnapped. Miners at Catavi, in Potosi province, already hold at least 19 hostages.

Miners ignored a 48-hour government ultimatum to surrender their captives which expired Wednesday night, and authorities said the matter was now a military and no longer a civilian problem.

Voting Light

Vitctoria today appeared headed for a 25-per-cent voting turnout as morning polling fell behind the rate set during last year's balloting.

Mayor R. B. Wilson repeated his appeal for citizens to come out and vote and expressed the hope they would give the $375,000 police station bylaw its needed 60 per cent approval.

By noon, only 1,249 ballots had been cast, compared with the 1,648 marked at the same time in last year's civic election.

When polls closed in 1962, a total of 6,324 Victorians had cast their ballots for a relatively poor 30.92 per cent turnout.

An even lower turnout was indicated today unless the traditional evening rush proved to be exceptionally heavy.

OPEN UNTIL 8

Polls were to remain open until 8 o'clock at the Victoria Ballroom, Government and Cormorant.

Cold weather was believed to have slowed the flow of voters in the morning—and certainly made it a chilly job for some 50 elderly poll clerks in the unheated building.

But after several citizens protested the cold in the polling station, city officials rented an industrial space heater and set it up in the building to provide some warmth.

Balloting will decide the fate of seven candidates for four aldermanic seats and four candidates for two school trustee seats along with the police station money bylaw.

The candidates are: for aldermen—incumbents Millard Mooney, Geoffrey Edgelow, Lily Wilson and J. L. W. McLean and challengers Robert Baird, Victor Williams and Mrs. Evelyn MacKenzie; for trustee—John Porteous, Ralph Fryer, Leslie Spencer and Edward Wood.

Blizzard Belts Sask.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Motorists were stranded, schools closed and transportation snarled as a vicious Arctic blizzard screamed through Saskatchewan during the night. One death was attributed to the storm.

About 100 persons in 35 cars were bogged down by snow drifts after attending a Christmas party at a dine and dance centre about a mile outside Saskatoon's city limits.

They walked back to the dance hall—most of them had driven less than a mile before getting stuck—where they spent the night drinking coffee and talking. Snowplows reached the cars today.

Cecil Atter, 61, an oilfield worker, died of a heart attack while trying to free his light truck from a drift at Halbrite in Southeastern Saskatchewan.

TRAINS LATE

Trains ran up to six hours late and at least one bus, bound from Winnipeg to Vancouver, was stopped by drifting snow. Passengers stayed at a hotel.

About 5,200 elementary school students in Moose Jaw were asked to stay home for the day. Residential mail delivery in the city was cancelled.

At least 49 Moose Jaw district school buses could not make their runs.

The storm, with winds up to 70 miles an hour, reduced visibility to zero. Zero temperatures accompanied the storm.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Schools at Vanscoy, Delisle, Donavon, Swanson and Lura in the Saskatoon west unit were closed today. Children were sent home early Wednesday because of the storm.

Aberdeen and Clavet schools in the Saskatoon east unit were also closed.

RCMP said they knew of no one stranded in the area north of Rosetown but that several cars had been abandoned.

One constable said he hadn't much time to check on abandoned vehicles in his area.

"I'm still trying to shovel my way out of the office."

FBI on Trail Of Abductors?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The FBI dispatched a dozen men to the San Fernando Valley north of Hollywood during the night, arousing speculation that agents might be on the trail of suspects in the Frank Sinatra, Jr., kidnapping case.

The FBI acknowledged it had men in the area but wouldn't say what they were doing.

A resident of the neighborhood, Mrs. James Dyatt, said her daughter, Mary Margaret, 19, was stopped outside their home by two men identifying themselves as FBI agents. Mrs. Dyatt said the men asked her daughter where she had been the night before and Mary Margaret told them she had attended an Order of the Eastern Star meeting with her mother.

A Los Angeles Times reporter said he recognized FBI agents in a car parked on Sherman Way, in the same neighborhood, about 1 a.m.

RETURNS TO FAMILY

Wednesday, after Sinatra Jr. was returned to his family for $240,000 ransom, Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker complained his department was left completely in the dark on developments in the case.

Parker said the FBI's "para-

IT'S A SEAL. BANG. OOPS, IT WAS A MAN

HALIFAX (UPI) — First, hunters started getting shot by other nimrods who mistook them for deer.

Now, skin divers are getting into the firing line. The department of fisheries today warned skin divers to wear brightly colored headgear to avoid getting shot in mistake for harbor seals.

Loran Baker, the department's area director, said there had been several cases of skin divers narrowly escaping being shot as seals when they broke water.

Five Quebec Homes Swallowed by Mud

ST. JOACHIM DE TOURELLE, Que. (CP) — A second earth movement today sent two houses tumbling into a sea of mud where a truck and four men and three other houses were swallowed up Wednesday night.

Quebec Provincial Police, working throughout the night to help this stricken and alarmed Gaspe Peninsula community, ordered 10 more houses evacuated.

The first earth convulsion, at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday swept four other houses 1,000 feet along Tourelle Creek into the St. Lawrence River.

Although nine houses in all were wrenched from an 80-foot hillside, the only loss of life wa believed to be the four men who were buried with their truck.

They were four Therrien brothers—Johnny, 32; Raymond, 28; Benoit, 22, and Onesime, 20. Their bodies were recovered today.

A 50 - foot highway bridge spanning Tourelle Creek, also collapsed under the first massive slide of earth and was buried under tons of earth.

The houses ordered evacuated today were on another section of the hill above the creek, now a muddy mass moving into the St. Lawrence.

The slide of earth Wednesday night created a huge pit.

Heard 'Sinister Noises'

But some were unaware in time of what was happening. Mrs. Pierre St. Laurent and her three children were picked from their wreckaged and floating house by fishermen on the St. Lawrence. So was Mrs. Romuald St. Laurent.

A Red Cross official said about 35 persons were made homeless by the slides. They lost all their possessions.

With the first indications of the earth movement, residents fled their homes, saying they heard "sinister noises" and explosive sounds.

There were early theories that an underground lake had caused the slide or upheaval. Several buildings were swallowed up last spring—at the time of the usual spring thaws—and surveys later indicated there was an underground lake.

The earth now, however, is hard and frozen at the top. Temperatures in the area during the last few days have been near zero.

The huge pit left by the slide was estimated to be 150 feet deep in places and 1,000 yards

Wind, Snow In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Wind-driven snow swirled down on southern Ontario overnight as a gale raging over the northern United States swept into Canada.

Winds gusting up to 30 miles an hour dumped from three to six inches over the region, clogging city streets and slowing traffic on ice-caked highways.

ST. HUBERT, Que. (UPI)—An Air Force CF-100 jet interceptor on an electronic warfare training flight crash-landed in a garden today after missing several children by a few yards and clipping two farm buildings. The two men aboard were rushed to hospital.

KOREAN KIDDIES' FUND

Overcoats to Underwear, All Still Needed

Last year the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada shipped more than a quarter-million pounds of relief clothing, blankets and layettes to Korea, Hong Kong, Greece and other needy areas.

But it was not enough.

This year Victoria volunteers promised Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova they would collect 20,000 pounds of warm clothing for the men, women and children of Korea.

To date 13,000 pounds have been packed and shipped.

PRACTICAL, CLEAN

Most urgently needed are overcoats, warm underwear, suits, trousers, skirts, dresses, hoods and raincoats of any kind.

Garments and blankets should be practical, clean and have at least six months' wear left. Wool and cotton provide most warmth.

Layettes and baby clothes are also needed. A basic layette consists of one blanket, four diapers, two nightgowns, two shirts, two jackets, one towel, one cake of laundry soap and four large safety pins.

NEEDN'T BE NEW

They do not need to be new. The layettes can be made up from articles which your child has outgrown but not outworn or made up from other material around the house. To ensure maximum use sizes for one-year-olds or larger are preferred.

This is the time to check through old trunks in the basement, in the back of closets and in bottom drawers to make sure you have not old army uniforms and old-fashioned cardigans just sitting there as bait for moths.

Recently a group of volunteers on Salt Spring Island gathered up old woolens that had seen better days and had them made into 15 grey blankets to be shipped to Korea.

A large quantity of the clothing is distributed among the hospitals, orphanages and boarding schools, the rest is given out in large bundles from Canada House by Korean social workers.

MUCH PRIDE

Dr. Hitschmanova described Koreans as having a great deal of pride and self-esteem. Often, she said, they come to the clothing centre in borrowed clothes to appear decent.

The hardest thing of all was to face women still standing in line when the supply was gone.

You can replenish the supply by delivering your used clothing to Dowell's Cartage and Storage, 117 Wharf Street.

Other contributions should be sent to the "Korean Kiddies' Fund," care of the Times, 2631 Douglas, or left at the Bank of Montreal, main branch, Yates and Douglas.

Official receipts will be sent later from USC headquarters and acknowledgement of gifts will be published daily in the Times.

DUNOON, Scotland — This town on the Holy Loch, where the U.S. Polaris submarines are based, has become officially Scotland's black spot for illegitimate births.

The latest report from the registrar-general of Scotland, just published, shows that the illegitimacy figure last year in Dunoon rose from 6.3 per cent to 15.3 per cent. These figures are based on a much higher birth rate than formerly, and the news has staggered this already shocked town.

A local official, who asked not to be identified by name, blamed American sailors for the increase, saying:

"It would be quite accurate to say that the majority of these illegitimate babies had American fathers."

Monday night the town council and senior British navy liaison officers had the first of a series of meetings which will in future include the senior U.S. Navy officers on "questions of mutual interest."

A few months ago a woman town councillor unsuccessfully made two attempts to have all unmarried American sailors from the Holy Loch base banned from Dunoon. At that time she said: "There has been a definite deterioration in the morals of the young people since the Americans arrived."

SHEDIAC, N.B.—The curfew horn in this town which blows at 9 p.m. to warn children under the age of 14 that they are to be off the streets, is to be silenced because it awakens sleeping children.

Town council voted Monday night to stop blowing the horn because of complaints from some parents that their children are being roused. However, Mayor Joseph Landry said the curfew bylaw would not be revoked.

SOUTHAMPTON, England — Arthur Allwright, electronics manufacturer, sailed down the English Channel today in search of the sun on a Mediterranean cruise.

With him aboard the liner Stratheden went all 42 of his employees, ranging from Jim Bailey, 78, to office girl Erica Copeland, 16. The boss picks up the bill.

"This," said Allwright, "is their Christmas bonus—my way of saying thanks for 13 years of profit making.

"We've never had a strike. We work as one big family. They've been wonderful."

Allwright, 49, said the trip will cost him £2,000 ($6,000), none of it deductible. It lasts nine days with calls at Gibraltar, Casablanca and Lisbon.

LONDON—A British researcher said Wednesday married life among the peers is a perilous proposition: One in four noble weddings ends in divorce.

But, declared Dr. Tom Hollingsworth, it is a pretty safe bet that with a peer or peeress for a father or mother one would be legitimate: In the peerage only one recorded birth in 100 is out of wedlock.

Among the common people of Britain it's 1 in 16.

Dr. Hollingsworth, 31, a former London University teacher, produced these statistics in a scrutiny of 28,000 titled folk for a book he is writing.

He and 14 assistants also learned that male peers, who died at average age 47 in 1603, now hang on to an average 73.

KENYA FREE

68-Year Rule By Britain Ends

(CP from Reuters-AP)

NAIROBI, Kenya — Prince Philip officially sealed Kenya's independence today in the name of the Queen after 68 years of British colonial rule.

In a ceremony in newly-built Uhuru (Freedom) Stadium, Prince Philip handed over the constitutional instruments to Kenya's Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta.

This completed the formalities for the East African nation which became independent at one minute past midnight when Britain's Union Jack was lowered and the country's new flag was raised in its place.

The new black, green, red and white flag flew proudly over 250,000 persons in the stadium who watched three hours of tribal dancing and military drill.

The wives of white settlers wept and their husbands swallowed hard as they considered their future as a minority of 50,000 in a nation of 8,500,000 Africans.

Forty-eight hours earlier, the spice island of Zanzibar, just to the south, received its independence in a similar ceremony ending 73 years of British protection. Both countries will remain in the British Commonwealth.

'Burning Spear' Offers to Forget

Kenyatta, the legendary "burning spear" of the Mau Mau terror a decade ago, is no longer the firebrand who headed the African nationalist movement and spent eight years in British detention. Now 73, Kenyatta has called on his nation to forvive and forget the bitterness of the past as it wrestles with its problems.

Among them are frontier warfare, tribal rivairies and economic difficulties.

One of Kenyatta's immediate problems is a border dispute with Somalia. The two countries are at odds over control of an arid strip on Kenya's northeastern frontier inhabited by Somali nomads. Kenya's African troops, under British officers, have fought skirmishes with paramilitary "bandits" from Somalia.

Greatest Challenge Is Economic

Another difficulty is deep-seated hostility and rivalry among Kenya's 48 African tribes. The country has a long history of tribal warfare. Kenyatta belongs to the Kikuyu tribe, which spawned the Mau Mau terror.

But perhaps the greatest challenge before Kenyatta is economic. For many of the last 68 years, Britain has poured money into Kenya's agricultural economy. Last year this aid totalled £5,000,000 ($15,000,000) and Britain has promised financial help for "a long time" after independence.

By moderate statements he has sought to reassure Kenya's jittery white residents and prevent a mass exodus. Loans and bank deposits rose this year and again there is a market for land, but white settlers are continuing to trickle abroad.

At today's ceremony, Kenyatta said "this is Kenya's greatest day and the happiest in my life." He called on every Kenyan to join him in "this great adventure of nation-building."

At the same ceremony Malcolm Macdonald—former colonial governor—was sworn in as governor-general. Macdonald in turn administered the oath to Kenyatta and his cabinet.

World Watches With Understanding

In his own speech, Prince Philip said: "the eyes of the world are on Kenya today with sympathy and understanding. I hope this will soon change into a look of admiration and gratitude.

"You can prove to the world —together as one nation—that it is possible for peace of different race and creed to live together in peace and harmony."

Speaking in Swahili, Kenyatta said: "Today, the tragedies and misunderstandings of the past are behind us. Today we start the great adventure of building the Kenya nation.

"With Britain, a country which has watched over our destinies for so long, we now enter a new relationship . . . as two sovereign nations within the Commonwealth, that unique association of free and independent states to whose counsel we look forward to making our contribution."

Kenyatta added "we shall count as our friends, and welcome as fellow citizens, every man, woman and child in Kenya regardless of race, tribe, color our people."

Report Due On Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry Minister Drury said Wednesday he hopes to have an expert appraisal of British-American Oil Company's new heavy water claim by late Monday.

Mr. Drury told the Commons he is willing to delay discussion of his department's estimate so that the whole question of heavy water production in Canada can be debated after he receives the experts' report.

B-A claimed Tuesday it had found a new and cheaper way to manufacture heavy water. Last week the government announced approval of discussions between Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, a Crown company, and Deuterium of Canada Limited, a Canadian branch of an American firm, to manufacture heavy water at Glace Bay, N.S.

Mr. Drury said Tuesday that if the B-A claim proves workable, the government would have to reconsider its earlier decision.

WOMAN COMES TO LIFE REPOSING IN COFFIN

LONDON (AP) — A body that came to life—though already in a coffin—set off an urgent inquiry Wednesday night at a North London Hospital. The patient, a woman, was last reported still alive but unconscious.

Undertaker Hugh Hellwood said he was called to Willesden General Hospital to pick up the body of Miss Elsie Waring, 50. Hellwood said hospital physicians declared she was dead.

He placed the body in a temporary coffin and took it to the public funeral home.

There he and his assistant opened the lid and measured the body for a permanent coffin. Miss Waring gave a moan, Hellwood gave a start, and later exclaimed: "I was astounded. It stopped us in our tracks."

Miss Waring's younger sister, Mrs. Josephine Thompson, said "a doctor told me she had passed away. I saw her dead—I even touched her cold face. The news that she was alive was a tremendous shock."

The hospital said three physicians tried to revive Miss Waring for an hour when she first was brought in, but unanimously agreed she was dead.

'End Coexistence'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China told Soviet leaders today it is "high time" they abandon Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence. Peking said all the Soviet Union has got from the United States is "humiliation, again humiliation, always humiliation."

The Chinese demand that the Russians swing over to the Chinese hard line was contained in an article in the official Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag.

U.S. Cuts Down Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary McNamara announced today that, in an economy action, he had ordered 26 military bases in the United States and seven U.S. bases overseas to be closed or substantially reduced.

McNamara told a press conference: "I have every reason to believe that studies now under way will lead to further reductions in the coming months."

The defence secretary said that when the 33 bases are closed or reduced over a period of up to 3½ years he expects annual savings of $106,000,000.

The move will eliminate 8,500 civilian jobs and result in a reduction of about 7,800 military personnel, McNamar asaid.

Every civilian employee whose job is eliminated will be offered another job opportunity, McNamara promised.

To achieve the 8,500 reduction while offering new jobs to the dispossessed, McNamara said there will be a freeze on hiring at certain other installations, as well as normal attrition.

The 26 domestic bases to be closed or reduced are located in 14 states and the seven overseas bases are in three foreign countries.

Included are 14 army installations, 12 air force and seven navy.

Peace Could Get Heavy Water Plant

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ray Perrault, B.C. Liberal party leader, said Wednesday a $30,000,000 heavy water plant, proposed for Nova Scotia, could end up in B.C.'s Peace River district.

Mr. Perrault said he had spoken by telephone with B.C. representatives in Ottawa.

"The heavy water situation is far from being resolved in favor of Nova Scotia," he said.

"A new, more economical process is being claimed by one of Canada's major oil companies. Because it is based on the use of natural gas as a heat source, the Peace River area could be the location if the process proves commercially feasible.

"At present, a decision on location is being withheld while the new process is being evaluated by the engineers and scientists of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd."

If the process meets the standards claimed, Mr. Perrault said, there was "an excellent chance" the $30,000,000 heavy water plant would be built in B.C. The well-head price for natural gas in B.C.'s Peace River country is lower than in most places of Alberta.

in circumference. Of the three houses that were swept into it Wednesday, only part of one could be seen. There was no sign of the truck.

Constable Martin Gauthier of the provincial police was among the first to make his way to the stricken community, which is about 275 miles northeast of Quebec City.

The constable said a tremendous earth movement started at about 5:30 p.m. in the Tourelle Creek valley 500 to 1,000 feet above a main highway running along the Gaspe coast.

The movement swallowed or floated away three hillside houses and took a chunk of road with it. The resulting sea of mud that rolled down the creek bed knocked out the 50-foot bridge and lifted four houses into the St. Lawrence River.

Truck Disappeared Into Mud

Constable Gauthier said a giant fissure opened in the earth on a side road to swallow up a car and the truck. He said a rope was lowered almost 150 feet to rescue a couple from the car but the truck disappeared.

A Red Cross worker said "there was a gap in the highway" which none could cross.

"People were standing on both sides, scared and afraid. There were no lights, no telephones, no nothing. It was terrible, very very cold and windy.

"I spoke with the police and they put spotlights on two houses floating in the St. Lawrence River. Later, two more were carried down the creek into the river.

"They think all the people got out.

"I don't know how many were afflicted by this disaster. All they heard at first was a noise. Then their homes began moving."

Gilbert Sasseville, a Quebec government land surveyor, reported from Ste. Anne des Monts after returning from the St. Joachim area that there was likely a lake under the area, and the landslide into the underground water caused the sea of mud which swept the houses into the St. Lawrence.

Pit Opened In Secondary Road

He said there had been landslides in the area before—one last spring destroyed two houses, without casualties. It all started, Sasseville reported, when clay from an 80-foot hill began moving and slammed down into the creek bed and sank "at least 60 feet" into the "lake."

Constable Gauthier said a government team would arrive from Quebec City today to survey the damage and to see if the Gaspe Highway can be reopened.

"I think it will be impossible to repair the highway," he said, "because the damage is so great."

The constable said three houses fell into a pit which opened up on a secondary road. It was 150 deep and the hole was about half a square mile in size.

Gauthier said three houses had fallen into the pit and, like the truck, were covered by thick grey mud. He said the top of one of the houses could be seen from the edge of the crater.

He said the Tourelle Creek became a sea of mud after the movement and carried four more houses into the St. Lawrence River.

Fishermen on three boats rescued at least six persons from the houses.

When Sir Robert's gin recipe came from England, this old "cooking pot" came too

The best cooks are usually faithful to their oldest pots and pans.

Same thing with us. In distilling Sterling Gin, we'd feel lost without our old English copper Pot Stills.

The one in the picture is at least 100 years old. It came to Canada in the 1920's—when we imported Burnett's entire distillery to make gin from Sir Robert Burnett's famous old English formula.

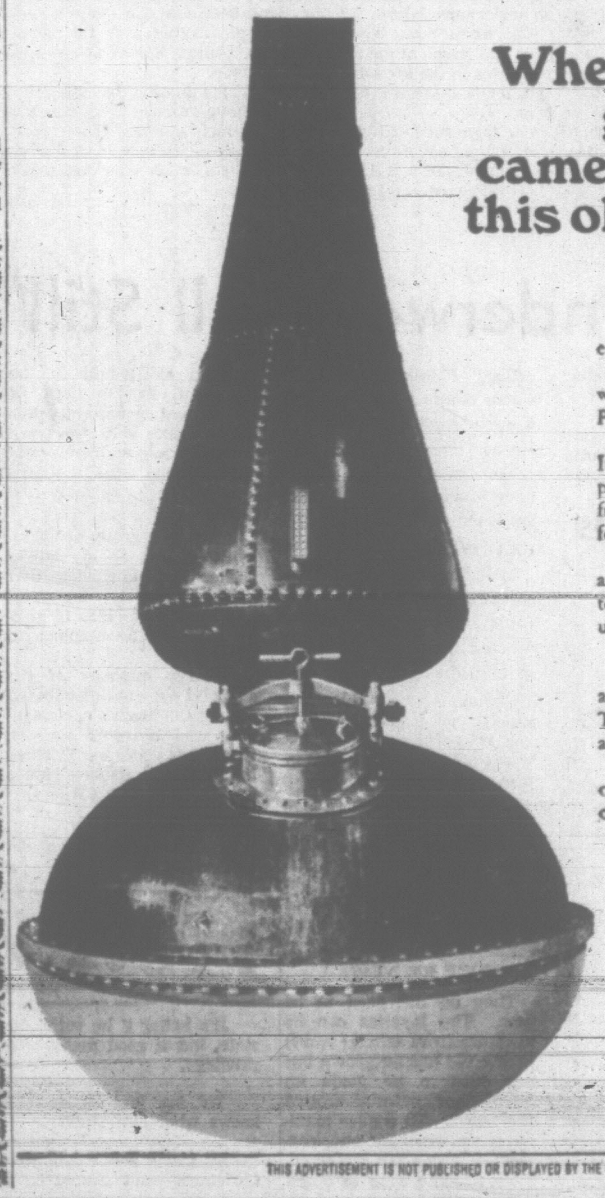

Most modern stills are much larger—as much as 10 times larger. And we know that switching to such mass-producing monsters would save us money, time and trouble.

But our gin wouldn't taste the same.

The way things are, we make it slowly—just a little at a time. Hovering over it. Sniffing. Tasting. Making sure every "run" is as smooth and dry as the last.

If we ever retire these miniature stills, it will only be because we can no longer afford to make our Sterling Gin in small, unhurried batches.

Meanwhile, try it—won't you?

U.K. Seeks 'Dialogue' With Soviet

DOUGLAS-HOME
. . . emulates JFK

LONDON (AP)—A high level British move for friendlier relations with Russia was disclosed by government authorities today.

It had the look of a bid by Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's cabinet for a dialogue with Soviet leaders matching that which went on between Nikita Khrushchev and the late John F. Kennedy.

Informants said the exchanges between London and Moscow had been going on at two levels:

1. Khrushchev and Douglas-Home are in direct touch with each other. The Soviet leader Nov. 20 sent a message to Douglas-Home through Ambassador Alexander Soldatov on the subject of relaxing East-West tension generally and on the possibility of including Berlin territory in any East-West non-aggression arrangement.

2. Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler last week sent a message to Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko—again through Soldatov, who now is in Moscow—suggesting an early meeting. Gromyko has not yet replied.

DETAILS UNKNOWN

Precise details of Khrushchev's oral message to Douglas-Home, and on his ideas for easing tensions, were not released by the informants. One source said, however, that on the question of non-aggression arrangements Khrushchev broadly repeated certain suggestions he had made previously but privately to Kennedy. These have not yet been published.

The informants gave this account of Butler's proposal for a meeting with Gromyko:

"Mr. Butler all along has indicated he would welcome a suitable chance of meeting Mr. Gromyko whom he has yet to get to know.

"The foreign secretary is in the process of making his acquaintance with all his European colleagues and he will be meeting Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Paris next week at the NATO council of foreign ministers.

"It is only natural, in the context of East-West relations, that he should wish to get on terms fairly soon with Mr. Gromyko."

NAVY HURT MOST BY DEFENCE CUTBACK

WINNIPEG (CP) — Defence budget cuts have hit the navy proportionately harder than the other two services, president Liston McIlhagga of the Naval Officers' Association of Canada, said Wednesday.

He said in an interview the navy generally gets about 20 per cent of the money allotted to the combined services, but got 25 per cent of the reductions.

The cutback, announced by Defence Minister Hellyer last week, appears to be "out of proportion."

CONCERN WARRANTED

Mr. McIlhagga, head of a group made up of 2,500 retired naval officers, said the imbalance was big enough to warrant concern on the part of the navy.

From a long range viewpoint, he said, the association is most concerned about the damage done to youth training programs by the cutback.

However, he said the association could not draw concrete conclusions on the reductions until it has seen the defence review and the white paper on defence due in January.

He added that lessening of East-West tensions indicates a full-scale nuclear war is less likely than a conventional police conflict.

The navy would have an important role to play in such a conflict, but its effectiveness would be reduced if nothing is done to replace frigates and other ships in line for phasing out.

In a prepared statement issued earlier, the association said it appreciates the "necessity of cutting operating costs in the services, in order to release funds for new weapons and capital expansion in the interests of maintaining the most modern type of armed forces in Canada."

But it continued: "We view with considerable alarm, however, the closing down of naval reserve divisions, particularly in areas where there is no other naval representation."

Labelling Law Would Hit Canada

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP)—Despite Canadian government protests, a special congressional conference has approved a measure that would force all Canadian lumber shipped to the United States to be marked with the country of origin.

The measure, approved by conferees at a closed-door meeting Wednesday, forms part of a bill ordering all imports to be labelled with the country of origin, each time they are repackaged, no matter how painstaking a jo bthis may be. This legislation also has drawn protests from Canada.

Over-all legislation, including the lumber amendment, now goes before the House of Representatives and Senate for final passage. This, in the present case, would be no more than a technicality for the conferees, representing key members of the House ways and means committee and Senate finance committee, rarely are challenged on the floor.

This is the first major price of protectionism emerging from the present session without severe battering. If finally approved by Congress, it likely will present President Johnson with an embarrassing problem. Former President Eisenhower had vetoed similar legislation in 1960. But if Johnson exercises veto power this time, he may earn the animosity of many congressmen who support the appeal of the U.S. lumber industry seeking ways of restraining big lumber imports from Canada

However, administration representatives under the late President Kennedy had made clear before the two key committees that the administration could not support such country-of-origin measures. This raised hopes of Canadian authorities that Johnson, following Kennedy's policies, would exercise his veto. If not, then Canada would seek compensation from the U.S., on the basis that the U.S. agreed in 1952 to exempt Canadian lumber from country-of-origin markings.

Anticipating that government-to-government renegotiations would be necessary, congressional conferees fixed the effective date of lumber markings at March 31, 1964. The Senate finance committee previously had proposed the effective date be last June 30.

Last March, the Canadian government sent the U.S. state department an aide-memoire, emphasizing that any imposition of markings on Canadian lumber would be considered a breach of the 1952 pledge forming part of a Canada-U.S. pact under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

This aide-memoire, forwarded to Congress, also maintained that forcing country-of-origin markings on all Canadian shipments, including agricultural products, would be inconsistent with U.S. obligations under GATT and would present shippers and distributors with an added handling burden that could seriously endanger Canadian exports.

Protectionists Make Demands

Canadian protests, accompanied by protests from other countries affected by the overall legislation, were countered by a strong body of protectionists within Congress. Most powerful is that supporting U.S. lumber producers who maintain their mills are being shut and their workers made jobless by Canadian competition.

A demand that the U.S. impose higher tariffs against Canada was turned down by the U.S. tariff commission which also rejected the proposed made-in-Canada labelling. The commission sugested that such labelling wouldn't help U.S. producers and might even enhance the U.S. market for high-quality Canadian lumber.

However, producers want the labelling for another reason. They have mounted a buy-American campaign, endorsed to some extent by the late president. Federal agencies were instructed to give preference to domstic lumber production in their purchases for federal construction.

In many instances, these agencies couldn't tell the difference between Canadian and U.S. lumber without country-of-origin markings. American producers want to extend this buy-American plan to include all federally-finance housing. Enforcing labelling would be another step towards restraining imports from Canada.

Non-Aligned Talk Urged by Nehru

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today urged a conference of non-aligned nations because of the changed world situation resulting from President Kennedy's death.

Nehru confirmed to questioners in parliament that he had written certain non-aligned leaders suggesting such a meeting.

Nehru said the gist of these letters was "that the tragic assassination naturally had a big effect on international politics and it was desirable for non-aligned nations to get together and express themselves in furtherance of objectives which President Kennedy had pursued and to strengthen those objectives."

He did not identify the leaders he addressed but his deputy, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, said talks were under way with the United Arab Republic and Ceylon on such a meeting.

Nehru added neither Communist China nor Pakistan would "apparently qualify for any non-aligned conference."

He said China's Premier Chou En-Lai and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan were seeking support for a new conference of African and Asian nations instead.

"Possibly they do not approve of holding a non-aligned conference because in any normal view they do not come into it," he said.

Christmas Evergreens Sprout On Asphalt Throughout City

One of the most familiar symbols of Christmas, the evergreen, has been making its appearance on the Victoria scene during the past few days.

Truckloads of trees are now filling up parking space at gas stations, supermarkets and vacant lots.

Victoria, Oak Bay and Evening Optimist clubs have stocked their lots with trees from as far away as Parksville and Salt Spring Island.

The clubs plan to sell between three and four thousand trees to help them continue their youth work in the area.

A contrast to the big lots manned by Optimists is the small family lot which provides extra spending money for the holiday season.

An example of this is the cut-your-own operation run by Susan York, 16, and her brothers David, 15 and Fred, 12.

The trees are located near Millstream Road, 2½ miles beyond Western Speedway in what is known as the Highland district.

"There is no set price—just whatever people want to give us," says Susan.

A similar operation is that of Mrs. Mary Jane Plumb, 790 Hockley, a widow who brought trees down from her Shawnigan Lake property.

Heads Optometrists

Dr. Robert J. Scholefield of Sidney was elected president of Victoria Optometric Association at its recent annual meeting.

He succeeds Dr. George Darimont who is also president of the provincial association.

Other officers elected were Dr. William E. Beck, vice-president of the provincial association.

Other officers elected were Dr. William E. Beck, vice-president; Dr. David R. Pepper, treasurer, and Dr. Brian M. Moore, secretary.

It was announced at the meeting B.C. and Washington state associations will hold a joint convention in Victoria in April.

MURDER TRIAL

Girl Bathed In Blood, Father Says

ALERT BAY (CP)—Rosalind Wadhams, 10, was naked and bathed in blood when she stumbled into her home after being stabbed, her foster father, Charles Hinton, testified at a preliminary hearing here Wednesday.

Robert Bertram Morley, 41, an Alert Bay hospital orderly, is charged with capital murder in the girl's death.

RCMP Cpl. James Vincent said he found Rosalind's blood-soaked raincoat next door to her home. He said he found Morley nearby, apparently unconscious from alcohol.

In earlier testimony, F. G. Clark, an Alert Bay fisherman, said he and Morley had been drinking wine for about three hours earlier in the home of a Joe Whelen.

He testified Rosalind came into the house and she and Morley left together. Clark said Morley had a knife in his hand earlier in the day.

Hinton said he was alone in the house when the girl stumbled through the front door and collapsed.

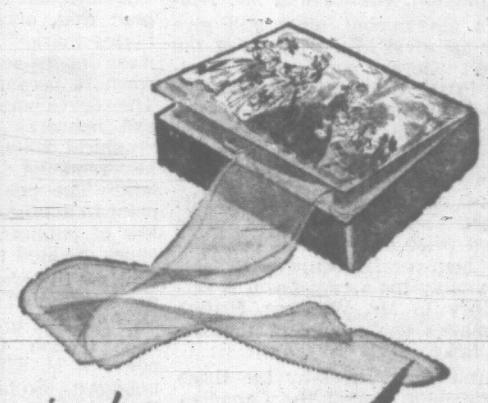

"She was only wearing her ankle socks," he said. "She looked like she had been bathed in blood."

The girl died from the wounds Nov. 13, seven days after the stabbing.

STE. THERESE DE BLAINVILLE, Que. (CP) — A large piece of metal, possibly the chunk of a wing, was recovered Wednesday at the site of the airliner crash that killed 118 persons Nov. 30.

Officials said the scrap of metal, 30 inches long, eight inches wide and nine inches thick, is the largest piece of the shattered Trans-Canada Air Lines DC-8F jetliner recovered to date.

The piece was recovered below the 20-foot level of the huge crater that was created when the Montreal-to-Toronto flight crashed and exploded.

The number of victims identified either positively or by documents stands at 100. But because of the mutilated bodies of the victims, only 45 identifications have been certified.

Truly-a most travelled rum!

Mr. Lemon Hart's rums travel for a reason. Made in the heart of the West Indies they are then sent to England because the moist airs of England are traditionally the finest in the world for maturing rums. After quiet years in England they are perfectly blended, bottled and shipped to Canada and throughout the world. These expensively brought up rums, full of light-hearted charm and flavour, are happily available to Canadians at home and abroad.

Pearson 'Accepts' Deficit Financing

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Wednesday he accepts deficit financing as an instrument for achieving social purposes and putting people to work.

Mr. Pearson picked up a plea by organized labor for a program of planned deficit financing and said he accepts this concept "if it does what it is supposed to do."

He told the top leaders of organized labor, gathered in the Parliament buildings for the annual policy submission of the Canadian Labour Congress, that the government has already added to its budgetary deficit for social purposes.

The prime minister added that he hadn't consulted Finance Minister Gordon about his views on deficit financing. Mr. Gordon was among the 14 cabinet ministers who heard CLC President Claude Jodoin voice frank disagreement with the government's budgetary policies.

In his budget last June, Mr. Gordon said he planned to move toward a balanced budget.

In its submission, the 1,080,000-member CLC repeated its plan for continued budgetary deficits as a means of stimulating the economy, increasing purchasing power and achieving full employment.

Referring to this, Mr. Pearson said the Liberal government had lauched programs costing $250,000,000 to 'develop the economy and reduce unemployment.

CHEMISTRY STUDENT POISONED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cyanide poisoning is suspected in the death of Ormit Bal Singh Virk, 24, an overseas graduate student at the University of British Columbia whose body was found in his room Tuesday.

RCMP and the Vancouver coroner's office are investigating and an autopsy has been ordered.

Virk, described as a brilliant student, came to UBC last fall to work toward a doctorate in chemistry. He had a master of science degree from Punjab University.

6 Hours of Eulogies For JFK in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—One by one they rose in the U.S. Senate Wednesday in final salute to their fallen leader, John F. Kennedy—"a man of stunning brilliance, a giant among men . . . a man of tolerance and understanding."

These were some of the tributes for the assassinated 35th president of the United States on a day when all other business in the Senate ceased, a day set aside for eulogies.

With Senator Edward M. Kennedy (Dem., Mass.), the late president's brother, listening in rapt attention, the senators struggled to write their own epitaph for their former colleague who was struck down by an assassin's bullet in Dallas Nov. 22.

But they seemed to concur with Senator George D. Aiken (Rep., Vt.) that "history will hold his finest eulogy."

After all had spoken, Kennedy rose to express his and his family's "heartfelt thanks."

In a quiet, firm voice he spoke of the importance of helping President Johnson and said "if the country can be united, the sacrifice will not have been in vain."

The tributes lasted six hours. The widowed Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will be presented a bound volume of Wednesday's words.

Racing Birds On Display At Weekend

They will represent both flown and unflown pigeons, the long-distance birds including some that have covered 500-600 miles at a race.

Judging entries will be Gerry McBride, of Seattle, and prizes, ribbons and trophies will be presented at about 1 p.m. Sunday.

Information may be obtained from Dick Roe at EV 4-3065 or EV 3-2031.

Arthur Mayse

Readers have been taking pen in hand pretty vigorously this week, so let's dip into the letters, commencing with a rap on the knuckles from Not Very Indignant Subscriber.

"In your recent column on the law and Jack Ruby," he writes, "it seems to me you leave no room for the mercy which traditionally tempers justice. Ruby committed a specific crime, you say, for which a specific penalty is provided. True: but are there not degrees of guilt, even in homicide, and was not the act which Ruby took it on himself to avenge a far more despicable murder than his shooting of Oswald?

"As I read you, my feeling is that you come dangerously close to saying, 'Give Ruby a fair trial, then execute him'. The law, in spite of Dickens (not Shakespeare) is no ass, because it does leave room for clemency."

Well-taken, Not Very Indignant. But in the case of planned and deliberate murder, I think we had best be wary of the precedents we establish. Otherwise, we risk bringing the jungle in upon us.

Here, on the same general subject, is a chiding from Mrs. H. J. Dorrance, of 2129 Florence, who feels that "the shooting of an unarmed man, held by handcuffs and supposedly protected by police, was worse than the shooting of the president himself".

Again we find ourselves testing degrees of murder, and again, I urge caution.

On a more cheerful note, Mrs. Florence Barr, of 965 Trans-Canada Highway, reminds Victorians that this is bird-feeding weather.

"There's endless fun," she points out, "in watching the birds feed, especially if you give them one of their favorite treats—lumps of suet tied to shrubs or bushes.

"But if you really want to make the birds happy, substitute doughnuts for suet. A bird will perch on a doughnut for hours, swinging to and fro with it while he feeds."

Mrs. Barr, who insists that resident birds mean a drastic reduction in garden pests, has a word for the duck-feeders. Give ducks a certain cereal with a hole in the middle, she says, and they will all but follow you home for more.

Next letter comes from Switzerland with impressive stamps (any kid want 'em?) and praise for the good work done for and with retarded children by Elford Occupation Centre.

The writer is Mrs. C. S. Bell, a Victorian who is doing a pretty fair job of navigating with her "stumbling, schoolbook" French among the amiable Swiss.

"In Switzerland," says she, "there are three official languages; four, if one includes the small minority who speak Romansele.

"There is the French-speaking region where we are, then there are the German and the Italian, and they all seem to get along beautifully with one another."

To Subscriber, indignant or otherwise, here's master bartender Joe Spark's rye highball recipe as requested, with apologies for the delay:

Pour an ounce, or one ounce and a quarter, of rye in a standard highball glass (six or seven ounces).

Add two ice cubes.

Fill to about two-thirds full with ginger ale.

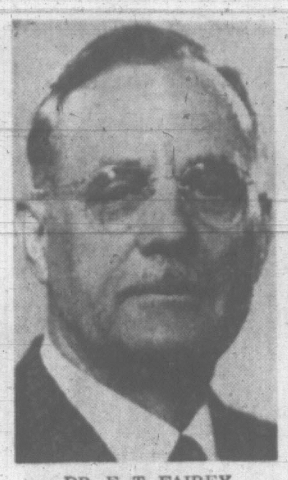

Garnish with a twist of lemon peel for flavor.

Sounds like a reasonably civilized mix, even though it doesn't tempt me. I'm a gin-soaked olive man, myself.

And . . . hey . . . before we go . . . thanks to fiction editor Bob Bell for the 'Centurion,' University of Victoria's brisk and sassy literary venture. I liked it.

Six New Members Elected to Complete UVIC Senate

Five Victorians and an ex-Victorian now a judge in Vancouver, were elected to University of Victoria senate by convocation Wednesday, bringing membership to 27.

They are the last group to be named to the new university's first senate, although the senate has power to add to its members by virtue of the Universities Act.

There were 14 candidates for the six seats.

New members are:

Mr. Justice John G. Ruttan, a former Victorian, barrister J. Alan Baker, Times editor Brian A. Tobin, deputy provincial secretary Lawrie J. Wallace, retired educator Dr. F. T. Fairey and astronomer Dr. R. M. Petrie.

Mr. Wallace joins his brother, Prof. Robert T. D. Wallace, dean of arts and science, on the academic board, which is chaired by acting president Dr. W. Harry Hickman.

The senate meeting Wednesday night which named the newly elected members also declared Judge Joseph B. Clearihue as chancellor, although his election was by recognized acclamation in October.

The new members plus Prof. Wallace and classics professor Dr. Peter L. Smith, each will serve three-year terms.

Registrar Ronald R. Jeffels, secretary of senate, said convocation voted heavily in its first election — 738 ballots were cast of a possible 1,000.

Previously named to senate were Prof. Roger J. Bishop, Dr. David J. Chabassol, Dean W. Halliwell, Prof. Henry C. Gilliland, Dr. Richard H. J. Monk, Dr. Arthur R. Fontaine, Dr. Roy E. L. Watson, Mrs. D. Elizabeth Kennedy, Dr. I. D. Pal, Dr. Gordon W. Fields, Dr. Geoffrey P. Mason, Dr. G. Alexander Milton, Dr. Geoffrey C. Homer, Mrs. Marion T. Ricker, Newton D. Cameron and Franklin P. Levirs.

BID TO CABINET

Plea Made For Sports On Sunday

A big pitch for Sunday sports was made to the provincial cabinet today by the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

In its annual brief to the cabinet, the UBCM asked for amendments to the Municipal Act allowing local option votes on Sunday sports.

"This is the one we really want," said Theo. Adams, UBCM executive secretary.

"We certainly feel something must be done," said Mayor A. V. Fraser of Quesnel, president of the UBCM.

He said that seven municipalities widely scattered across B.C. had voted in favor of Sunday sports in test plebiscites during last week's municipal elections.

SHOW APPROVAL

Although the votes don't carry any effect, they averaged 71 per cent approval, Mr. Fraser said.

"All we ask is that this question be answered by the individual in his own community," said the UBCM brief.

At present only Vancouver is allowed to have commercial sports on Sundays, granted through a special amendment to its civic charter.

Everywhere else in the province is subject to the Municipal Act.

The UBCM also urged the government to make a big increase in its grants in lieu of taxes.

These grants, awarded this year for the first time, total $570,000 for the whole province —the government's way of paying taxes on its property in municipalities.

PARTIAL PAYMENT

This amounts to only a partial payment of the tax rates everyone else pays, Mr. Fraser said. In some cases it is about one third.

The UBCM, he said, is urging B.C. to make the same type of payment as Ottawa.

Subject to aproval of assessment values, Mr. Fraser said, the federal government pays the full going mill rate to municipalities.

The municipalities also told the cabinet that it must get cracking on air pollution control.

"We are convinced a start should no longer be delayed in maintaining and ensuring the purity of the air of the province," the UBCM brief said.

CONTROL POLLUTION

It urged formation of a provincial Air Pollution Control Authority, with powers to control and enforce.

Other UBCM requests include:

Changes in the Municipal Act allowing local councils to control closing hours of stores;

Pressure on Ottawa for lotteries to finance public services;

A few gaily-wrapped packages of cigarettes satisfied burglars who broke into Carey Road Food Market, 3824 Carey, overnight.

Saanich police Det. Joseph Armstrong said that a heavy iron bar was used to smash a window at the back of the store.

No money was taken, and the cigarettes were the only merchandise missing according to the store manager.

The breakin was discovered at 8 a.m. today when the store was opened.

Chief conciliation officer Reg Clements has brought union and management together to resume negotiations in a long dispute at Mc and Mc hardware outlets here and in other B.C. centres.

Employees voted 71 per cent against strike action after negotiations broke down, but Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Clerks' Union agent Ray Haines said this does not indicate approval of the company's latest contract offer.

"It shows a reluctance of the people to go on strike at this particular time," he said.

He was optimistic of a settlement with resumption of negotiations.

The union meanwhile has asked the Labor Relations Board to order the company to cease intimidation and influence of employees in connection with the strike vote

An adding machine was stolen from Central Saanich Municipal Hall overnight, "presumably by juveniles," said Central Saanich police today.

A minor amount of damage was done inside the hall.

Central Saanich police, a three-man force, with offices in the hall, were not on duty when the break-in occurred about 3 a.m.

For about six hours after midnight, emergency Central Saanich police calls are handled by Saanich police.

Gas Price Boost Aimed At Hearing?

Higher retail gasoline prices started Wednesday by Imperial Oil here are seen by observers as an attempt to bring rates up before sittings of a royal commission on gasoline next month.

The two-cent hike bringing regular gas to 40.9 cents a gallon and premium to 45.9 was being followed today by Standard Oil and the likelihood of other major brands doing the same.

Independent operators Mohawk and Pay 'n' Save were waiting to see the general trend but expected going up to 39.9 and 44.9 cents.

The third competitor, Woodward's Mayfair service, contemplated no change.

An Imperial Oil spokesman said the increase represents an attempt to return to a more economic price level after the spring and summer gasoline war in which prices see-sawed between the high 40s and low 30s per gallon.

He said the boost has no connection with the hearings.

For Imperial and Standard it is believed to be the first time Victoria, Duncan and Nanaimo pump prices have been equal.

Walkout Wins Point For Millworkers

A 4½-hour strike by mill workers at Victoria Plywood Ltd. late Wednesday resulted in a company promise to rid the plant of demoralizing smoke.

The unsanctioned walkout from 7:30 to midnight brought promise of additional ventilation in the plywood mill on Plumper Bay.

An International Woodworkers of America spokesman said grievance men met with management to obtain assurances, and manager Alex Hendry confirmed that steps would be taken and no disciplinary action would result.

Smoke comes from plywood dryers and was made worse because doors and windows usually left open were closed during cold weather.

Abducted Girl Released Unhurt

A 16-year-old girl was abducted from a city street Wednesday night by two young men, who released her unharmed after two hours.

She was forced into a car outside the YMCA on Blanshard Street about 10:15 p.m. and released in Royal Oak after being driven around Sidney and North Saanich, police said.

The girl, who was not molested, told police that she did not know the two men.

They were driving an older-model light green car, with torn upholstery.

Luxury Hotel Proposed For Inner Harbor

A huge multi-million-dollar luxury hotel may be built on the Sidney Roofing Co. property on Songhees Road on the western side of Victoria's Inner Harbor, the Times learned today.

The property, still owned by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., is under option to Argus Investments Ltd. of Victoria and the option is in the process of being taken up. MBPR closed down the plant four years ago, but retained the property when Sidney Roofing was sold to Domtar Ltd. last year.

Argus Investments is a B.C. company incorporated in February, 1962, and headed by Charles Bealer, retired California businessman who is president of Chateau Victoria Ltd., the company which is planning a retirement apartment centre near Royal Roads.

AMERICAN CHAIN

Actual construction of the hotel, it is understood, will be undertaken by an American hotel chain headquartered in New York. Principals of the U.S. company are coming to Victoria soon to discuss their plans.

The general concept of the development is to build a luxury hotel of possibly 500 rooms along with banquet and meeting rooms and to make it the finest hotel on the Canadian west coast, far surpassing anything in Vancouver. A marina development is understood to be part of the plans.

No starting date has been set yet but negotiations are under way with present tenants of the old roofing plant buildings, including the boat-building firm of Pelagic Construction and Design Ltd., on termination of leases.

Restaurant Men Launch Tax Fight

A postcard protest campaign has been launched against the five per cent sales tax on restaurant meals costing over $1.

Announcement was made today by William Webb, president, Victoria and Vancouver Island Branch, Canadian Restaurant Association, following the group's annual meeting.

About 48,000 prepaid postage cards have been distributed to CRA restaurants throughout the province encouraging customers to write to their MLA protesting the tax.

Printed on one side of the card are the questions: "Why is it necessary to pay tax on food consumed in a restaurant and not when taken out?" and "Why is a $1.01 meal considered a luxury and only a necessity at 99 cents?"

RAISED IN 1954

A three per cent provincial tax was first levied on restaurant meals July 1, 1948. It was raised to five per cent April 1, 1954.

"The B.C. region of the CRA submitted a brief to the legislature about this three years ago," said Mr. Webb.

"People buy groceries—even cooked food—and are not subject to tax. We feel food, whether consumed in the home or a public eating establishment is essential to one's health and welfare.

"We don't feel that an unfair tax policy should penalize a person, who through any cause, eats away from home."

Baby Death Rate For Province Hits New Low

B.C.'s baby death rate is at an all-time low this year, Health Minister Eric Martin said today.

Latest health department figures show the rate to be 22.7 deaths per 1,000 births for the first 10 months of the year.

This is the lowest rate in Canada, and the lowest ever achieved in B.C.

"This disproves the accusations regarding the infant mortality rate and unnecessary deaths made a short while ago," Mr. Martin said.

He was due to discuss these accusations, among other things at a meeting later today with representatives of the B.C. Hospital Association.

B.C.'s death rate in 1962 was 23 per 1,000.

The Canadian average was 28.

Allegations that the B.C. rate was too high were made by Dr. R. E. Adams, medical director of St. Joseph's Hospital at a hospital association convention in November.

'Improper' Election On Agenda

A special meeting of Central Saanich municipal council on Tuesday will discuss whether a member was improperly elected a week ago.

Reeve R. Gordon Lee said today the meeting, called to clear up year-end business, "undoubtedly" would discuss the election of Ray Lamont, who in Mr. Lee's opinion was connected with a "flagrant violation of the rules."

Recourse to a court of law is the only avenue open to anyone formally disputing the election.

But it is still too early to say whether council or any individual will petition a court, the reeve said.

Critics of Mr. Lamont's election say a circular letter mailed to voters on the day of the election constitutes a breach of legislation.

Mr. Lamont takes the view that members of the existing council, all of whom favored a new municipal hall, are getting even with him because he opposed a hall.

AUTHOR OF 'RENEGADE' ON VISIT

Expert Predicts Cabinet Shuffle

A federal cabinet shuffle in the Christmas parliamentary recess and a general election within 18 months were predicted today by controversial Ottawa correspondent Peter C. Newman.

The 34-year-old author of the Diefenbreaker book "Renegade in Power" (excerpts now in series form in the Times) said the general election will be caused either by Prime Minister Pearson calling it or by Mr. Diefenbaker forcing it by obstructing the business of the House.

Mr. Newman did not think the House would fall over any specific controversial item of legislation.

He said Prime Minister Pearson may choose to call an election because he feels as long as the "discredited" Diefenbaker heads the Opposition Liberal chances of winning are better.

Mr. Diefenbaker may force it because he will be 70 within 18 months and "knows he can't ask then for a five-year mandate."

GORDON TO MOVE?

Mr. Newman's vision of the future sees Mines and Technical Surveys Minister William Benedickson, Postmaster General Azellus Denis and Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier dropped from the Pearson cabinet.

And he sees the imminent transfer to other posts of Finance Minister Walter Gordon and Health and Welfare Minister Judy LaMarsh.

Mr. Newman says his book Renegade in Power is selling 1,000 copies a day. He is Ottawa-born, educated at Upper Canada College in Toronto and at University of Toronto where he earned an MA in economics.

PETER NEWMAN
. . . Tories furious

The book made Diefenbaker Tories furious, said Newman. Mr. Diefenbaker has never named the errors he said existed and says he has never read beyond the first few pages.

BENNETT "VILLAIN"

"But I have good sources who say he has read it three times," Mr. Newman adds.

What does Mr. Newman hear in Ottawa about B.C. politics.

"People there think Premier Bennett is the villain of Canadian confederation because of his demands at the federal-provincial meetings.

"If his demands were met, the federal government would be reduced to issuing postage stamps."

Eight Chinese Immortals —Embodiment of Happiness

By PENNY SAVER

If you know anything of Oriental creeds and customs, you will possibly have heard of the Eight Immortals, Pa Hsien, of the Taoist religion.

These are one of the most popular subjects of representation in China. The term "Eight Immortals" is figuratively used for happiness, and in them we see the embodiment of the ideas of perfect but imaginary happiness which possess the minds of the Chinese people.

Each immortal symbolizes a goodness and is seen carrying some magical emblem.

The Eight Immortals are available in wooden or soapstone carvings and price ranges from $2.50 to $17.50.

They can also be found made of silk as decoration on waste-paper baskets which are made and imported from Peking. Baskets are priced at 95 cents and $2.50.

Another popular Chinese symbol is the Phoenix and the Dragon.

"These," explained the proprietor of shop I was in, "stand for the Empress and the Emperor and when a baby is born the parents try to get something with either of these symbols, depending on the sex of the child."

These symbols are usually found against a bright orange background on Dragonware china.

Typical Oriental pieces of this china are sold in the shop. Rice bowls are priced at 55 and 60 cents; plates at 35 and 45 cents; spoons, 25 cents, and teacups at 30 cents.

Christmas cards printed with Oriental scenes are sold for 25 cents. Cards have the Chinese inscription on the front and the English one inside.

If you would like to know where Penny shopped for these symbols of Oriental beliefs, call 382-3131.

Clock was turned back Wednesday evening when some members of Victoria Branch of the British Columbia Historical Association, attended the annual Christmas dinner in suits and dresses worn here many years ago. Among them were, from the left: Major H. T. Nation, Mrs. Gerald Welburn, Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. H. B. Nash and Mr. Welburn, president of the branch. Theme of the gathering was "Victoria's First Christmas Dinner."

Receipts of Hospital Shop Doubled

Mrs. John Pennington, convener of the mobile and gift shop, reported the doubling of receipts when the Junior Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital met recently. Shop is now located in the foyer of the hospital's new wing.

Increased business has resulted in three shifts having to be kept so that the shop remains open from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on weekdays and 2 to 5:30 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. K. J. Norgaard is in charge of mobile shop which visits hospital wards daily.

It was announced that the Thrift Shop, operated by the auxiliary at 585 Johnson Street, is in need of large paper bags, clothes pins, good used clothing and old-fashioned clothes that sell for theatrical costumes.

Plans were made to decorate 40 Christmas trees throughout the hospital on Monday, Dec. 23. University of Victoria students, under auxiliary leader- [illegible] n trees in the children's ward.

[illegible] rie Bradley, member of the hospital's medical social services, attended and expressed thanks for financial assistance given her department.

Mrs. Fred Bartholomew reported ten visits and one transportation to hospital made by the visiting committee which is now preparing flowers for Christmas distribution to patients.

Mrs. W. A. Trenholme reported on recent Christmas bazaar.

Christmas Day will be as grim as any other for uncounted thousands of the destitute in the slums of Seoul and Mokpo, Korea. To help the most indigent, milk and barley is distributed in the name of Canada through the Unitarian Service Committee. USC is appealing for 310,000 Friendship Dollars to carry on with 70 major projects of world relief. Donations are being received at The Times.

Dinner Party in Old-Time Theme

Dignity and charm of an earlier era combined with friendship and fun of the present to create a memorable event in the annals of Victoria Branch, B.C. Historical Association, Wednesday evening in the Douglas Building cafeteria.

It was the annual Christmas gathering of the branch and the theme was "Victoria's First Christmas Dinner."

Atmosphere of yesteryears was created by feminine members, who wore elegant silk and satin period gowns and Paisley shawls. They carried fans and reticules. Men attended too, in frock coats and high cravats.

A sit-down supper was served at tables decorated with fir greens, salal and Oregon grape, snowberries and candles in antique silver candelabra, just as they might have been decorated at a long ago Christmas dinner.

A lighted coal oil lamp on the piano added its own touch of atmosphere.

Branch president Gerald Welburn presided, and seated with him at the head table were Mrs. Welburn, Dr. Douglas Leechman, immediate past president, and Mrs. Leechman; Mrs. O'Reilly and her son John O'Reilly; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Colby, Mr. and Mrs. H. Sweeney and Miss Violet Ross.

Mr. Welburn welcomed the gathering and gave a short talk on the first Christmas dinner held in the Hudson's Bay Fort Camosun here in 1843. His authentic description was found in letters written by the chief trader and builder of the fort, Charles Ross.

Great-granddaughters of the trader, Mrs. Colby, Mrs. Sweeney and Miss Ross, listened with interest.

Old-time carols were sung with Miss Joy Elliot at the piano. The evening concluded with a modern film on the big game of British Columbia, photographed by Mr. Colby for the B.C. Government.

Past president James Nesbitt expressed thanks of the gathering to those who took part in the program.

In charge of arrangements were Misses Nell Wyles, Ruth Jones, Marjorie Holmes, Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, Mrs. C. F. F. Faulkner, Mrs. E. G. Hart and Messrs. H. B. Nash and D. F. B. Bullen.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Reader Recorded Her Own Ideas To Live By

The following are some ideas sent to me by a reader. The letter says:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"The article written by you the other day interested me very much. I am 74 years old. I am enclosing my pamphlet written by me for myself. If, as you say in your column, 'An older person is the same as he has always been, only more so,' then the younger generation should get busy developing their personalities with the future in mind."

Lowman

The following are some things this reader wrote to herself.

"1. Don't feel sorry for yourself. It is depressing. Remember there is always someone else worse off than you are.

2. Don't crave too much attention from your children. That makes them feel trapped and uncomfortable.

3. Learn to give love to those who need love and don't get it through visits to shut-ins, orphanages and hospitals. It will mean a lot to them and it will keep you young because you will feel needed.

4. Take care of your health and face. Fight old age as a disease.

5. Take care of your memory by repeating things you need to remember, especially at night before you go to sleep. Always put things away in the same place. You will remember because of repetition. You will be surprised how much this will help.

6. Be interested in books, current events, music and lectures about new things and new ideas. Try to remember jokes.

7. Fun and laughter bring folks together. Be gay. Have fun with others.

8. The past is gone. Enjoy today as a special gift from God.

Agreement Reached On Columbia

International negotiators reached agreement in Ottawa Wednesday on the Columbia River power project.

The deal they made is being submitted to the three governments involved for formal approval.

An agreement will probably be signed officially in Ottawa next week.

A great deal of caution and restraint was shown by the people involved in Wednesday's agreement, and nobody would give details, but the climax to almost 20 years' study and dickering appeared imminent.

Premier Bennett confirmed in Victoria today that the technical negotiators reached an agreement and their recommendations are being passed to the B.C., Canadian and U.S. governments.

Basically, this means an agreement has been reached on financing the huge project—at least by the technical teams.

And although Premier Bennett insisted "we'll have to study it" he was fully informed of the details in advance and presumably gave B.C.'s negotiators authority to agree.

The chief B.C. negotiators were Resources Minister Ray Williston and Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

They are due to return to Victoria tonight.

They and External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, the federal government's chief negotiator, held a four-way telephone conversation with Mr. Bennett Wednesday before the final session with the Americans.

Will Meet Again Next Week

Mr. Bennett said the same teams will meet again in Ottawa next week.

Once the agreement is finalized, it will be attached to the Columbia River treaty, which will be passed to Canada's Parliament for ratification.

Signed Jan. 17, 1961, the treaty has already been ratified by U.S. Congress.

The agreement will chiefly concern the sale to the U.S. of downstream benefits from three Columbia River dams in B.C., Mica Creek, Arrow Lake and Duncan Lake.

B.C. wanted at least enough cash from the sale to pay for construction of the dams—a little over $400,000,000.

Mr. Bennett refused to say today if he has got all he wanted, but he seemed extremely happy at news of the agreement.

Once the Columbia Treaty is ratified, construction can start.

Work could begin next spring.

This will partly depend on how swiftly Parliament acts.

The New Democratic Party has already served notice it intends to fight the treaty to the bitter end. However, all

Blizzard Belts Sask.

Motorists were stranded, schools closed and transportation snarled as a vicious Arctic blizzard screamed through Saskatchewan during the night. One death was attributed to the storm.

About 100 persons in 35 cars were bogged down by snow drifts after attending a Christmas party at a dine and dance centre about a mile outside Saskatoon's city limits.

They walked back to the dance hall—most of them had driven less than a mile before getting stuck—where they spent the night drinking coffee and talking. Snowplows reached the cars today.

Turnout Seen At 25%

Victoria today appeared headed for a 25-per-cent voting turnout as morning polling fell behind the rate set during last year's balloting.

Mayor R. B. Wilson repeated his appeal for citizens to come out and vote and expressed the hope they would give the $375,000 police station bylaw its needed 60 per cent approval.

By noon, only 1,249 ballots had been cast, compared with the 1,648 marked at the same time in last year's civic election.

When polls closed in 1962, a total of 6,324 Victorians had cast their ballots for a relatively poor 30.92 per cent turnout.

An even lower turnout was indicated today unless the traditional evening rush proved to be exceptionally heavy.

OPEN UNTIL 8

Polls were to remain open until 8 o'clock at the Victoria Ballroom, Government and Cormorant.

Cold weather was believed to have slowed the flow of voters in the morning—and certainly made it a chilly job for some 50 elderly poll clerks in the unheated building.

But after several citizens protested the cold in the polling station, city officials rented an industrial space heater and set it up in the building to provide some warmth.

Balloting will decide the fate of seven candidates for four aldermanic seats and four candidates for two school trustee seats along with the police station money bylaw.

The candidates are: for aldermen—incumbents Millard Mooney, Geoffrey Edgelow, Lily Wilson and J. L. W. McLean and challengers Robert Baird, Victor Williams and Mrs. Evelyn MacKenzie; for trustee—John Porteous, Ralph Fryer, Leslie Spencer and Edward Wood.

FBI on Trail Of Abductors?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The FBI dispatched a dozen men to the San Fernando Valley north of Hollywood during the night, arousing speculation that agents might be on the trail of suspects in the Frank Sinatra, Jr., kidnapping case.

The FBI acknowledged it had men in the area but wouldn't say what they were doing.

A resident of the neighborhood, Mrs. James Dyatt, said her daughter, Mary Margaret, 19, was stopped outside their home by two men identifying themselves as FBI agents. Mrs. Dyatt said the men asked her daughter where she had been the night before and Mary Margaret told them she had attended an Order of the Eastern Star meeting with her mother.

A Los Angeles Times reporter said he recognized FBI agents in a car parked on Sherman Way, in the same neighborhood, about 1 a.m.

RETURNS TO FAMILY

Wednesday, after Sinatra Jr. was returned to his family for $240,000 ransom, Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker complained his department was left completely in the dark on developments in the case.

Parker said the FBI's "para-

IT'S A SEAL. BANG. OOPS, IT WAS A MAN

HALIFAX (UPI) — First, hunters started getting shot by other nimrods who mistook them for deer.

Now, skin divers are getting into the firing line. The department of fisheries today warned skin divers to wear brightly colored headgear to avoid getting shot in mistake for harbor seals.

Loran Baker, the department's area director, said there had been several cases of skin divers narrowly escaping being shot as seals when they broke water.

Five Quebec Homes Swallowed by Mud

ST. JOACHIM DE TOURELLE, Que. (CP) — A second earth movement today sent two houses tumbling into a sea of mud where a truck and four men and three other houses were swallowed up Wednesday night.

Quebec Provincial Police, working throughout the night to help this stricken and alarmed Gaspe Peninsula community, ordered 10 more houses evacuated.

The first earth convulsion, at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday swept four other houses 1,000 feet along Tourelle Creek into the St. Lawrence River.

Although nine houses in all were wrenched from an 80-foot hillside, the only loss of life was believed to be four men who were buried with their truck.

They were four - Therrien brothers—Johnny, 32; Raymond, 28; Benoit, 22, and Onesime, 20. Their bodies were recovered today.

A 50 - foot highway bridge spanning Tourelle Creek, also collapsed under the first massive slide of earth and was buried under tons of earth.

The houses ordered evacuated today were on another section of the hill above the creek, now a muddy mass moving into the St. Lawrence.

The slide of earth Wednesday night created a huge pit.

35 HOMELESS

But some were unaware in time of what was happening. Mrs. Pierre St. Laurent and her three children were picked from their wrecked and floating house by fishermen on the St. Lawrence. So was Mrs. Romuald St. Laurent.

A Red Cross official said about 35 persons were made homeless by the slides. They lost all their possessions.

With the first indications of the earth movement, residents fled their homes, saying they heard "sinister noises" and explosive sounds.

There were early theories that an underground lake had caused the slide or upheaval. Several buildings were swallowed up last spring—at the time of the usual spring thaws—and surveys later indicated there was an underground lake.

The earth now, however, is hard and frozen at the top. Temperatures in the area during the last few days have been near zero.

The huge pit left by the slide was estimated to be 150 feet deep in places and 1,000 yards

Wind, Snow In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Wind-driven snow swirled down on southern Ontario overnight as a gale raging over the northern United States swept into Canada.

Winds gusting up to 30 miles an hour dumped from three to six inches over the region, clogging city streets and slowing traffic on ice-caked highways.

KOREAN KIDDIES' FUND

Overcoats to Underwear, All Still Needed

Last year the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada shipped more than a quarter-million pounds of relief clothing, blankets and layettes to Korea, Hong Kong, Greece and other needy areas.

But it was not enough.

This year Victoria volunteers promised Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova they would collect 20,000 pounds of warm clothing for the men, women and children of Korea.

To date 13,000 pounds have been packed and shipped.

Most urgently needed are overcoats, warm underwear, suits, trousers, skirts, dresses, hoods and raincoats of any kind.

Garments and blankets should be practical, clean and have at least six months' wear left. Wool and cotton provide most warmth.

Layettes and baby clothes are also needed. A basic layette consists of one blanket, four diapers, two nightgowns, two shirts, two jackets, one towel, one cake of laundry soap and four large safety pins.

NEEDN'T BE NEW

They do not need to be new. The layettes can be made up from articles which your child has outgrown but not outworn or made up from other material around the house. To ensure maximum use sizes for one-year-olds or larger are preferred.

This is the time to check through old trunks in the basement, in the back of closets and in bottom drawers to make sure you have no old army uniforms and old-fashioned cardigans just sitting there as bait for moths.

Recently a group of volunteers on Salt Spring Island gathered up old woolens that had seen better days and had them made into 15 grey blankets to be shipped to Korea.

A large quantity of the clothing is distributed among the hospitals, orphanages and boarding schools, the rest is given out in large bundles from Canada House by Korean social workers.

MUCH PRIDE

Dr. Hitschmanova described Koreans as having a great deal of pride and self-esteem. Often, she said, they come to the clothing centre in borrowed clothes to appear decent.

The hardest thing of all was to face women still standing in line when the supply was gone.

You can replenish the supply by delivering your used clothing to Dowell's Cartage and Storage, 117 Wharf Street.

Other contributions should be sent to the "Korean Kiddies' Fund," care of the Times, 2631 Douglas, or left at the Bank of Montreal, main branch, Yates and Douglas.

Official receipts will be sent later from USC headquarters and acknowledgement of gifts will be published daily in the Times.

Adults Slow To Take Oral Vaccine

Most of the 45,000 persons who took Sabin oral anti-polio vaccine last month were school children, Greater Victria metro health board was told Tuesday.

Dr. John Whitbread reported that adult attendance was very poor, possibly due to an erroneous television program statement, later corrected, that Sabin oral vaccine should only be taken after receiving Salk vaccine injections.

"It doesn't matter in the least in which order they are taken so long as both types are received over a period of time," he said.

More supplies of the Sabin oral vaccine will be available in the early part of 1964 and further clinics may be arranged.

A survey of eight nearby Indian reservations by health board officials has revealed unsatisfactory conditions of water supply, sewage disposal and garbage disposal, the board was told.

Dr. Whitbread said his department is gravely concerned about the situation and plans to discuss the problems with the federal Indian agent and representatives of the Indian Health Services next month.

Nehru Party Suffers Humiliating Defeat

PANGIM, India (AP) — A party advocating the merger of Goa, Damao and Diu with neighboring Maharashtra State has handed Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party a humiliating defeat in the first free elections held in the former Portuguese enclaves.

Complete returns from Monday's elections gave the Congress party only one seat in the enclaves' 30-seat Legislative Assembly. The Maharashtrawadi Gomantak—or MG—party won 14 seats and both the enclave seats in the national Parliament in New Delhi.

The United Goans party, dominated by Roman Catholics and favoring separate status to preserve religious and cultural characteristics, won 11 seats. The other seats were won by independents.

Nehru pleaded for the voters to concentrate on economic development and decide later whether to seek full statehood in the Indian union or merge with Maharashtra.

The enclaves, seized by the Indian government two years ago to end colonial rule in India, have been administered by the central government in New Delhi. The MG is expected to form a government with the support of three independent legislators.

UN Urges Parley On Angola Future

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council voted 10-0 Wednesday for new direct talks between Portugal and the African powers on the future of Portuguese Africa. France abstained.

Russia went along reluctantly with a resolution sponsored by Ghana, Morocco and the Philippines placing emphasis on self-determination for Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea and urging Portugal to grant an amnesty to advocates of that course.

The measures also "deprecates" failure to comply with previous Security Council action on the question of its overseas territories. The U.S., Britain, France and Brazil abstained in a separate vote on this provision but the affirmative votes of the other seven members carried it.

The resolution calls on all countries to comply with a ban, enacted by the council last July, on the shipment of arms to Portugal for use in its African territories. The Africans charge the Portuguese use arms supplied by its NATO allies to suppress the natives.

Municipal Employee Dismissal 'Puzzle'

Laws concerning dismissal of senior municipal employees are "a continuing problem" and may be changed again, a provincial government official said Wednesday.

"It is important to see they have protection but they also have a peculiar relation to council," said the official, a spokesman for the municipal affairs department.

"We have been struggling to find the balance."

The problem was spotlighted earlier this week when B.C. Supreme Court judge Craig Munroe criticized the existing sections of the Municipal Act.

He upheld dismissal of a Surrey assessor by a two-thirds vote of the municipal council, though he criticized the procedure.

He said assessors faced political pressure to alter their assessments of property or be fired.

Government officials would not comment on the specific case of the assessor. But they did agree nobody is really happy about the law.

Present terms of the Municipal Act Appear somewhat vague, but allow council or its municipal manager to suspend employees. They can be fired by council under section 188 without notice for cause.

There have already been several attempts to rewrite the sections in question, the departmental official said—and there probably will be more.
